VOL. XVI. I CHARLOTTETOWN, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1866. I. NO. 43

St. Dunstan's College;

Under the patronage of His Lordship the Bishop of Charlottetown.

THIS INSTITUTION is situated on a quarter of a mile from the city, and is a beautiful, healthy, and far removed from the usual noise and dust of the city. The halls and rooms of the building are spacious, airy and comfortable.

The College Grounds are large, affording ample room for games and athletic exercises.

The course of studies embraces all the branches necessary to prepare young men for the study of the learned professions or fit them for service in the army, navy, or the Church. The English, French, Latin and Greek Languages, Rhetoric, Mathematics, Philosophy, Chemistry, &c. Music, vocal and instrumental—is also taught.

The College possesses a large and well selected Library, as well as an extensive Philosophical Apparatus.

The Professors and Teachers reside in the Institution, looking but one family with the students, and exercising a constant supervision favorable to discipline, decorum and good morals.

Catholic students are carefully and frequently instructed in their religious duties, and they are required to practice the same. The most solicitous attention is paid to the morals of all; and whilst within the College enclosure they are constantly under the watchful eye of one of the Teachers or Prefects. Perfect discipline is strictly but kindly enforced.

Students when entering must produce satisfactory testimonials of good character.

The College is visited regularly once a week by a Physician.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

Hon. Mr. LAIRD: I do not see that there is anything before us that would lead us to think that we will be deprived of our Constitution if we do not go into Confederation; neither do I think we have any reason to fear such a result; and why then should we be asked to surrender it voluntarily? For my part, I see nothing to induce us to go into a Union with Canada. If the Canadians take it into their heads to agitate a Union of the Colonies, that is no reason that we should do so. It is for ourselves to say whether we will go into the Union or not. I have no inclination to go into the Union; for I do not see what we would gain by it. Our expenses and taxes would be increased, and our liberties would be curtailed. As our time to represent the people has nearly expired, we should leave the Constitution of the country as we found it, and if the people desire a change it will be for them to say so at the next election. There was nothing about this question when we were elected; and I do not think there is any necessity to discuss it at such great length now, for it is pretty well understood in the country. The Resolutions are strong; but, perhaps, it is necessary that they should be so. If the people wish for Confederation at the next election, well and good; but I would have nothing to do with it at present. We are not offered anything to induce us to go into the Union. We would get eighty cents per head, and never to increase. All the Colonies are progressing, and why should this Island do so too. We need not, so far as I can see, expect fair play if we go into the Union, and I will, therefore, support the Resolutions introduced by the Hon. the Leader of the Government.

great part of the allowance of £30,000 or £40,000 a year would be required to keep up the useless paraphernalia of a local Government and local Legislature. All that was said last night upon the subject, was merely a repetition of what was urged for and against the Union last Session. I have myself nothing to do to advance against it; and I will, therefore, say no more but that I heartily support the Resolutions submitted by the Hon. the Leader of the Government, although I must admit I see nothing objectionable in the Resolution submitted, in amendment, by my hon. friend the member for St. Peter's (Mr. Whelan).

Hon. COL. GRAY apologized for his absence from the House for the last two or three days; which, he explained, had been occasioned by indisposition. The Resolutions which had been submitted by the Hon. the Leader of the Government, he presumed he had before him in the Legislative Summary; but he was not exactly aware of the purport of an amendment which, it seemed, had been submitted thereto. He would, therefore, feel obliged by the Chairman's reading it for his information.

HUDSON & WRIGHT,
Charlottetown, July 9th, 1866.

Hon. Mr. WHELAN: That is not fair.

Hon. Mr. HOWLAND: It is quite fair; I have listened to the speech of the hon. member (Hon. Mr. Whelan) attentively, and I perceive that his views have undergone a change since last year. It is very gratifying to know that he has seen the error of his ways. The advocates of Union desire something more this year than we would get by the Quebec Scheme. Now suppose that a change has taken place, and no basis is laid down with regard to the financial part of the Scheme, what would our position, or what would our influence be? I might refer to Rhode Island, but that is an old story now. It would be said, "Who are you that attempt to raise your head? A little isolated place like Prince Edward Island attempting to raise your voice!" Some say now, "What do you suppose that little Prince Edward Island will be allowed to stand in the way of this magnificent Union?" Then, they ask us to say yes or no? Why sit here discussing the question when members are so anxious to get home. It is said that we are only 80,000 people—that we are not able to protect ourselves—and, therefore, we must go into the Union. And, say some members, "If you do not go into the Union the Army and Navy of Great Britain will not protect you;" but I have higher authority for stating that the Army and Navy of Great Britain will protect us. Mr. Gladstone says that the Imperial Government pledges itself to protect, to the utmost of its power, every British subject in British North America. [Cries of—No! No!] I say Mr. Gladstone does say so; and he is a member of the House of Commons, and quite as good a statesman as any of the hon. members who say "No." Is not this then sufficient authority for us to say that the British Government will protect us? Is any class in this Island tired of our Constitution? There is nothing respecting which we have not the right to petition, or which we have not the right to ask for, why then should we be forced to give up our Constitution? I see gentlemen here who are older than my father, and who say we must go into Confederation. If the ruling statesmen of Canada and Nova Scotia, say that we must unite, is that any reason why we should do so? If that is the right and privilege of British subjects, I am sorry I am one; but I believe that though I live on this Island, I have as much liberty as if I lived in London; and I feel proud that the British Government is composed of men who pledge themselves to protect us with the whole resources of the Empire. We are now told that the British flag will sweep from the seas unless we confederate;—but I remember that an hon. member (Hon. Mr. Whelan) enunciated very different views a few years ago. I do not wish to misconstrue the hon. member's sentiments—far from it—but there appears to be a sort of hallucination in about the subject; for, otherwise, his mind and those of some other hon. members, it is difficult to account for the change which their views have undergone concerning it. We are told that, whether we adopt the Quebec Report or not, we must confederate upon some terms; but I consider that we have just as much right to call upon the other Colonies to confederate as they have to call upon us. It is said that, if Nova Scotia and New Brunswick go into the Union, we also must, for the purpose of mutual defence; but we have already placed the life and revenue of the Colony at the disposal of the Government for putting the Island in a state of defence, and we are willing to pay our proportion for the general defence of the Colonies; but why should we be forced into Confederation against our will? If, after a general election, there should be a majority in favour of Confederation, the case would be different; but to say that we must unite with Canada is absurd. If we were considered fit to govern ourselves, and if we have conducted the business of the Colony properly for ten years, it does not appear reasonable to suppose that the British Government will now deprive us of our Constitution. I do not think the people of this Island are so much afraid of Confederation; but they object to being forced into it. We have, at present, as much right to tax ourselves as Canada has; but, in the event of Confederation, we will stand in the same relative position to the other Colonies as Rhode Island does to the rest of the American Union; that Island has the same representation in the United States Senate as New York. Rhode Island is the smallest part of the American Union, and I suppose we would remain for a long time the smallest part of British America; still, we have shown a disposition to do what we can to defend ourselves, and have thereby shown that we are not disloyal, but we wish to let it be known that Confederation is not as applicable to us as to other portions of British America, and that, therefore, we are not disposed to go into a Union on the basis of the Quebec Report.

SEWING MACHINES.

ROBERT YOUNG has much pleasure in announcing that he has just received a large and well-assorted stock of the best Sewing Machines, and THE WEEB SEWING MACHINES, and would strongly recommend to all intending purchasers, an inspection of the same now on his premises, so confident is he that they only require to be seen to be appreciated.

THE WEEB MACHINES are better adapted than any others in the market to the changes and great variety of sewing required in a family. They will sew from one to twenty thicknesses of Materials without stopping to draw every thread. They will sew from the finest gauze to the heaviest cloth, and even to stout, hard leather, without the least noise or making any adjustment of the Machine. The different sizes of the Machine are manufactured fitted up, plain or ornamental, with or without cabinets, as may be preferred.

These Machines have obtained the highest premium wherever they have been exhibited in competition with other Machines.
