Farm For Sale

At Auburn, Lot 36.

This farm, the property of the late Patrick Tynan, contains 80 acres of valuable land, 50 being under cultivation, and the balance is covered with an excellent growth of hardwood and rails. There are on the premises besides a comfortable dwelling house, a large new barn and a coach house, also a fine thriving young orchard; while a never-failing stream of water flows through the centre of the farm.

The place is nicely situated in a prosperous community, and is also convenient to churches, schools and other practical requirements. Any person wanting a comfortable and attractive home would do well to purchase; and, moreover, it has the advantage of being ready for occupancy at any time. The best of terms will be given. For further particulars apply at the office of D C McLeod, Charlottetown, or to Mrs. P F Tynan, 13 North Union St. Somerville, Mass. wk. 4 in.

GIVEN UP TO DIE.

Was Mr. E. N. Stowell, but
Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured
Him.

BROCKVILLE, Oct. 8.—When an eminent physician notifies a sick man that his case is hopeless and that he must die, he is, it must be taken for granted, in a pretty bad way.

That was the position of Mr. Ed. N. Stowell, of this city, not long ago. He had suffered all the agonies of Bright's Disease for several years. The ablest physicians had pronounced his case hopeless, and he had begun to "set his house in order" when a friend urged him to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. One box put new life in him, seven boxes cured him. Now his friends hardly know him for the same man.

Score one more for Dodd's Kidney Pills.

The man with the most profitable pull is he who has a corner on the "dusky diamonds" that people have to burn.

AMERICAN BARBERS

The Awful Roast They Get From an English Dramatic Critic.

Take the harmless, necessary operation of shaving, says William Archer, in a letter to the New York Times. In a good English barber's shop it is a brief and not unpleasant process. In an American "tonsorial parlor" it is a lingering and costly torture. One of the many reasons which lead me to regard the Americans as a leisurely people, rather than a nation of hustlers, is the patience with which they submit to the long drawn tyranny of the barber. In England one grudges five minutes for a shave, and one pays from 4d to 6d. In America one can hardly escape in 25 minutes, and one pays (with the executioner's tip) from a shilling to 15d. The charge would be by no means excessive if one enjoyed all the endless processes to which one is subjected, but for my part I would willingly pay double to escape them.

The essential portion of the business, the actual shaving, is, as a rule, badly performed, with a heavy hand and with a good deal of needless pawing about of the patient's head. But when the shave is over the horrors are only beginning. First your face is cooked for several minutes in relays of towels steeped in boiling water, then a whole series of essences is rubbed into it, generally with the torturer's naked hand. The sequence of these essences varies in different parlors, but one especially loathsome brew, known as "witch hazel," is everywhere inevitable.

Then your wounds have to be elaborately doctored with stinging chemicals; your hair, which has been hopelessly tumbled in the pawing process, has to be drenched in some sickly smelling oil and brushed; your moustache has to be lubricated and combed, and at last you escape from the tormentor's clutches, irritated, enervated, hopelessly late for an important appointment and so reeking with unholly odors that you feel as though all great Neptune's ocean would scarcely wash you clean again.

Wornout Nerves.

So Weak she Couldn't Sleep or Work—

Hands Trembled—Could Scarcely Walk

—Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. Margaret Iron, Tower Hill, N. B., writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a world of good. I was so weak that I could not walk twice the length of the house. My hands trembled so that I could not carry a pint of water. I was too nervous to sleep, and unable to do work of any kind."

"Since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I have been completely restored. I can walk a mile without any inconvenience. Though 75 years old, and quite fleshy, I do my own housework, and considerable sewing, knitting, and reading besides. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has proved of inestimable value to me."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the world's greatest restorative for pale, weak, nervous men, women, and children. In pill form, 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Don't cough, use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, 25 cents a bottle.
