A DECEPTIVE DUDELET.

A MODERN AND EXAGGERATED TYPE OF EUGENE WRAYBURN.

The Man Who Frolicked With Him Got Somewhat Damaged—How the Lake Tough Was Taught a Needed Lesson—Grand Finale.

At the foot of Yonge street a policeman found a young man sitting on a barrel with both eyes bunged up, his nose knocked out of shape, and a mouth full of loose teeth. All was over before he got there, but some of the crowd still lingered, and a boy undertook to explain matters.

"We was all a-sittin' here," he began, "when that feller there, whose name is Jim, and who thinks he is bad, got hungry to fight some one. He got so hungry that he almost cried."

"Wanted to fight, did he?" queried the officer.

"Yes, the awfullest way. He sassed about six men, but they wouldn't stop. He jest cried because two great big loafers wouldn't pitch inter him and let him throw hisself. By and by a dude of a chap kem along. He was little and he was purty, and you orter seen his bewtiful pants! He was a-lookin' fur the Niagara boat, ye know."

"Yes, and what happened?"

"Why, Jim begins to smile as soon as he sees the little dude, and we who knows Jim knows that sunthin' was up. The chappie he comes up, rests one of his patent leathers on that there box, and says: "Fellahs, I'm lookin' fur the Niagara boat, ye knaw." With that Jim jumps up and wants to know who dares call him a fellah."

"Wanted to pick a fuss, I suppose?" observed the officer.

"He did. He wanted to pick a mortal combat. He meant to break that little dude right in two and use the pieces fur fish-bait. The little chappie looks at Jim in a weary way, and puts up an eye-glass like this and says: "Ah, me dear fellah, it's custom, ye knaw, but I beg pawdon. Does the——aw——boat leave from this dock?" He looked mighty scart, and that encouraged Jim, and Jim he begins to cuss and blow."

"Still anxious, eh?"

"The anxiousest kind of anxious. He feels that he has got to tackle that dude or chaw a rag, and as a starter he hauls off and spit terbacker-juice on the little one's shiny shoes. Mebbe he expects the dude to run away, but he didn't fly wuth a cent. He stays right there and looks Jim all over and smiles and says: 'Me deah fellah, will you kindly take your handerchief and remove the—aw—ye knaw?' "

"But Jim didn't remove?" queried the officer.

"Becher life he didn't! He jest looks all around to see if there's a copper in sight, and then he reaches out and tries to poke his finger into the little one's eye. He don't git there, however. Chappie jumps back and says: 'Weally, me deah boy, I cawn't put up with such familiarity, doncher knaw—cawn't possibly do it! If you go to frolic with me I shall be obliged to hurt ye, doncher knaw!' "

"And then, of course, Jim sailed in to mash him?"

"Of course. Spit on his hands and sailed in to wreck chappie's bloomin' future, but sunthin' happened. The little feller drops his cane, puts up his dukes, and in one blessed minute Jim was a licked man. Chappie skips around him, and climbs over him, and fights two handed, and by and by he swings fur the jaw and Jim goes over that box and falls asleep like a bloomin' summer even', and it wasn't two minits ago that he opened his bloomin' eyes."

"But about the dude?"

"Oh, he stops a minit to pick up his cane and shake a wrinkle outer his pants, and then goes off sayin': 'Sorry to do it, ye knaw, but I weally had to. Wanted to poke me in the eye, doncher see, and I nevah allow it—nevah. Fellahs, au revoir.' "

Remedy for Damp Walls.

The process consists in using two washes or solutions for covering the surface of the walls—one composed of castile soap and water, and one of alum and water. The proportions are three-quarters of a pound of soap to one gallon of water, and half a pound of alum to four gallons of water, both substances to be perfectly clean and dry, and the temperature of the air not above 25 degrees Fahrenheit when the compositions are applied.

The first, or soap wash, should be laid on when boiling hot with a flat brush, taking care to form a froth on the brickwork. This wash should remain twenty-four hours, so as to become dry and hard before the second or alum wash is applied, which should be done in the same manner as the first. The temperature of this wash when applied may be 60 or 70 degrees Fahrenheit, and this also should remain twenty-four hours before a second coat of soap wash is put on. These coats are to be applied alternately until the walls are made impervious to water. The alum and soap thus combined form an insoluble compound, filling the pores of the masonry and entirely preventing the water from entering the wall.—Architect and Builder.

Artistic Tatooing.

Probably the most artistically tatooed man in the world is William Furness, a son of Dr. Horace Howard Furnesss, the noted Shakespearian scholar. Mr. Furness spent a long term in Japan, and it was there that the figures that adorn his body were executed. A splendid reproduction of the Goddess of Love covers his chest, and the God of Thunder illuminates his back. Snakes and birds by the dozen mark his arms and thighs. A pagoda is designed on one shoulder, and a fearful and wonderful collection of geometrical designs covers the other shoulder. A Chinese boat is tatooed on one leg and a dragoon looks up from the other. The artist who executed these designs was paid $12 an hour for his services, an appalling fee in that country, where 25 cents per diem is a princely salary.—Philadelphia Record.

Perfection of Cynicism.

Oscar Wilde was introduced at a recent garden-party in London to Mrs. Osgood, of Knebworth House. In the course of a few minutes' talk it was divulged that the lady was on the eve of departing for America. "Going to America?" said Oscar; "deah me: what for, now?" "To see my husband," was the reply. Oscar stared sleepily at her in astonishment. Dropping languidly into a chair he said: "Going all the way to America to see your own" (with accent on the own) "husband? Deah me! What a lovely ideah!"

THE LANGLEY CASE.

Lansing People Hear of His Illness and Subsequent Cure while in London, Ont.—Much Pleasure Manifested Over the News.

LANSING, Mich., July 2—A friend of William Langley formerly of this city, now of London Ont., received a letter a few months ago stating that Mr. Langley had Bright's disease. Of course no hope of his recovery could be held out. Within a month, the same friend has received a letter from Mr. Langley stating that he is completely cured of the supposed fatal disorder. Mr. Langley says no medicine did him any good until he began using Dodd's Kidney Pills. These helped him from the first and in the end restored him to perfect health.

CAUSE OF BOWEL COMPLAINTS.

The direct cause of pain and looseness of the bowels, is an irritation of the mucous membrane of the same, sufficient to produce excessive peristaltic or worm-like motion in the interior of the bowels, thus the partly digested food matter is kept constantly passing along and evacuated freely. This is called a diarrhœa; where the irritation is ensugh to cause bleeding, we have dysentery. Indirect causes of diarrhœa, by which an irritation is started are intestinal dyspepsia, overeating unripe or over-ripe fruit, tainted meats, or oysters etc.; torpor of liver, by which not enough bile is secreted; excessive flow of bile, etc.; TREATMENT. Thoroughly evacuate the bowls with Parsons' Pills, they are among the best to get rid of all irritating matter. Then take Johnson's Anodyne Liniment in teaspoonful doses diluted with water, every four hours, and oftener if the case is severe. In case of Asiatic cholera, one teaspoonful should be given every half hour. Thousands of people remember the year 1849, when the worse known epidemic disease spread over this country. Johnson's Anodyne Liniment at that time was little known outside of the state of Maine. But for its use at that time by its friends, many would not now live to spread the joyful news that any case of diarrhœe, dysentery, cholera-morbus, or kindred diseases, can be cured by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. It nevr yet failed. The proprietors, I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send their new illustrated book, entitled "TREATMENT FOR DISEASEL," free to any person for tke asking. July 25
