

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 28, 1895.

THE HOSPITAL MATTER

The Guardian's three columns and a half article on the Hospital matter would be funny if it were not such laborious reading.

Table with columns: For half-year ending May 1894, Balance to Credit, Balance to Debit. Rows for years 1886-1895.

So it would appear to the cursory reader. But, let us see. In May, 1886, there was a credit balance of $2,104.34.

The October term of the County Court, which opened here on Tuesday last, adjourned Friday until 1st November next.

It is possible that the Guardian's articles in respect of this matter may effect a great defeat of THE EXAMINER's attempt to secure the endowment that is evidently required.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Senator Sherman announces that he will not be a candidate for the Republican presidency, adding that he has twice been out in the party's conventions.

A letter in the Moncton, N. B., Transcript complains that although the lobster season closed on August 1, the Government inspectors do not enforce the close season along the Gulf coast as they should.

The Government is not so much to blame in this matter as the inspectors. They are daily receiving complaints of this violation, and if they would drive along the shore from Baie Verte to Cape Tormentine, any pleasant day, they will see fishermen are hauling traps, and if in not too much hurry they will visit some of the packers named they will have no trouble in finding evidence enough to warrant them in seizing factories, boats and everything else connected with the business, and in this way put a stop to the business once and for all.

The Montreal Star says: Certainly, if this be true, it ought to be stopped. If once man breaks the law his competitors will be driven to do so, too, in self-defence, and the result will be the ruin of the lobster fisheries.

While Mr. Laurier is recommending free trade as the ideal system for Canadian agriculture, British farmers, who have had experience of the actual thing, are crying out to be relieved of the burden, which has become unbearable. A Kent steward forwards to the Times the following letter, received from one of the best tenants on his estate:—

DEAR SIR,—It is with extreme regret that I send you the enclosed notice to quit the occupation of this farm, feeling that the choice for me lies between two evils:—either to lose all the ready cash I possess or to leave my old home for the sake of my children. I choose the latter. There is nothing you can do for me that will enable me to stop in the face of these ruinous prices, my rent is moderate, I am perfectly satisfied with you as a steward. I do not wish for a better landlord, but had luck had attended me for the last few years—this year worse than all. Unless a change takes place in the hop market soon my loss on the year will be £1,000.

The Times correspondent adds:—"Bear ye one another's burden," is an old text, and unless the nation is prepared in some way to lighten those of agriculture it must fall. I do not doubt that the trade at present lost to this country by its present deplorable condition would exceed tenfold any amount paid in duties upon foreign agriculture produce.

There are twenty-four creameries in Maine that do nothing but manufacture butter the year round.

A NOTABLE CASE.

Decision Given by Judge Reddin

Rupert B. Norton & Co. vs. George Wightman and Thomas Mellish.—This was an action to recover the amount of two bills of exchange drawn by plaintiff on "Wightman & Mellish," Souris, and accepted by one of the defendants, Mellish, in the name of Wightman & Mellish, payable at the Merchants Bank of P. E. I., Souris.

Wightman's defence is that Mellish had no authority from him to accept those bills. He admits that he and Mellish were co-contractors with the Dominion Government for the Souris breakwater.

The Shortis Murder Trial

BEAUBARNOIS, Que., October 25.—The hearing of evidence in the Shortis murder trial was concluded today. The crown called witnesses in rebuttal who were familiar with Shortis, to prove that he was conversed and acted like a sane person and that there was nothing in his demeanor or conduct that would lead them to infer that his mind was unbalanced.

Why the Marquis of Dufferin Resigned.

LONDON, October 25.—The Marquis of Dufferin, British ambassador to France, whose resignation of the post of Lord Warden of Cinque Ports was recently announced, explains as the reason of his resignation that as on the conclusion of his diplomatic career next summer, he proposes to reside almost continuously in Ireland, he felt that he would be precluded from discharging acceptably the duties of lord warden.
