

Marciano Breakfast Dish? Old Ringmen Will Say So

Sir. — Beware of old-timers in the boxing game. Never but never ask them what they think of the present day crop of mitt slingers. They will only shake their heads sadly and tell you that Dempsey would have eaten Marciano alive and that Stanley Ketchel would have looked over the middleweight division of today and took on any four of them as a pre-breakfast workout.

So let's go back to the boxing Golden Age when men were men and take a look at one of the greatest fighters that ever lived. George Dixon was his name. Dixon was born in Halifax on July 27, 1870 and fought his first bout in Halifax in 1888, when he knocked out Young Johnson in 3 rounds. Shortly after his fight with Johnson Dixon campaigned in New England with great success and by beating Nuncie Wallace, bantamweight champ of England on June 27, 1890 in a contest under the Marquis of Queensbury rules with 2-ounce gloves, Dixon became the first undisputed world's champion in any division. On March 31, 1891 George also became the second featherweight ever to hold a world title.

The great negro took part in more championship fights than any other fighter that ever lived. He saw action in 34 world title bouts, 5 in the bantamweights and 29 as a featherweight. Dixon and Johnny Murphy engaged in the longest bantamweight fight on record. The marathon battle lasted 40 rounds and was staged October 23, 1890. Dixon chose Cal McCarthy as the toughest proposition he ever encountered. While milling in the lighter division McCarthy saved the negro fight the longest and hardest of the latter's spectacular career. That was when they went 70 rounds to a draw at Boston on February 7, 1890 with 2-ounce gloves for $2,000 a side. It was a ding-dong, furious fray from bell to bell and there was nothing to choose between them at the bell. Rugged Ted Doncaster, the Sackville, N. B. lightweight champion, continues to make good in New England rings. On February 14 at Holyoke, Mass., Ted knocked out Eddy Demars of Boston in 4 rounds. In training this past couple of months is Charlottetown's own Cobey McCluskey. According to the latest word out of Dartmouth Cobey is looking sharp in gym workouts and is down to 160 pounds. One time there was a boxer who went to a psychiatrist because his memory was failing. The psychiatrist told him he could guarantee no cure but if the pug would undergo treatment for two years some improvement could be expected. At the end of that time the doctor told his patient he was ready to face the world. His memory was restored. The fighter left the doctor's office happily. On the corner a man approached him and held out his hand. "Hello Jack," the man said. "Don't tell me," the fighter answered quickly. "Your name is Kid Robinson. I fought you in Toledo on the 22nd of June 1931; you weighed 156½ pounds; you had a cut over your right eye; you wore purple trunks with a white stripe and you had a green bathrobe with Murphy's Gym embroidered on the back and a hole in the right pocket. Right?" he asked triumphantly. "Jack," shouted the other character despairingly. "Don't you recognize me? I'm your father, Sam."

"Me And My Shadow"

"Me and my shadow" is the song Parkdale Flyers playing coach, Allie Carver (left) will be singing tonight when he spots Lloyd Shepherd (right) of the Basillea Youth Club striding onto the ice. In an effort to bring a halt to Carver's scorching antics B. Y. C. coach Walley Shepherd assigned the covering job to Lloyd in the last game at the Sports Arena and Lloyd responded to the challenge by keeping the league's leading scorer from getting as much as an assist as the youth club were beating Parkdale 5-1. (Guardian Photos).

Lowrey Signs As Buffalo Coach

BUFFALO N.Y. (AP) — Harry Peanuts Lowrey, veteran of 13 major league campaigns, was signed Wednesday as coach and utility man with Buffalo Bisons of the International League. The signing of Phil Cavarretta as Bison manager apparently was the main selling point in bringing the 37-year-old Lowrey to Buffalo. Lowrey and Cavarretta were teammates on Chicago Cubs for seven years.

N.H.L. Players Are Shooting For Gold As Well As Goals

By W.R. WHEATELY Canadian Press Staff Writer MONTREAL (CP) — The boys around the National Hockey League circuit these days are shooting for gold as well as goals — $132,500 worth of it. The first rich ride is $51,500. Some of the claims have already been more or less staked out but the rush is still on. The successful claimstakers won't be known until the regular season ends March 18. A few won't know until a bit later.

Heavier pay dirt comes with the Stanley Cup playoffs, an $81,000 strike. The regular-season awards break down into these categories: standings of the clubs, individual awards and selections for the all-star teams. $18,000 FOR FIRST Montreal Canadiens look like the proverbial cinch to finish in first place. To the first-place club goes $18,000 — 18 units of $1,000 each. Distribution is up to the team members—as to whether more than 18 or fewer will share in the pot and how much—but it usually works out to close to $1,000 each. The usual distribution is at least 18. On the same basis, $9,000 in 18 units will go to the team finishing second — roughly $500 for each player. At the moment the second-place spot is a dog-fight between Detroit Red Wings and New York Rangers.

British Writers Describe Wes Santee As "Scapegoat"

LONDON (AP) — British sports writers Tuesday described American miler Wes Santee as a "scapegoat" in the track and field battle against professionalism. They sympathized with the Kansas runner in his suspension by the American Amateur Athletic Union from track competition and argued that the time had arrived for the amateur tag to be dropped once and for all. "To carry the Santee case to its logical end, investigate amateur athletics from top to bottom and Melbourne this year would be a deserted Olympic village," commented Harry Carpenter in The Daily Mail. "It's a change to see British writers putting up an argument for the 24-year-old Santee. Usually they are taking a crack at him."

The AAU barred Santee from future track meets and from the Olympic competition. He was accused of receiving $1,500 over allowable expenses in a series of track meets last summer. The third-place team is allotted $6,300 in 18 units, about $350 for each player, and the fourth-place team $2,700, or around $150 for each man. Fourth place is the last spot leading to the post-season Stanley Cup series. Currently it is a wide open battle among Toronto Maple Leafs, Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks. There are six individual trophies up for claimants, along with $1,000

Plans Announced For County-wide Sports Program

TORONTO (CP) — Plans were announced Wednesday for a county-wide sports program with an initial budget of at least $700,000 to help Canadian athletes attain international standards for Olympic competition. Lloyd Percival, director of Sports College, announced the program Wednesday. He said the first year's budget will be at least $700,000, contributed by commercial and industrial donors. The program will be operated by Percival's organization, a non-profit national fitness and sports-efficiency group, in association with an advisory group drawn from amateur sport and physical education groups. Percival said two fundamental objectives of the program are: To create greater interest and participation in all amateur sports and in physical fitness program; to provide a public-relations service through which those interested in similar objectives can reach the public and get support for their particular activities. Baffin bay between the Atlantic and Arctic oceans is about 800 miles long, with average breadth of 280 miles.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, increased responsibilities, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, dizziness, restlessness, heavy-limbed feeling, etc. follow. That's why it's time to take DODD'S Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.
