Jimmy Ward Hopeful Of Defence Berth

MONTREAL, July 20—Jimmy Ward, given his outright release by Montreal Canadiens after 12 years of service in the National Hockey League, still believes he has a few more years left in the big time—but as a defenceman, rather than as a forward.

"I've made up my mind that if I can hook on with some team it'll be as a defenceman," said Ward, one of the most popular players who ever played pro hockey in Montreal. For 11 seasons with the now-defunct Montreal Maroons, and last year with Canadiens, he has been a hero to all hockey-minded kids in the city.

"I still think I have at least two more good years left, and I'd be willing to quit then. Heck, I don't like being counted out now. If my legs were going back on me I'd say sure; 'I'm all washed up.' But I'm in good shape. I can skate all day and I weigh 195 pounds now."

Ward, one of the few players who have scored 100 goals or more during and N. H. L. career, said he would probably write Red Dutton, manager of New York Americans and a former teammate on Maroons, about chances of lining up with the New York team.

"I'm big enough to hit a good body-check and fat enough to get off on plenty of good breakaways from the defence," said Ward, always rated one of the fastest skaters in the league. "Why, when Eddie Gerard was alive and coaching he told me once that whenever I wanted to go back on defence I could. He said it was a natural position for me."

Nova-Galento Bout Arranged

PHILADELPHIA, July 20—Managers of Lou Nova and Tony Galento, settling their differences with the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission over a referee, signed their fighters today for a 15-round heavyweight bout in Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium Sept. 7.

The winner was assured of a shot at the heavyweight title next spring.

Mike Jacobs of New York co-promoter with Herman Taylor of Philadelphia of the bout, announced he would match the winner against champion Joe Louis or Bob Pastor of New York, depending upon the outcome of the Louis-Pastor fight in Detroit Sept. 20.

CONFEDERATION RACING MEET ATTRACTS THOUSANDS

Confederation horse races held on the Provincial Exhibition track yesterday afternoon were a success. Nearly 3,000 people occupied the main grand stand and bleachers and seemed to thoroughly enjoy the racing card and other attractions. It was the first race meet on the grounds—other than Exhibition Weeks—since 1926 when Old Home Week was staged and two days racing took place.

While there were only two entries from New Brunswick and none from Nova Scotia, due to race meets conflicting on their tracks, yet this province furnished 18 starters in the three events. The track was fairly fast but there was a high wind which slowed up the horses a bit. The weather was cool and clear.

The 2.16 Trot and Pace was won by Direct L., who took a record of 2.09½ at Alberton on Dominion Day, but the first heat was won by Dude Potempkin, 2.07½, a trotter that was also second in the other two heats.

The 2.21 Trot and Pace had six starters, but the Moncton horse Happy L. 2.07½, a full brother of Direct L. 2.09½ was in a class by himself, really too good a pacer for his field. In each heat Happy made every post a winning one. Bebe McElwyn 2.10¼ captured second honors with a summary of 2-2-3, the trotter Millie Kalmuck nosing out Bebe for second place in the third heat.

The 2.26 Trot and Pace had eight starters but they were a pretty good mannered class and did not give the starter much trouble. The trotter Squire Hanover was a bit the best of the field, although Major Bowes put up quite an argument in each heat. George Washington was next best with a summary of 3-3-5.

2.16 Trot and Pace

The first race called was the 2.16 Trot and Pace with two trotters and four pacers parading to the wire to be introduced to the audience by Starter Wright. They got away on the sixth score, Dude Potempkin taking the lead and keeping it from start to finish. McElwyn the Great, Peter Reaper Lusty Frisco and Direct L. raced in these positions to the back stretch, when Lusty Frisco came up on even terms with Peter Reaper, then Direct L. stepped up into third place. The Potempkin trotter could not be reached and won by half a length from McElwyn the Great. Wanda Volo did not seem to hit her stride and was distanced.

In the second heat Direct L. got away on high and had the pole before they reached the first turn. Peter Reaper stayed right with him on the outside, Dude Potempkin in third position, Lusty Frisco fourth and McElwyn the Great trailing. They raced one after the other to the back stretch the second time around when they closed up the gaps. Dude Potempkin passed Peter Reaper but was too far back to catch Direct L., who won comfortably. Lusty Frisco just nosed out Peter Reaper at the wire, McElwyn the Great a close fifth.

Direct L. was never headed in the third and last heat, winning easily from Dude Potempkin, with Peter Reaper a very close third, Lusty Frisco fourth and McElwyn the Great again fifth.

2.21 Trot and Pace

Six starters came to the wire for the 2.21 Trot and Pace, again two trotters and four pacers. This was Happy L., the Moncton pacer's race all the way. In the first heat the challenge came from Bebe McElwyn who stayed right with him. Millie Kalmuck was in a slight mix up and broke, but came fast through the stretch, almost beating out Bebe for second place. Miss Victoria was fourth, Leta Kalmuck fifth, and Harvest Melody, who made a bad break due to interference, distanced but was placed sixth by the judges.

In the second heat it was the same story. Happy L. took the lead and kept it, Bebe McElwyn in second with Harvest Melody in third, Miss Victoria fourth, Millie Kalmuck on the outside. They made a nice race coming down the stretch but could not get near Happy L., Bebe McElwyn finishing second, Millie just at her wheel, Miss Victoria a close fourth.

In the third heat Miss Victoria went away flying and grabbed the pole before they got to the turn. However, Belliveau took Happy L. out and had Miss Victoria beaten before they hit the top of the back stretch. Miss Victoria dropped back to fifth place. Millie Kalmuck took out at the three-quarter pole and raced around Bebe McElwyn, beating her to the wire for second place, Leta Kalmuck fourth, Harvest Melody sixth.

2.26 Trot and Pace

The 2.26 Trot and Pace provided the most thrilling finishes of the day. There were eight horses, evenly divided as to trotters and pacers. After a slight delay due to broken harness they got away on the fourth score. Margaret's Abbe had the pole but Major Bowes took it going into the back stretch. George Washington going into second place, Leland fourth. Squire Hanover made a slight break and fell back. They raced easy until coming down the home stretch the final half when they all let out and it was a great race between Major Bowes, George Washington and Squire Hanover, the Squire just nosing the others out at the wire, Major Bowes getting second place, George Washington third. This was a real exciting finish.

The second heat Squire Hanover got away nicely with Major Bowes tucked in behind, George Washington on the outside and Nellie Gray, who had been pacing real well, made a break which spoiled her chances. Squire Hanover won by a length from Major Bowes with George Washington a close third, Leland fourth, Rosebud fifth.

The third heat was the fastest in this race, 2.16½. Squire Hanover finished comfortably in the lead with Major Bowes again second. Peter Pin went a nice mile this heat and finished right with the leaders. Rosebud also showed up well and was a close fourth, George Washington fifth.

Shortly after four o'clock Jane Azoff 1.59½, who had been given a couple of warming up miles previously, appeared in an exhibition mile against time with Driver Willard Kelly in the sulky. It was arranged that Don Seaman with the runner Tetradite to cart was to accompany the free-for-aller and stimulate her efforts. After two warming up scores Jane was sent away at a fast pace with Tetradite at her shoulder. She reached the quarter in 31 seconds but slowed up the second quarter, the half being in 1.04¼. The next quarter was covered in 31½ seconds and the mile in 2.08¾, a very nice effort, apparently an easy one for Mr. Horton's free-for-aller.

Credit must be given to Don Seaman for the way he handled the runner and kept it in its proper place all through the mile.

Interspersed between the heats of the harness racing was a series of jumping contests. Several members of the Charlottetown Riding Club and the Vimy Jones Riding Club riding beautiful horses, took obstacles gracefully and put on a fine exhibition which was greatly enjoyed.

The afternoon was brought to a close with a running race, five-eighths of a mile in distance. The entries were mostly from the Light Horse and the event was quite exciting. The winner was Lady, ridden by Sgt. MacDonald.

Excellent music was furnished by the band of the P. E. I. Light Horse, and the Drum Majorette, youthful Joan Taylor in military costume, took the fancy of the crowd and was given plenty of applause.

Jack Crawford In Semi-Finals Of Tourney

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 20—(AP)—Jack Crawford, the Australian veteran, dipped into his storehouse of experience today when his legs grew weary and came out with a few tennis tricks that enabled him to gain the semi-finals of the Longwood Bowl tourney by vanquishing Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., 7-5, 6-1, 3-6, 8-6.

The Australian Davis Cup team member, slowed down by yesterday's hard match with Johnny Doeg, former United States singles titlist, got off to a wide lead over the slow-starting Mulloy.

Crawford gained the first two sets by out-steadying his opponent during long rallies. Then he started fading and Mulloy ripped through the third set.

The 10-minute respite was too short for Crawford, and Mulloy broke through two of his first three services games to gain a 5-2 lead.

It was obvious that Crawford would not be able to go a fifth set. He called upon his magnificent drop shots, which he launched from the baseline with just the slightest bit of backspin, to offset his fatigue.

After holding Mulloy even through 12 games with difficulty, Crawford gained his first lead in the final set by breaking his opponent's delivery for the 18th time in the match. Then as Mulloy gathered himself for a mighty rally, Crawford blazed two service aces at him to wind up the match.

There were two upsets in the women's singles field. Topseeded Helen Pedersen of Stamford, Conn., bowed to unranked Mary Arnold of Los Angeles, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1, and Virginia Wolfenden of San Francisco, the second seeding, bowed to Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, United States indoor champion, 6-3, 6-2. In the other quarter-finals Katherine Winthrop of Boston gained a 7-5, 5-7, 6-2 victory over Patricia Canning of San Francisco, and last year's winner, Helen Bernhard of New York, bested Barbara Bradley of Los Angeles, 8-10, 8-6, 6-2.

Sees Lots Of Good Material For Cup Team

NEW YORK, July 20—Bobby Riggs believes places on the defending United States Davis Cup team are as open as a prairie country.

Bobby came bouncing along the dock today after showing the custom's inspectors there was nothing up his sleeve, except maybe a Wimbledon championship.

"There are six or seven boys who must be considered for the team," he said, "including Elwood Cooke, Wayne Sabin and Frankie Parker. Say, I hear Parker has developed a good forehand and is playing better than ever. That's fine. There are lots of good double combinations—Gene Mako and Parker, and Sabin and Joe Hunt."

He didn't mention a Riggs-Cooke team which is pretty good. "That Cooke really is tough now. Me? I think my game improved over there. I play a little more net now, because they asked me to. I think Ferenc Punce, the Yugoslavia, was the best player I met over there. He might come over here if they beat the Germans."

Hughes And Montana Wrestle To 60-minute Draw; Conley Defeated By "Mystery Man"

With each failing to get a fall after 60 minutes of the toughest wrestling staged here this season, "Cowboy" Len Hughes and "Bull" Montana last night wrestled to a draw in the feature event of the wrestling card staged at the Charlottetown Sporting Club. And the fans certainly received their money's worth by the exciting display the two grapplers gave.

Billed as a "grudge" fight, the pair fought cleanly enough for the first five minutes but Montana, tiring of sticking to legitimate wrestling started using every questionable tactic he could and as a result those in attendance saw practically everything go as Hughes retaliated in a workmanlike manner. Many times during the bout Referee Jack Conley had to use force to pry Montana off his opponent as the "badman" of the piece refused to break when told to do so. Both were in difficulties many times during the encounter and it all led up to the fans seeing one of the wildest finishes ever staged here in a wrestling match.

With the timers announcing 50 minutes of the 60-minute time limit gone, Hughes went flying through the ropes to the floor and three times Montana either slugged him or kicked him back down. Finally Hughes crawled back in and it was Montana's turn to be on the receiving end of punishment. Again Hughes went through only to come back in and the timers' gong had just sounded when both connected with roundhouse swings. Both could hardly get up and in fact it was several minutes before they did manage to get their pins under them but it was Montana who had the last say, racing across the ring as Hughes donned his bathrobe to again knock the popular "Cowboy" to the canvas.

The powerful, wonderfully developed "Mystery Man" chalked up his second local victory in the semi-final last night when he took two falls out of three in his bout with rugged Jack Conley. Far stronger than his opponent the winner nevertheless had a tough time pinning Conley and it was ten minutes and 46 seconds after the bout started that the winner gained the first fall, with a series of drop kicks and a body press.

Conley used his boxing experience to take the second fall when after 19 minutes and a half of wrestling he caught the Mystery Man coming in with a right to the jaw; the Mystery Man sprawled flat and it was an easy matter for Conley to pin his shoulders for the required three seconds.

It was all "Mystery Man" in the third fall. Conley started fast and appeared to have his opponent on the run but backing into a corner the Mystery Man suddenly clamped on an airplane spin to end the bout after the pair had wrestled but five minutes and 32 seconds of the fall. Joey McDonald was referee of the semi-final and despite getting tangled up with both wrestlers during the second fall managed to get back on his feet before any serious damage was done.

Cape Breton Highlanders Win Six Bouts In Annual Camp Boxing Tournament

Winning six out of ten bouts, Cape Breton Highlanders mitt-slingers last night took the lion's share of the honors in the boxing bouts staged at the camp grounds at Brighton. P.E.I. Highlanders had three wins to their credit while the Signals took one.

But despite the evident superiority of the Cape Bretoners the bouts, witnessed by a large audience were hard fought all the way through. In every case the participants gave all they had during the scheduled three rounds and there wasn't a dull moment in the two hour program.

After two boys had proved entertaining in a burlesque bout that opened the show, Gillis of Cape Breton made short work of Constable of the Island Highlanders when he knocked his opponent out after 30 seconds of fighting, a terrific right to the stomach ending the bout suddenly and unexpectedly.

Mark Claybourne, 138 lbs. of the Island Regiment lost a hairline decision to McKinnon of Cape Breton in the second event of the evening. Both boys throwing punches from every angle were dog-tired at the end of three rounds and the decision might have been called a draw but Army rules of boxing state that a winner must be declared.

McIntyre of Cape Breton gave the Nova Scotians their third straight win when Cheverie of the Highlanders lost a decision after having a slight edge in the first round.

Johnnie Shaw, fighting under the Signallers chalked up the first Island victory when he punched out a bloody three-round victory over Robertson of Cape Breton. Outpointed the first round Shaw came back in the second to take a big lead in points as he hammered his opponent from pillar to post, but in the third again there was no difference between the two game fighters. It was the best fight on the card.

In an all-Island bout McCall of the Signallers chalked up another victory for his company when he outpointed Rogers of the Highlanders. McCall had far too much experience for his opponent and the result of the bout was never in doubt from the first minute on.

Young Gallant of the P.E.I.H made a great showing in the first round of his bout with Bailer of Cape Breton but early in the second ran into a wicked right hand wallop from his opponent and was counted out.

Jim Evans of the Highlanders, former heavyweight champion of the Island making his first start in the squared circle since George Leslie wrested the title from him at Kensington, was outpointed by Boudreau, another Cape Bretoner. Evans held his opponent on even terms for the first two heats but wilted in the final to allow his opponent to punch out a clear-cut victory.

In another scheduled all-Island affair Seele won by default when his opponent Walsh failed to appear for his scheduled fight.

McIntyre of the Cape Bretoners chalked up his second victory on the card when in the next to last bout he punched out a decision win ers. This fight also was even up to the third but the winner proved to be the fresher and piled up points continuously during the last two minutes of the scrap.

The final on the card brought together two heavyweights in the person of another former Island champion, George Graham, and Debison of Cape Breton. Both boys, fighting in near darkness swung tons of leather the first two minutes but Graham, finding the range with deadly effect in the second had Debison on the floor early from a crushing right hand wallop and then as the Cape Breton fighter regained his feet the towel came hurtling into the ring to save him further punishment as he was in no fit condition to continue.

Officials

Referee—Corporal Mulligan, R.C. R.

Judges—Sgt.-Major Steele, P.E.I. H., and T.I. McSwain of the Cape Breton Highlanders.

Timer—E. F. Acorn.

Teams Fail To Make An Appearance

For some unexplained reason neither the Rovers and Stars made an appearance for their scheduled City League game last evening. The game will likely be played at a later date.

However, matters in the league have been going from bad to worse and it seems time that a meeting was called in an effort to see if matters which have arisen in the past week can be ironed out.

Pete Kelly In Montreal For Golf Tourney

MONTREAL, July 20—(CP)—Ted Adams of Chillicothe, Mo., who will defend his Canadian Amateur Golf Championship at Nearby Mount Bruno next week, stepped from his car today after a 400-mile drive and covered the par-70 Mount Bruno layout in 76.

Adams played with Gordon Taylor, Jr., of Toronto and Jack Archer of Montreal in the practice round. Archer has a 72 while Taylor was a stroke behind.

Bobby Dunkelberger of Greensboro, N. C., Henry Martel of Edmonton, Pete Kelly of Charlottetown, New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Amateur Champion, Phil Farley of Toronto, Ken Lawson of Victoria, Jim Hogan of Jasper Park, Alta., and John Laangley of London, England, were among other golfers arriving for the tournament which will start Tuesday.

Yankees Star Rookie Hurler Never Worries

ST. LOUIS, July 20—Atley Donald, New York Yankees' star rookie hurler, has a firm lower jaw and doesn't worry, and those are two big reasons why he has just bustled a 31-year-old record by starting his American League career with 11 consecutive triumphs.

"When it's my turn to pitch, I go out there to win, and I'm not satisfied with myself unless I turn in a victory," asserted the big 26-year-old right hander.

"But," he added, "you mustn't forget I've got the best team in baseball playing behind me."

In defeating the Browns during the series which ended today, Donald went one game ahead of Harry Krause of Philadelphia Athletics who won 10 decisions as a first-year man in 1908 before he tasted defeat.

Donald, who left Louisiana Tech for a baseball career, says he's not worried about his winning streak. It's not new to him.

"Why, in breaking into the International League with Newark in 1937 I won 14 games before I was defeated," he explained. That year he won 19 games against two losses during the regular season.

"When I pitch," he told a newspaper man, "I don't think of winning streaks. I just pitch that one game."

Simmerings Around The Sport Front

(By Vincent Honan, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK, July 20—Bobby Riggs of Chicago returned today from his victory in the all-England tennis championships at Wimbledon and implied that Baron Von Cramm is the best amateur singles player in the world.

"He beat me in straight sets at the Queens Club," said Riggs adding he thought it unlikely the Baron would enter any United States tournaments this year.

The scribes have been talking about Joe Louis as the busiest heavyweight boxing champion. But the record books show that Tommy Burns, the Canadian, defended his title 12 times in two years and 10 months against seven stands by the Brown Bomber in two years. Burns defended his crown seven times in one year. . .He fought Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, Bill Squires, Jack Palmer, Jim Flynn, Gunnar Moir, Bill Lang and Jem Roche all within 12 months.

Paul Derringer, Cincinnati Reds big righthander who has won 12 games already, nominates Johnny Mize of the Cards as the toughest hitter in the National League. "He's the best hitter of a well pitched ball I've ever seen," said Paul.

Ronnie Nash, sensational young Toronto rider, graduated from the apprentice ranks today, having ridden a full year. He celebrated his last day as a novice yesterday by booting home three winners at Empire. Nash is under contract to Jack Howard who trains for B. F. Whitaker, Texas oil man.

With the aid of four night games Brooklyn Dodgers have boosted their home attendance to within 100,000 of their total last year. And they have 30 home games still to go. The Dodger turnstiles have clicked 616,199 times so far. Their all-season total last year was approximately 700,000.
