St Vitus's Dance.

NOVEL CURE FOR THIS FORM OF PARALYSIS.—A PATIENT SUBJECTED TO THE ACTION OF ROTATING MIRRORS IS ABLE TO LEAVE AFTER THREE WEEKS, AND, IN THREE MONTHS, IS CURED.

(N. Y. Herald's London Edition)

An interesting communication has been made by a physician of the Charitable Hospital, Dr. Luys, to the Medical Society of the Paris Hospitals, on the particular form of paralysis known as St. Vitus's Dance.

Dr. Luys said: "I present to the society a patient, forty-four years of age, who four years was subject to paralysis agitans, until it occurred to me to try on him rays of rotating mirrors, or the springs used for luring larks. The experiment was not only absolutely harmless, but it was authorized by the fact that all treatment employed until then by a number of my colleagues had failed.

"When I first saw the patient, January 5, 1889, his morbid condition had all the most typical characteristics of 'paralysis agitans' (St. Vitus's dance). Besides the characteristic trembling of the hands, there was a general quivering of the trunk, rigidity of the muscles of the neck, which, by a sort of torticollis, kept the head motionless on the spinal column. The features were immobile and plastered to the bony subjacent skeleton without any apparent folds. The patient was absolutely unable to carry a cup to his lips or to eat his soup; he could not even button his clothes without assistance, nor could he write. For four years it had been impossible for him to sign his name. His speech was confused and jerky; he was also troubled with continual headache.

WONDERFUL RESULTS.

"Hypnotic treatment with rotating mirrors was at once commenced. During eight consecutive days the patient was made to gaze fixedly at the moving mirrors from about twenty to thirty minutes at a time. During this time his case presented no apparent modifications, but after the eighth trial of the treatment an improvement showed itself in his condition, in a diminution of the cephalalgic. After the fourteenth day the improvement had made considerable progress; the rigidity of the neck had disappeared, the features had recovered their natural aspect and color, his speech had become normal, and the trembling of the hands had diminished to such a point that the patient could carry a tumbler half filled with water to his mouth, while previously he had been obliged, in order to drink unaided, to place the glass on a chair and get down on his knees so as to take it between his lips.

"At the end of three weeks' treatment the patient had sufficiently improved to ask permission to leave the hospital and to resume his work. I induced him to prolong his stay in order to complete the treatment, and now, at the end of about three months, I consider that he is cured.

EFFECT ON THE NERVOUS CENTRES.

"It is an interesting fact that a morbid condition of such long standing and one which is considered as incurable should have been so rapidly cured by the mere physical action of mirrors in rotation placed before the eyes of the patient. No verbal hypnotic suggestion was made to the patient during the first days of the treatment; it was only towards its close, when the progress toward a cure was well marked, that some suggestions to cease trembling were made to him. As a matter of fact, the really efficacious action of this treatment belongs entirely to the strange influence first upon the eyes and then on the nervous centres of the vibrations of rays of light acting in a successive and rapid way."

Boston Markets.

POTATOES.—Receipts past six days, 38,500 bush; previous six days 35,000 bush. The market is without material change. Choice eastern rose have been in rather light supply for a few days, but there are plenty to come forward. Island Chenangoes bring 60 cents. Other kinds are offering freely at former prices and are having only a moderate sale.

EGGS.—Receipts for the week 92 boxes, 190 bbls., 7,963 cases; last week 191 boxes, 206 bbls., 9,492 cases. There is a steady fair demand, with P. E. Island stock selling well up at 12c.

FISH.—There is only a moderate business doing and prices on most lines rule in buyers' favor, canned lobsters being $1.60.

Farm Notes.

Speed the plough, the seeder and the harrow.

The true economy of farming is to do everything well.

The early killed is the easily killed weed and the weed that robs the crop least.

One of the most important matters in farming is to have your seed entirely clean.

If you are careful to keep the furrows straight you will do faster and better ploughing.

Don't fool away your time with poor teams or poor implements. It is economy of time to have only the best.

A diversity of crops distributes work, receipts and expenses more evenly through the year and through the years.

Good seed is a more important matter in the economy of farming, as without this it is unreasonable to expect a good stand.

There are few things that will improve the appearance of a home more than tree planting. Every rural and suburban home should be marked by a nice grove of forest or ornamental trees, hedge rows for wind breaks and an orchard of standard and small fruits.

Just received, a large lot of cast iron kitchen sinks, which will be sold cheap at A. Herman & Son's.

Riot in Demerara.

PORTUGUESE AND NEGROES FIGHT—MANY PERSONS INJURED.

The following is among Panama advices on the 3rd, via the steamer Newport, which arrived at New York on that date: Details of a serious riot in Georgetown, Demerara, beginning March 19 and lasting three days, have just been received at Panama. The immediate cause of the rioting was a quarrel in the market between a Portuguese and a negro, in which the latter was knocked senseless and is said to have received fatal injuries. The real cause, however, was an old feud between immigrant Portuguese and the negro population. Certain recent judicial decisions in favor of Portuguese prisoners had inflamed the negroes and only the slightest spark was needed to spring the mine. This was furnished by the fracas in the market, and in a few hours' time Georgetown was the scene of a wild riot and confusion, which might have been averted by the prompt action of the officials.

A rabble of thousands of frantic, senseless negroes rushed through the streets spreading destruction wherever they encountered the Portuguese or their property. The authorities were paralyzed, and opposed to the mob was a very inadequate force of police, special constables and volunteers, armed only with police batons. The rioters outnumbered them fifteen to one, and were armed with sticks, stones, broken bottles, cutlasses and some pistols. The result was deplorable. The city defenders were overwhelmed and roughly handled, though they succeeded in taking three hundred prisoners. The following day, arms were resorted to, and on the third day order re-established. Very many persons were seriously wounded and the hospitals were filled with victims, a few of whom died. None of the government forces were killed. The damage to the city is estimated at over one hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. E. F. Freeman is in Summerside negotiating for the introduction of the Edison Electric Light system.

Wm. T. Hunt, Esq., has been appointed Clerk of the County Court at Summerside in the place of Mr. H. J. Massey.

Mr. W. A. Brennan, of the Summerside Journal, was registered at the Brunswick Hotel, Moncton, on Saturday.

Buckley Brown's wild west show and menagerie crossed to Pictou on Saturday, for a short season in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The Pioneer reports that Mr. J. Arlington Cooke, a well-known temperance lecturer of Oshawa, Ont., will probably visit the Island during the summer.

Mr. John L. McKinnon, of Summerside, has gone on an extended trip to Switzerland. He will visit the Paris Exhibition before returning. We wish him a pleasant trip.

Odds and Ends.

Fortune knocks at every man's door, but rarely breaks in the door.

"So long as Ireland was silent under her wrongs, England was deaf to her cries."—Irish Newspaper.

If a boy and a half eats a green apple and a half in a minute and a half, how will they feel in an hour and a half?

The dramatized version of "Robert Elsmere" bears about as much resemblance to the story as a bootjack does to a paper-cutter.

Father—"You girls should fix your minds on something higher than dress." One of the girls—"That is what we have, pa. We have got our minds fixed on a couple of lovely high hats down at Mrs. Feather's millinery rooms.

"Erasmus, you are sure these are spring chickens?" "Yes, missus. Dey 'war brought up right under my own eye."

"You watched them growing all last spring?" "Yes, missus—an' all spring afore dat!" "Yah—dey is spring chickens."

Professor: "Microscopical investigations lead us to believe that there are colors too delicate to be discerned by the human eye—invisible colors, we may call them." Student: "I know the name of one of them, sir." Professor, (surprised): "Indeed! What is it?" Student: "Blind man's buff."—Harper's Bazar.

If the Sufferers From Consumption,

Scrofula and General Debility will try Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. Mott, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Pthisis, Scrofula and Wasting Disorders. It is very palatable." Sold by druggists, at 50c. and $1.

COMING HOME TO DIE.—Says the Moncton Times of Saturday: A young girl named McPherson was a passenger by the express from St. John yesterday, on her way from the States to her home in Prince Edward Island. Miss McPherson was in service for a time in Moncton, but thought she would do better in the States. She accordingly went to Boston, and engaged as waitress in a saloon. Her hours were from early morning until midnight, with three hours for sleep during the day. These long hours and exposure told on her health. She contracted a severe cold, and being unable to secure the necessary rest and attention rapidly lost her health, and finally was advised by her physician to return to her friends, if she wished to see them alive. The unfortunate young girl is in an advanced stage of consumption.
