

Senior Week Day by Day

Monday May 9/77

Today you will have a chance to register for the week. There are two times for your convenience. You will receive tickets for dance and banquet, Senior Class buttons and a chance to buy the Class of '77 hat. During the afternoon a special baseball game is planned for those who wish to get off to an early start at the week of fun. The evening will be one to remember as the "Golden Oldies" dance in the Barn takes place from 9:00-1:00

Tuesday May 10/77

Don't get up too early today, but be ready for a fun filled afternoon beginning at noon. There is something planned for everyone so we hope you will be there. There will be floor hockey, chess, tennis, etc. and possibly a highlight of the day will be the bicycle scavenger hunt. Prepare now by getting your bike in shape. Tuesday evening come to the residence cafeteria for a wine and cheese party sponsored by the University and Faculty assoc. Following the wine and cheese party, everyone is invited to the Showboat where we have space reserved. Admission is only $1.00, and be there early so as to get a good seat.

Wednesday May 11/77

Sleep is all that's going on Wed. morning. The afternoon however will feature a ladies tea sponsored by the University and some interested women. As well there will be a happy hour for the men in the Panther Lounge. Times for these events are to be decided soon. Wednesday evening, there will be a rollicking time in the gym as Finnigan preforms with their Irish wit and music, a good time is guaranteed for all.

Thursday May 12/77

If you are in the visitors parking lot in front of Marion at 11:45 you can get a ride to the party at Strathgartney. The afternoon will include games, contests and a barbeque. The weather might be a bit cool but you will have no trouble keeping warm if you are at the party. The more people, the more fun we will have. Dress is (casual-semiformal) for Thursday evening for the reception banquet and dance. At the banquet the Valedictory address will be given as well as awards and prizes. In the past this was a great event. To go to the banquet and dance you must obtain a ticket at registration on Monday May 9/77

Friday May 13/77

Some people think Friday the 13th brings bad luck, but in our case, the direct opposite applies. The day begins in the Barn at 12 noon with a Brunch to fill your tummy. After eating, move on down to the talent pub in the Panther Lounge, where your talent (no matter how little) will reward you with a beverage. This should be a great time enjoying all the talent in the Class of '77.

Friday nite at Confederation Centre will be the scene of the Graduation ball sponsored by the Class of 78, This truly is a very exciting nite as we all get together once again with faculty and friends. Due to the limited tickets, Seniors must claim their tickets at Registration on Monday or make arrangements with the executive. We must do this to enable the Class of 78 to have a good idea of the number of people attending.

Saturday May 14/77

You should arise mid-morning to be in the rink at 11:00 AM for graduation rehearsal. It is very important that you are there to be informed of procedures. Since you are up for the day and so full of life, somethings are planned for you. The HomeEconomics students have a ring ceremony at 3 PM in Dalton Hall, and other students who are free can attend the beach party to be held in the afternoon. We also hope that the Home Ec'ers will join us after the ring ceremony. You and your parents are invited to the student-parent nite sponsored by the Alumni Association. Music is by Cabaret 5 and a fun filled evening for all is assured.

Sunday May 15/77

Today will mark the end of your years at University. To begin this special day there will be a BACCALAUREATE Service in the rink from 10:30 AM-11:30 for grads and family. Grads are asked to assemble at Duffy at 1:00 PM for preparations necessary to organize the procession. Convocation begins at 2:00 PM with our guest convocation speaker Hon. John Diefenbaker.

*for a summary of the days events see the schedule on this page. Some events may be changed slightly but you will receive further notice.
