

Shipping In Full Swing At S'side Marine Wharf

A large freighter unloading fertilizer, another loading potatoes, a third ship expected hourly to load pulp wood; the Marine wharves filled to capacity with a total of approximately 150,000 bags of potatoes weighing upwards of 6,000 tons; about 200 local men employed in loading and unloading; and about 5 large motor trucks together with their drivers waiting their turn to discharge their loads of potatoes was the scene on the wharf at Summerside yesterday afternoon, adding emphasis to recent reports from shippers who claimed that additional wharf space storage was needed here at this large new wharf which has made Summerside busiest shipping port in the Province, as large freighters move in and out of the harbor bringing fertilizer and other miscellaneous cargo, and taking away potatoes and pulpwood. Both ships at dock yesterday - "Francis Chorn" and "Elina 11" are berthed on the east side of the wharf. This in itself is an unusual sight because prior to the reconstruction of the wharf and the dredging of the harbor there was not sufficient depth of water to dock two ships on the same side of the wharf. The "Francis Chorn" brought more than 3,000 tons of super phosphate from Baltimore, Maryland, for the Canada Packers fertilizer plant in Summerside, and this cargo is discharged in about four or five days she will load about 20,000 bags of potatoes here, and pick up about an equal number of bags at Charlottetown with the principal shipper being the Co-Op. The Elina 11 is being loaded at Summerside by H. B. Willis Inc. who is supplying about 30,000 bags to make up the balance of the cargo which is destined for Jacksonville, Florida.

research, not only on this side of the Atlantic but from Europe as well. As has been stated many times, we have learned more about man and what makes him tick in the last fifty years than was known in the previous two hundred years. "Or, to put it in another way, there is a time-lag between our knowledge and present practices of about twenty years. This is almost entirely due to the fact that so many of our teachers haven't had adequate professional training and that the public at large has not been adequately informed as to the basis and possibilities of modern education. "At the same time, let me underline there wasn't the slightest tendency to ignore the obvious weaknesses which are apparent in our public school system. Indeed it was chiefly to find more effective means of coping with them that we were brought together. "It must not be forgotten that the provision of an education for the state, for every boy and girl, regardless of class, creed, and ability, is one of the greatest social experiments of all time. It is unique in its extent in Canada and the United States and it is inevitable that there should be signs of growing pains. The charge of mediocrity and lowering standards these days against the public school has a great deal of substance in fact. "The situation is the direct result of greatly increased school populations and the larger number of children remaining in school for more years. For example, thirty years ago less than 30 per cent of boys and girls went beyond Grade 8. Today the national average is near 70 per cent and the theoretical goal is to see that every boy and girl, capable of normal education, should complete their 12 years of school. The times we are living in demand it. "Consequently, in coping with increasing numbers, the upper 10 per cent of students, the great and priceless reservoir from which our statesmen, scientists, jurists, etc., are drawn, are frequently left on their own resources in the classroom as their teachers try to cope with the less brilliant child. However, to imply that this situation has been ignored by public school educationalists is quite contrary to fact. "Indeed every possible effort is being made to provide the exceptional child with the necessary resources with which to develop his latent ability. If I were to criticize educationalists in general, it would be for their failure to keep their public consistently informed as to what is going on and what is being attempted. No one engaged in public education can afford to shut himself up in an ivory tower. PRESIDES Mrs. J. P. Lantz who presided, said that the Home and School Association was organized for the purpose of fostering a desire to improve the lot of school children so that they might become better citizens. Judge C. St. Clair Trainor who introduced the speaker noted that it had been the procedure on past occasions to bring in a speaker from outside the province. He noted that Mr. Parker had had a wide experience in the field of education made him well qualified to speak on an occasion of this kind. Mrs. Gordon MacDonald, a past president of the Provincial Home and School thanked the speaker for an enlightening and thought-provoking address. At the beginning of the meeting three beautiful chorale selections were rendered by the senior girls of the Queen Charlotte High School under the direction of Miss Ruth Boswell. Mrs. K. A. Parker was accompanist. Numbers heard were "The Island Hymn", "Sweet and Low" and "The Londonderry Air".

S'side Native Leading Veterinarian-Nutritionist

Dr. Rendell Bowness, V.S., V.D.M., director of research with Toronto Elevators, a native of Summerside, and one of Canada's leading veterinarian-nutritionists, this week concludes a Maritime tour in which he will have visited several Prince Edward Island feed dealers, mink and fox ranchers, and participated in field days at Truro and Yarmouth in Nova Scotia. At these field days Dr. Bowness showed colored slides dealing with problems in the mink industry, and presented actual demonstrations of some of the newest methods in removing the pelts from mink in order to preserve their natural beauty. This type of service work for animal producers has been a chief part of his work during the six-year period he has been with Toronto Elevators, and Dr. Bowness pointed out that many large companies today provide a wide variety of specialized services that are designed to promote and assist the business of their customers. The research work conducted at the present time by Dr. Bowness is concerned chiefly with fur bearing animals which today is mostly mink. His work is principally the formulating of feeds and research in order to find better ways of feeding and to get better production in fur bearing, other farm animals, and poultry. As director of research for Toronto Elevators he helps control and operate a very large experimental farm. Toronto Elevators is a huge grain firm that brings grains from Western Canada, and sells them to milling companies, feed companies, and farmers who wish to buy grain in quantity. Master Feeds is a part of that organization, and almost a customer within the organization, producing feeds using the western grain as a base. A native of Summerside, Dr. Bowness attended high school at Summerside before graduating from Prince of Wales College, after which he worked in Summerside for a year and a half at laboratory work in connection with the fox industry. with the degrees of Veterinary Surgeon and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine in 1932. He went to the United States where he was in charge of a fox ranch near Lake Placid in New York State. Two years later he came home to Summerside before going on to Chicago to do research work on

BURLINGTON Attempted Rape Case in Court

Prior to her marriage to Mr. Clair Proffitt, Burlington, Miss Marjorie MacKay was tendered a malicious shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacKay, Darnley, when she was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Pink and blue streamers marked the seat of honor to which the bride-elect was escorted by Miss Audrey Conick, while a recording of the Bridal Chorus was played by Miss Leona Campbell. Mr. Dale Pickering, Darnley, had as his guest over the holiday weekend, his cousin, Mr. Carl Pickering, Charlottetown. In 1937 he joined the teaching staff of the Ontario Veterinary College, and the following year, in 1938, he accepted a position with Toronto Elevators where they offered him further opportunities for nutritional research. Dr. Bowness is married to the former Laura Kenny of Guelph, Ontario, and they have three daughters. Dr. Bowness is the son of Mr. George A. Bowness, of Summerside. Members of the jury are: Brenton Clark, Summerside, (foreman); Bruce MacDougall, O'Leary; Fenton Simmons, Freeport; Albert MacCardle, Kinkora; Alfred Foley, Alberton; William Cameron, Southwest Lot 16; Bruce McNutt, Malpeque; Thomas Howland, Bloomfield; Albert Smallman, O'Leary; Cedric McKenna, Fernwood; Leith Paynter, Freeport. Before yesterday's adjournment, on motion of Mr. Gillis, the accused and jurors visited the scene of the alleged attack.

S'side Y's Men's Club Meeting

The meeting of the Alpha Epsilon Y Club was held on Wednesday evening in the Y Centre. The meeting opened with the repeating of the Y motto by all members. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The secretary, Charlie Ballen, read a letter from Al Tyler of Moncton and plans were made for the visit to the New Brunswick centre this weekend. The group will leave the Y Centre at 6:15 a.m. Saturday in order to catch the 7:00 o'clock train and will return from Moncton Sunday at 9:15 a.m. to catch the 12:00 o'clock ferry crossing. Mr. Ballen briefed the club on what they should observe at the meetings in Moncton, telling them that each committee should observe what the corresponding committee is doing. Ben Cairns gave the report for the service committee and discussed plans for making money by selling old newspapers and costers.

SEARLETTOWN MISSION BAND

The "Banner of Peace" Mission Band of Bedouque United Church held its October meeting in Searlettown Hall on Friday afternoon, Nov. 11th. Meeting opened with the Members Purpose followed by a Thanksgiving hymn, "Can a Little Child Like Me." The first Study Book was told by the leader. Roll Call was answered with names of missionaries. A new Mission Band hymn was introduced and sung. The Worship period opened with a Call to Worship and reading "Brothers All," given by Carol Dorothy Leard. Scripture was read by Erwin. Offering and prayer by leader. Offering to lunch amounting to $3.90. Lunch, film on children of other countries and the benediction brought the meeting to a close. Next meeting will be held on Nov. 20th at the home of Mrs. Walter White. Each family was asked to bring either a box of crayons or a paint box to be sent to the Port Worker at Halifax.

TEACHER PROBLEM

"In the meantime, is it our lot to lag farther and farther behind? I repeat that the large number of our present teachers presents a problem with the most serious consequences for the future of our province. If I had any influence with the present Government, which I haven't, I would stress immediately for compulsory school attendance for most of our present teachers, numbering about 750. The other provinces have seen fit to request their teachers to attend summer school. Instead of the present $50.00, pay a teacher $125 to cover the month of the course, to compensate those who have to work during the summer holidays to augment their meagre earnings for the school year. "Provide a curriculum which would give two academic courses in English, Social Studies, Mathematics or Science and two courses in professional studies, either of an advanced or of a refresher nature. Teachers could attend every third year taking training each summer. The teacher will still have a total of one month's holidays out of the calendar year which is more than employees receive in most vocations. On such a scheme the whole educational effort in this province would be immensely improved in 10 years. "Ah, but where is the money to come from? Not too difficult to answer. The maximum cost of such a project would not exceed $40,000. Lobby our Minister of Highways to pave one less mile of road each year for the next few years and transfer the saving of $50,000 to the Minister of Education for his use. A few good votes might conceivably be won by such unorthodox measures, but judging from the present composition of the House, the political consequences would not be too serious. Yes, it can be done, if we want it done!"

CRITICISM

M. Parker referred frequently to the session of the Canadian Education Association project in educational leadership at Alberta University, Edmonton, which he attended in the month of May. He outlined the objectives of the conference, and the nature of the discussions, at which roughly one-fifth of all the public schools of Canada was represented. "Perhaps strange to relate," he said, "especially in view of the long series of sensational attacks on the public schools which have been featured in our press and radio during the past couple of years - there was little disposition to waste time in discussing the criticisms, so many of which emanate from self-styled experts in education who know relatively little about the findings of research in child psychology, or school men who have failed to keep abreast of their profession. "The catch-phrase of getting back to the little red school house where real fundamentals were stressed has little significance to those who prepare the present generation for life in a vastly complex society - for living in a world which has indeed become one. "The challenge of the day is how to incorporate into the practice of the school, the knowledge which has been documented and proven by years of painstaking FIREMEN CALLED - Firemen shortly before 11 o'clock last evening responded to a call at 128 North Market Street at the residence of the late Joseph Walter Gallant who died last Friday. The fire broke out between the walls of the unoccupied dwelling, and may have started from an overheated pipe as some neighbours who discovered the fire, had been doing some cleaning in the house during the afternoon. The fire was quickly brought under control and extinguished by the members of the Fire Department.

"TRACK OF THE CAT" STARS ROBERT MITCHUM CAPITAL, SUMMERSIDE

Reportedly the most unusual outdoor drama to come out of Hollywood in years, "Track of the Cat" starring Robert Mitchum and Teresa Wright, is scheduled to begin its local engagement at the Capital Theatre.

Based on the best-selling novel by Walter Van Tilburg Clark, "Brother" is a film of war-torn America in CinemaScope and WarnerColor is said to follow close to the original story. Set on a ranch in Northern California, the filmplay deals with the Bridges family: Pa (Philip Tonge), the temperate father; Ma (Beulah Bondi), the vindictive mother; Curt (Robert Mitchum), the middle brother, a bold, arrogant, coward at heart; Arthur (William Hopwood), eldest brother, calm and reserved; Harold (Tab Hunter), the youngest, restless and indecisive; and Grace (Teresa Wright), their embittered spinster sister.

Gwen (Diana Lynn) is the girl from the neighboring farm in love with Harold; Joe Sam (Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer); Joe Sam (Carl "Alfalfa" Switzer) is the mystic Plute chief who fears the "cat". How these assorted personalities resolve themselves amidst the terror of the prowling "Painter" makes for the film's edge-of-the-seat viewing.

FALL BLOSSOMS - Several strawberry blossoms picked yesterday by Shirley Ann Rayner of Clermont would seem to be a sign of an unusually mild and lingering autumn season. Shirley Ann is a daughter and she noticed the blossoms in the grass. Ripe berries at this time of the year have been picked but strawberry blossoms seems to establish a record.

DISCUSSES

educationally inadequate to meet the needs of boys and girls in this complex society of the mid-twentieth century. "QUESTION OF COST" Coming directly to the subject of his address, "Can Prince Edward Island Afford Better Schools?" Mr. Parker said that according to the Public Accounts of 1954, 2210 new motor vehicles were purchased in this province, representing a minimum per capita expenditure (for every man, woman and child) of at least $60.00. At least $14 per capita was spent on tobacco, not including chewing tobacco which is untaxable and has a tradition all its own in this province. A legitimate $30 per capita was spent on alcoholic beverages in the same year. Even allowing for our thirty tourists some Island parched throats were moistened considerably. And for amusement such as the theatre and parimutuels, much more than $15 per capita was spent. And what was spent for education, in all its branches for the same period - $11.00 per capita. "Surely," said Mr. Parker, "we are being a wee bit hypocritical when we piously declaim that we can't afford to pay for better educational services in light of the facts. Just shuffle our spending dollar - mind you the same dollar which we have right here. Reduce $5 off the new car deal, $2 off tobacco, $2 off liquor and $2 off amusement and spend the $11.00 on education. The immediate practical effect would be to just double our expenditure for education. Instead of $11,000,000 we would have $22,000,000. "What a revolution would take place in this Province if this should happen? All of which sounds like postulating the ideal, but I have enough confidence in my fellow men that if the time and efforts were taken to challenge our citizens, I believe it could be done.
