

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

AUGUST 29, 1895.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A warning to bicyclists travelling after dark is contained in these late of a young medical student who ran into a culvert near Cornwall, Ontario, and was struck and drowned in two feet of water.

China has shown a very practical desire to deal justly by the Europeans and Americans. Four of the leaders of the attack recently made by natives upon the Christian missions at Kueicheng have been executed.

Montreal Gazette: Some of the Liberal press are greatly disturbed lest the price of wheat in Canada should not during this crop year exceed the price of wheat in the United States by the amount of the duty, 15 cents a bushel. Query: How long would it take a free trade tariff to increase the price of wheat in Canada?

The Toronto Globe observes that the "unwarranted prominence given foreign in proportion to domestic trade is a mark of many of our newspapers." Quite true. As the Gazette remarks, one ridiculous conclusion it leads to, for instance, is the advocacy of a revenue tariff, or free trade, for the purpose of promoting foreign commerce at the expense of home industry. One consumer in Canada is worth far more to the farmer than a consumer in another country.

The trade returns for July are encouraging. Exports from the Dominion during that month amounted to $1,417,376, as compared with $1,255,735 in the corresponding period last year. Of this total, all but $862,406 consisted of produce of Canada. The export of forest products increased $434,000 and of animals and their produce $445,000 over July a year ago. The value of imports into the Dominion in July was $8,554,490, and in dutiable goods the increase was $510,000. The commercial barometer is a rising one.

BAPTISTS IN CONVENTION.

At Monday's session of the Baptist Convention in St. John, the seventeenth annual report of the Home Mission Board was read by Rev. A. Calhoun. After referring to the lamented death of Rev. Wm. Wetmore, an account was given of the efforts to make arrangements to carry on mission work in New Brunswick, which failed. Only $236.66 was collected in New Brunswick, and as $531 was collected the difference—$294.34—was set apart for the credit of New Brunswick.

Although a debt of $2,000 in Nova Scotia and P. E. Island seemed to demand retrenchment, it was determined to carry on the work. Full particulars of the work of the Nova Scotia associations were given. The summary is as follows: 1,213 weeks of labor, distributed among 71 churches; 3,009 preaching services; 2,512 other meetings; 7,475 religious visits; 5,133 pages of tracts distributed; 486 baptized, and 75 received by letter and experience. The supplements of the General Missionaries' salaries and grants to fields amount to $5,585.89, divided as follows: $2,110.40 to fields in Nova Scotia; $326.66 to four fields in New Brunswick; and $444.16 to five fields in P. E. I., and $704.67 in Grand Manan. The houses of worship have been completed and dedicated at Windsor Plains and at Sydney. Work among the French in Nova Scotia has been continued by Rev. C. W. Greiner.

A STRANGE FINDING.

Pennsylvania juries sometimes render queer verdicts, and the supreme court of the State has recently had occasion to decide a strange finding of a Northampton county jury. A dealer in fruit and vegetables wrote to a grape-grower asking him to ship 1,000 baskets of Concord grapes and afterward ordered another shipment of 71 baskets. He did not pay for the grapes, and instead of being made the defendant in a civil suit he was indicted under a law which makes it a crime for a consignee or factor having the possession of merchandise to dispose of it with fraudulent intent and apply the money to his own use. The fruit-dealer received grapes frequently on consignment, and he also at times bought them and sold them for himself. In his first order for grapes the grower said that he would handle all the grapes shipped to him on commission or would buy them outright.

The goods were sent without any statement as to price or any direction as to the method in which they were to be sold. The dealer afterward declared that he bought them outright, while the grower said that they were shipped on consignment. The supreme court says that the letters show that the business was conducted with almost incredible looseness on both sides.

The seller did not know what he was to get for his goods, as the cost, according to his theory of the case, was dependent entirely upon what they were sold for by the dealer, while on the other hand, the buyer of the grapes, according to the theory which he advanced, was selling goods without knowing what they had cost him, or whether he was making a profit or a loss. The court said that neither version was consistent with the ordinary principles of business care and prudence, but the judges could see no proof that there had been any fraudulent misappropriation of the fruit by anyone to whom it was intrusted as a consignee.—New York Tribune.

No Prize is too Extravagant.

And yet the wine itself is better than anything that could be said about it. Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine. That is the celebrated brand, which has rapidly risen in public favor. The reason is that it meets the need for a bracing tonic which shall be without the disagreeable features of medicine. Wilson's Invalids' Port is a fine old wine, of undoubted age, which the effect of a bracing and stimulating tonic. It dispels lassitude, puts a new heart of hope into the invalid, but chiefly it is invaluable in that it gives new blood to an impoverished system. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75c per bottle. Address—Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital St., Montreal.

Weakness is the symptom, impoverished blood the cause. Hood's Sarsaparilla the cure. It makes the weak strong.

A cable despatch says that it seems to be settled that the 597 meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science will be held at Toronto.

The first shipment of new wheat was made last Friday from Gretna to Keewatin, and was graded No. 1 hard. It yielded thirty-five bushels to the acre.

Mr. Edward Blake arrived from England on Saturday by the Parisian. He will sail from San Francisco on October 15 for New Zealand, where he goes to act as arbitrator in a railway case.

THE CENTRAL CREAMERY.

The Company to be formed under this Prospectus shall be called "The Central Creamery, Cold Storage and Canning Company of Prince Edward Island."

The capital stock to be $20,000.00 and the probable cost of suitable building and plant for the cold storage, butter-making and canning business to be $12,000.00. The cost of operating the creamery and fifteen separating stations at $1,016.00 per month, for six months, would be $6,096.00. The estimated earnings, based on the manufacture of 30,000 lbs. of butter per month, would be $6,300.00 leaving a net profit of $204.00.

The expense in connection with the cold storage business would be $80 per month. In four months this would amount to $320. The storage of 10,000 boxes of cheese at 3 1/2 cts. a box per month in four months would yield a revenue of $1,400, leaving a profit of $1,080.

The total net earnings of the Creamery and Cold Storage business, therefore, in this length of time, would be $1,284. This provides a safe investment and insures a dividend on the paid-up capital stock of over 12 per cent, besides giving a great impetus to the dairying industry of the whole province.

By centralizing the manufacture of winter butter the cost of production is over fifty per cent lower than by running separate small factories, with the additional advantage of producing a uniform fancy article that will command the top market price.

As a source of revenue the cold storage business is relied upon to return a larger dividend than the estimated one, whilst the Central Creamery will become more profitable both to shareholders and patrons as it receives the hearty patronage and skillful co-operation of the dairymen of our province. The great success which has attended the cheese business through co-operation is apparent to any observer, and the same efforts put forth by the same people in the establishment and support of a "Central Creamery and Canning Business" will result in even greater success.

For fruit and vegetable canning Prince Edward Island has decided advantages over other sections of Canada. The Island is right in the middle of the best market for canned goods which the creameries of Ontario have, namely the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, where canned goods rule from 2c to 5c higher than anywhere this side of the Atlantic.

Transportation facilities from and to Charlottetown are unequalled. For instance goods can be shipped by steamer from Charlottetown and laid down in Halifax, St. John, N. B., St. John's, Newfoundland, Montreal, Quebec and all points on the St. Lawrence River, whereas the packers of Ontario have to ship by rail, and freight by rail is always higher than by water.

This industry would give profitable employment to a large number of people and eventually add greatly to the wealth of the province.

A large number of farmers have gone into fruit raising extensively, in fact nearly every farmer more or less, and although the industry is only in its infancy they have a great deal of trouble and loss considerable time in disposing of their stock. Right here is the beauty of the canning factory, the farmer may live in the vicinity of Alberton, Souris, Georgetown or New Perth, yet practically the factory is at his door, he has no need to lose days of valuable time to look for a purchaser for his fruit. All he has to do is to deliver it at the nearest railway station.

To the farmers who will take stock in this enterprise offers exceptional advantages. The cold storage plant will fill a long felt want and afford accommodation for seasons which can now be obtained only outside of our Province. This is plainly illustrated by the fact that this season's make of Island cheese is being shipped to Montreal for cold storage at a cost of $107.36 up to the 27th of August. This amount comes out of the pockets of the cheese producers of this country and will reduce their profits considerably. The proposed cold storage company, composed of these same cheese producers, will take over this business and keep the money for the people to whom it is right belong.

Your committee feel satisfied, therefore, that all patrons of cheese factories will, especially, respond to the call, subscribe largely to the company, and by working shoulder to shoulder and centralizing our efforts attain, under a judicious management, a greater measure of success than has as yet been realized by any company in this province.

COLLISION IN THE HARBOR

Between Steamers Fastnet and Hillsborough.

Very Narrow Escape From a Fatal Disaster.

INVOLVING FORTY OR FIFTY PERSONS

A Little Harder Blow, or Ten Feet Further Aft, and the Hillsborough Would Have Gone to the Bottom.

By the narrowest chance that can be imagined, Charlottetown is not today mourning for forty or fifty members of its most prominent families. A large party was given last evening at the summer residence of Judge Fitzgerald, Hilliard's Cove, outside of Charlottetown Harbor. The steamer Hillsborough was returning with those who were present at between a quarter and half past eleven o'clock. At about the same time the Fastnet was leaving this port for Halifax. The steamers collided in the Three Tides, the Hillsborough being struck on the starboard bow, and her rail, station and guard broken in; but her hull was fortunately uninjured. It is the opinion of experienced seamen that had the force of the collision been a little greater or had the point of contact been a little further aft or the Hillsborough the accident must have been fatal.

The night was a very fine one; the lights of both steamers were, it is stated, all right. Captain McPherson of the Hillsborough was standing in the low of his vessel directing her movements. When the Captain of the Fastnet was seen cannot now be said. It is very evident that some one made a mistake, the escape from which may be properly regarded as providential. The Fastnet seems to be strangely attracted towards Island steamers.

Persons on shore who heard the crash of the collision gave instant notice by telephone to the police, who called up Messrs. Batt Bros. It is stated that the latter were on hand about five minutes after the collision. The services of their steamer were not needed.

SOURIS ITEMS.

The enterprise of the business men of Souris has often been remarked. There is also another noticeable feature of the residents of that village, or rather town—for Souris can now be ranked among the towns of P. E. Island—and that is what may be called the "esprit du village" that prevails among its residents.

When any project for the benefit of Souris is started it is at once taken hold of by the citizens and carried out to a successful issue. Never was this more observed than during the past week, when a subscription was started by John McLean, Esq., M. P., and Frederick Morrow, Esq., Collector of Customs, for the purpose of providing new seats at the street lamps. In the course of a day or so the sum of $326 was voluntarily subscribed, in sums ranging from $50 to 50 cents, for the laudable purpose of improving the town, and on Monday evening a meeting was held in the fine hall of the Benevolent Irish Society at Souris, at which the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to collect and expend the amount that had been subscribed, viz: John McLean, Esq., M. P., Frederick Morrow, Esq., Chas. J. Lewis, J. J. Hughes and James McQuaid, with Michael McCormack, Esq., as secretary of the committee. The meeting adjourned for one month, by which time it is expected that the sidewalks and lamps will be provided.

Among the signs of progress in Souris some is more important than the magnificent new store now being finished for Messrs. Matthew & McLean, who have found that their present accommodation is inadequate for their large and rapidly growing business. The new building is 56 feet long and 29 feet wide, two stories high with flat roof. The front is of the same size, and when completed, the two will be connected by a large archway in the centre. The front will be one of the largest plate glass windows in the Island, as there will be 4 lights, 10 feet 4 inches high by 9 feet 8 inches wide, with side lights 10 feet 4 inches by 4 feet 6 inches. There will be two entrance, one on the west side and one near the centre, and the show windows of the Dry Goods department will excel anything in the Province being 21 feet long. The stairway in the rear of the dry goods department will be furnished with hard pine, oiled and polished, and all the fittings will be of the latest and most handsome style. As an indication of the cost of this grand business establishment it may be mentioned that the plate glass alone will cost about $500.

The erection of this costly building by local business men like Messrs. Matthew & McLean is the best assurance that can be given to the cry that the country is getting poorer through the effects of the National Policy. On the opposite side of the street, Mr. Wm. Knight has erected a one and a half story building, divided into two stores of fairly good extent, one of which he occupies for his fruit business. Several other new buildings have lately been erected in Souris, but mention has already been made of them in the newspapers.

The Dominion Government steam dredge Prince Edward arrived in Souris on Monday, 26th inst., after having completed the work required at Newport, Lot 54. The steam tugs Fred. M. Batt and Wm. H. Aiken were successful in moving the dredge and scows in one day.

Mr. McDonald, of St. John, N. B., Inspector of Dominion Drugges, was in Souris on Tuesday to lay out the work to be done at that place. Some men are employed on the Breakwater putting it in repair, but we learn that the most of the work required to be done will not be completed until next winter, when the expenditure of the handsome appropriation secured by the energetic members for King's County, Messrs. A. C. Macdonald and J. McLean, will be of great benefit to the workmen of Souris and vicinity. At this time of the year nearly every man is actively employed in fishing, farming and other avocations; but later on not so much employment will be available, and the repairs to the breakwater can be made with less expense.

Among the visitors to Souris on Monday were Mr. Schurman, of the Monday-Harris Co.; J. A. Matheson, Esq., barister-at-law of Georgetown, and Mr. Geo. P. Owen, Secretary of the King's County Exhibition Association, who was actively engaged in furthering the success of the King's County Exhibition, to be held on the 1st and 2nd of October. Messrs. Matheson and Owen were also talking up amongst the business men of Souris the advantage of having a county newspaper. Such an establishment as a newspaper and printing office will stir a want that everyone—that is, nearly everyone in the County—feels in a necessity.
