OTTAWA, June 5 (CP)—Tempers flared today in the Commons during a debate on Canada's multi-million-dollar tourist industry...

Hon. Mr. Winters Is Annoyed By Criticism

OTTAWA, June 5 (CP)—Resources Minister Winters, whose department includes the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, retorted that Mr. Murphy had made a speech that was "unconstructive, unfair and inaccurate."

The speech contributed "exactly nothing" to the solution of Canada's tourist-trade problems and showed that Mr. Murphy "knows exactly nothing about the problem."

Claims More Tourists

Mr. Winters said more United States tourists came to Canada in 1951 than in any year in history. He did not give figures. They spent $270,000,000 while in Canada, a decrease from some previous years.

While the bosses may be aware their day of iron rule are numbered, the prisoner said they still hold kangaroo court, beat and torture anti-Communist prisoners, kill them and bury them secretly.

Sudden Drop Yesterday In Local Potato Prices

Potatoes, which had soared to record heights in recent months, took a sudden drop in this Province yesterday which ranged from 50 to 75 cents per bag. While there was no particular reason for the drop it is believed that several factors entered into the sensational decline.

Canada from early producing Southern United States. The potato market customarily takes a slump when new potatoes first hit it, and generally the price continues to decline from then on.

Accident In Gulf Near Fame Point

HALIFAX, June 5 (OP)—The liner Scythia, outward bound for England with 800 passengers, collided with the collier Wabana in the foggy Gulf of St. Lawrence today and one man was reported missing.

The 7,200-ton Wabana's propeller was shown in the crash with the 19,900-ton British liner off Fame Point, near the Gaspe coast.

Marine Radio, which reported that one unidentified man was lost, said there apparently were no other casualties.

Marine Radio said the Wabana had been taken in tow by the tug Rocky River and is heading to Quebec for repairs to her propeller and rudder. The Scythia was sailing under her own power. Neither ship was taking water.

At Montreal, meanwhile, Cunard Steamship Company Limited said the Scythia will return to Quebec City for examination as a precautionary measure.

Marine Radio said that three other ships—the Canadian Pacific passenger ship Beaverburn, the Mont Joli and the John S. Thisbury—answered the initial report of distress.

Details Skippy Details of the accident were skimpy but it was understood the ships "kissed" in heavy fog while the Scythia was creeping out of the St. Lawrence for the open sea.

The Scythia, which sailed from Quebec City yesterday, was built in England in 1920. The Wabana was built at Sorel, Que., nine years ago. She is 424 feet long and was formerly named the Glacier Park.

Lady Baden-Powell world head of the Girl Guide movement who has been lecturing in Canada, was reported to be among the passengers aboard.

Mr. Nowlan added: "That home was sold a short time ago for purposes which certainly will not be maintained much longer. "If a house like that were in existence in the United States it would be marked by flagpoles for 10 miles on either side and signs telling you that you were approaching a historic site and you should take off your hat and walk reverently."

1,031 Canadian Veterans Arrive At Vancouver En Route From Korea

VANCOUVER, June 5 (OP)—A contingent of 1,031 Canadian veterans came home today to complete the return of the original Canadian brigade in Korea.

Thousands lined the streets and hundreds more leaned from windows of store and office buildings to watch the troops march by.

The crowd, for the most part silent, was smaller than the throng of 10,000 which welcomed home another shipload two Sundays ago.

There was polite handclapping from the troops as they listened to Mr. Wallace, Labor Minister John Cates and Mayor Fred Hume but a thunderous cheer when Brig. Rockingham said: "Believe it or not, men, but I'm glad to see you back, too."

The sky was overcast as the men disembarked, shed their gear and then marched by the reviewing stand four blocks from the pier.

The first troop train rolled out by Canadian Pacific Railway for Toronto at 1 p.m. (E.D.T.). Two others left by Canadian National Railways for Montreal at 1:30 and 2:30.

Before the parade lined up in the pier shed, most of the men crowded to the door at the end to have a smoke—smoking is forbidden on the wharves.

All the men interviewed said the Korean war is deadly monotonous. "You get in your hole and stay there," said Capt. John Morrison of Ottawa.

Mr. Donald L. MacQuarrie (above), Hampton, who received a Bachelor of Science degree at Dalhousie University in Halifax, left yesterday morning for Newfoundland where he has accepted a position as junior geologist with the Buchans Mining Company.

Urges Greater Advertising Of P.E.I. Attractions

OTTAWA, June 5 (Special)—W. Chester S. McLure, Progressive Conservative member for Queen's urged Resources and Development Minister Winters in the House of Commons today to allocate a larger proportion of the Dominion Travel Bureau's advertising account to Prince Edward Island.

Mr. McLure admitted that there are photographs of some of Prince Edward Island's famous beaches in some government publications. But by and large, he said, the Province has been neglected and under-advertised in the travel bureau's paid advertising in United States publications.

More advertising of the attractions of the Province would benefit not only the prospective tourists themselves, but would aid an industry that is very important in the Island Province and the Maritime in general. He recalled that Defence Production Minister Howe had said that the golf course in the P. E. I. National Park was one of the finest and most beautiful on which he had played.

Pronouncements of this kind were extremely important and helpful, Mr. McLure noted. He also advised the minister to advertise the excellence of the food and cooking in the Province. Prince Edward Island offered the

Says Steel Strike May End Monday

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Senator Ernest McFarland (Dem., Ariz.), the Truman administration's floor leader, told the Senate tonight there is a possibility the steel strike may be settled by Monday.

Officials of management and the striking C.I.O. Steelworkers Union re-opened direct negotiations at the White House this morning, seeking an agreement to end their eight-month dispute over union wage and other demands.

When their day-long session broke up, presidential assistant John R. Steilman said the negotiators did "more real" bargaining than any time since the dispute began.

U. S. Ends Control Of Potato Prices

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The United States Government today revoked its order controlling prices of white potatoes. Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said the action was taken as a result of the vote in the senate yesterday to discontinue controls over fresh fruits and vegetables.

Prisoner Says Red Bosses Still Rule Compound

KOJE ISLAND, Korea, June 6 (Friday) (OP)—A prisoner rescued from a Kojé compound said Thursday the Red bosses inside still rule by torture and terror despite the crackdown of camp authorities.

While the bosses may be aware their day of iron rule are numbered, the prisoner said they still hold kangaroo court, beat and torture anti-Communist prisoners, kill them and bury them secretly.

In the first prisoner interview yet permitted on this troubled island, the North Korean said he himself had been marked for death when U. S. soldiers burst into compound 85 Wednesday. He and 18 others were rescued.

Meanwhile, camp authorities restored food rations to three defiant compounds, including No. 85, where prisoners were believed to be hoarding food against the day it would be needed in an uprising.

The prisoner, a 24-year-old anti-Communist who had been a farmer in North Korea, showed marks of beating and starvation. He was found with his feet and hands bound.

The prisoner said the compound rulers had murdered at least 15 prisoners in the last year. He related that he was questioned and beaten for a week, then hauled before a "people's court" and told he would be put to death.

Urged To Save Birthplace of Sir Robert Borden

OTTAWA, June 5 (CP)—The Canadian Government was urged today to save the home in Grandpre, N.S., where Sir Robert Borden, Canada's prime minister during the First World War, was born.

George Nowlan (PC—Annapolis-Kings) said the home is the only one remaining of those built by Americans who came to Canada after the Acadians were expelled by the British.

Mr. Nowlan added: "That home was sold a short time ago for purposes which certainly will not be maintained much longer. "If a house like that were in existence in the United States it would be marked by flagpoles for 10 miles on either side and signs telling you that you were approaching a historic site and you should take off your hat and walk reverently."

This house is hidden in the bushes and is starting to fall down. This is a matter which I think should be given attention in the development of our tourist industry."

Wonder Hen Slows Down But Is Still No Piker

By Alan Harvey LONDON, June 5 (CP)—Duplicate, the slate-grey hen which stumped the experts was reported slowing down today.

Cage-side dispatches from Ipswich, Suffolk, where Duplicate now is on display said the wonder hen has dropped to the rather mundane rate of about two eggs a day.

Thunderbird Squadron Proud Of Airlift Job

MONTREAL, June 5 (OP)—The boys say things are different now, but the Pacific airlift job done by 428 Thunderbird Squadron undoubtedly will rate a special chapter in R.C.A.F. history.

It was so outstanding the recognition came today from the Queen in Her Majesty's birthday honors list. The squadron's former commander, Wing Cmdr. C. H. Muscels, D.F.C., of Montreal, received the O.B.E. and 13 other officers and men were also decorated.

The story of the airlift goes back to July 26, 1950, a month after the United Nations moved to intervene in Communist aggression in Korea.

At Montreal's Dorval Airport six North Stars of 428 Thunderbird Squadron took off. Now, as 428 nears the end of its second year on the airlift, it can look back on two achievements.
