READ THIS ACROSTIC:

ALLOW me, my customers, kindly to thank you, Never would I for a moment pretend giving my thanks as a "Mathematician" utterly void of all else but your friend, Surely I stand in the safest position. That's so! I don't for a moment pretend to be expert at aught else save suiting you all to a suit of the BEST and CHEAPEST Clothes in Summerside.

Most, if not all of you know for a certainty All of my work is most perfect and neat, Call on it be 'excellence in the Tailor's fraternity? SAY, can McSwain in his cutting be beat? Well, 'tis most foolish to ask such a question Every one knows that the negative will 'serve for the answer, that is, while perfection Right to my patterns remaineth there still. Yes; and to this effect, I shall always keep the most perfect Fashions on hand. Some advertise Mathematics in cutting! Unless intelligence: How can it be? Meet in your eyes, that you may not see? I attend you I do, to call at your leisure, Reminding you all, that whenever you come Satisfaction shall cause you to leave me your measure; I'll work by sound sense not by common as some, Delighted, you then shall seize on your treasure, Escaping from thence and hastening home. If you wish to prove that the above is really a FACT, you have only to call at my Establishment, Saint Stephen Street, where you will at all times see ANGUS MACSWEEN. Summerside, August 12, 1869.—tf
