

PROVINCIAL ELECTION!

Liberal-Conservative Candidates for the City:

HON. NEIL MCLEOD, PATRICK BLAKE, ESQ.

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JUNE 16, 1886.

The Nova Scotia Elections.

THE Government of Nova Scotia will remain in office, the electors of the Province having sustained them by a large majority.

This is due, not to the merits of the Government, but to the "Repeal Dodge." A great many persons in Nova Scotia entered the Union against their will; and notwithstanding the great development of the Province which followed the breaking down of the tariff walls which divided it from the rest of British North America, they have ever since been dissatisfied.

Mr. Fielding and his advisers took advantage of the prejudices of these people, as a dernier resort. On the merits of their own administration they dared not again hope to obtain a majority of votes.

The result of the election, however, indicates only that a majority of the electors of Nova Scotia are in favor of secession from the Union. Of course they cannot do just as they wish in this matter.

Debts Due the Province.

We are indebted to the Patriot for the following statement of refunds obtained by the Sullivan-Ferguson Government:

Table with 2 columns: Year, Amount. Rows include 1879-Payments by previous Governments, 1880-Maintenance of Prisoners, etc.

If the Government had not obtained this amount, it would have been taken out of the pockets of the taxpayers.

Consequently—according to the statement of the Patriot—the taxpayers are that much better off, as a result of the efforts of the Government to collect the debts due the Province!

Bearing in mind that they have reduced the expenditures by nearly $70,000 a year, and that they could not have administered affairs, with the expensive machinery under their control, at less cost than they have done, the taxpayers will fail to see the force of the Patriot's elaborate argument against the Government.

The Sullivan-Ferguson Government now say that they can collect $125,000 more of the debts due the Province; and, having been so successful in the past, should they not be given a chance in the future?

If they succeed, the taxpayers will be better off by $125,000; and if they don't succeed, the taxpayers will be no worse off than they are now.

Nothing can possibly be lost to the Province by keeping the Government in power; $125,000 may be gained.

Therefore, taxpayers who are wise will vote for supporters of the Government.

A Word of Advice.

A CERTAIN class of Americans are just now making loud threats as to what they intend to do if kept outside the three mile limit by British cruisers. The American eagle is ready to tear the British lion to pieces if Canadians continue to insist on their just and legal rights.

That "Political Trick."

THE Patriot regrets that it tried to fasten the odium of a "political trick" on the Hon. Neil McLeod, for the people now see that the "trick" or "blunder," or whatever it is, is due solely to the Legislative Council and the Hon. Thomas W. Dodd.

Mr. McLeod saw that the Bill passed; Mr. Dodd allowed his amendments to be lost. There is no good reason whatever to suppose that the Hon. Neil McLeod is guilty of a trick. His reputation is not that of a trickster.

Eldon to the Front.

Monday evening Eldon Hall was crowded to hear the candidates and their friends meet the approaching election.

Hon. James Nicholson took the chair at 8 o'clock. D. C. Martin, Esq., M. P. P., was the first speaker, and from an Opposition standpoint reviewed the action of the Government unfavorably.

A. Martin, Esq., M. P. P., met the arguments of the preceding speaker, and defended the Government ably and satisfactorily.

George Forbes, Esq., on behalf of the Opposition, and Wm. McLean, Esq., on behalf of the Government, accepted the nomination tendered them, and stated their determination to contest the District.

Hon. D. Ferguson made a trenchant defence of the Government, and was immediately followed by Wm. Welsh, Esq., who brought down the house by his comicallities.

John P. Tanton, Esq., occupied half an hour in comparisons and comments. After a lively discussion on various questions, John Grant, Esq., was called to the chair, and a cordial vote of thanks tendered to the Chairman of the evening.

After cheers for the candidates and three cheers for the Queen, the meeting broke up at midnight.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Sabbath Desecration.

SIR,—I would like to know whether there is any law on this Island against Sabbath breaking. Last Sunday, while people were assembled at their several places of worship, a party of gentlemen (?) from Souris were seen busily engaged in trout fishing in the North Lake. It seems that certain characters about Souris have very little regard for the religious feelings of any one living over in this direction, for ever since the lobster packing started this summer, F. Morrow's team, consisting of a pair of horses, and a huge high-boxed truck-wagon may be seen every Sunday on the road between Bull Creek and Souris. Morrow is now asking people to put him in a position to make laws for them. Better for him to obey the laws that are already made—beginning with a due observance of the Day all Christians honor and respect.

He may possibly imagine that anything he does is good enough for us North Siders. But this will not prevent us from publicly protesting against shameful desecration of the Lord's Day. There was one Sunday in particular—the Sunday before last—the day on which his benefactor was lying in the cold embrace of death at Souris, on which we did not expect to see his lobster team at work. But in this we were disappointed, for it was to be seen even on that day on its usual route. Anything more heartless than this it would be difficult to find, even in pagan countries, much less in a country like ours.

Yours, AN ELECTOR. North Side, June 14, 1886.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winlow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain; and the little shrub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winlow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind.

The Colonial Exhibition.

PLACING CANADIAN FOOD PRODUCTS BEFORE THE BRITISH PUBLIC.

A correspondent of the St. John Sun says: "While Canada exports very largely in many food lines to Great Britain, it is a fact well known to the trade that much of her output is classed and sold in the English market as American or domestic products."

A few days ago, representatives from the several Provinces met in the exhibition room, in the Canadian court, for a practical discussion of this grievance. Ira Cornwall, jr., was, on motion, elected chairman, and Mr. McGuire, of Quebec, secretary.

David Tallerman, who is in charge of the Canadian and Australian sections of the colonial market in connection with the exhibition, was called on to express his views, the meeting having been summoned at his instance. Mr. Tallerman, it may be here remarked, is a man of many ideas evolved amid day dreams that extended over many years, and formulated on a wide experience of men and manners both at home and in distant lands. His observations as a colonist in Australia fed fire to the ardent desire to transport the surplus food of that colony to England.

To this end he labored for years. For years he figured at every large exhibition in Great Britain. At South Kensington and at the Dublin exhibition he worked like a beaver. The International Workingmen's Exhibition at Islington awarded him a gold cross. After the memorable siege of Paris he hastened thither with large quantities of provisions, Australian meats forming the background, and was eagerly welcomed by the starving inhabitants. Napoleon III. invited him to the Tuileries to show the quality of his meats, and the Emperor of Austria conferred on him the dignity of Knight Cross of the Imperial Order of Francis Joseph. Success finally crowned his efforts, popular prejudice was broken down and Australian meats now occupy a high place in the English market. Australia gained, but at the sacrifice of Mr. Tallerman's finances, for he lost every dollar in his patriotic efforts to give cheap meats to the workmen of England. But loss of fortune has not robbed him of his buoyant spirits, and he is now working as cheerily as ever in the same general line, for the good of the colonies and of his fellowmen, having a special eye towards Canadian products, and what can be made out of them.

Mr. Tallerman spoke at some length and in general terms of the advantages now within Canada's grasp, and urged the representatives to permit him or some other person to open up samples of her food products in the exhibition market, and also in the colonial restaurant. He pointed out that while there was a desire on the part of workmen and others looking for cheap food to personally investigate and test whatever Canada raises, there was no supply of such articles to hand. He suggested that the exhibitors might personally secure consignments of samples and place them in his hands for distribution among visitors. He offered to put the Canadian staff and exhibitors in direct communication with representatives of several workmen's co-operative unions and to ensure a large sale of Canadian cheese, fruit, fish, flour, etc.

This proposition called forth considerable debate, in the course of which the subject was pretty carefully discussed and a sub-committee was appointed to draw up resolutions, etc.

R. Hunt, of Summerside, P. E. I., took a very conservative view of the matter, holding that in touching Canadian goods the committee should be fully satisfied as to the financial basis on which they worked. He, for one, would be glad to do all in his power to work up Maritime products in England, but he failed to see the protected practical side of Mr. Tallerman's proposition, so far as trade extension was concerned. Introducing and popularizing Canadian food articles was one thing; to ask producers to send over their special products was another thing and entailed a grave financial responsibility. If Mr. Tallerman could offer a cash market for goods he should say so at once.

Mr. Tallerman said that his object was to put the consumer and producer face to face, without the intervention of middlemen. He had the necessary acquaintance to do this, as he had been over the field before, and was now operating the Colonial market, but he could not assume personal financial liability. He was prepared, however, on behalf of trades at his back to give the fullest guarantee that every transaction would be financially carried out to the letter.

This explanation was further discussed by Mr. Hunt, Mr. Payne, C. Starr, of Port Williams, Kings, Nova Scotia, and some Upper Province representatives and exhibitors, and a further conference was resolved on. In the meantime the special committee will gather all possible information bearing on the question. The result of the conference has already been to secure more prominence for Canadian products in the exhibition market, and its promoters feel that ultimately great good will accrue from their labors.
