

Charlottetown Red Cross Drive Gets Underway

Two groups of faithful and enthusiastic Charlottetown men met at Red Cross headquarters to complete final arrangements for the annual campaign on Monday and Tuesday evenings. Chairman and Treasurer, Captain O. R. Simons, had a 100 per cent attendance of the team members on Monday evening when cards were given out in a short space of time. These four teams are now on their rounds of the business firms and from reports received are making good progress.

Last evening, Divisional Commanders and captains of the seven divisions sorted out cards for their divisions under the eagle eye of Major Roy MacGillivray, Charlottetown Chairman. It is understood that several teams under the leadership of Mr. J. D. MacAskill, President of the Parkdale Men's Association have things under control and are presently canvassing in Parkdale and are trying to complete this before the general campaign commences in Charlottetown next Tuesday.

The objective for Charlottetown is $4,000 with Parkdale making up for the extra $1,000. Canvassers realize the great necessity there is to reach this goal and will leave no stone unturned to get every contribution possible.

Allied Delegates Irked By Delay In Truce Talks

By Don Huth

MUNSAN, Korea, March 12 (Wednesday) — (AP) — Allie d truce delegates, fed up with Communist stalling, today faced their toughest test of patience to keep the peace talks alive.

Sessions at Panmunjom were set for 11 a. m. 9 p. m. EST Tuesday.

Exasperated by verbal gymnastics, Rear-Admiral R. E. Libby told the Communists during Tuesday's meetings:

"We are getting fed up with your attempts to make things appear as fact that are not facts."

Even Gen. Matthew Ridgway was asked to the point of calling the Communists liars, but in carefully-chosen phrases. The Allied Supreme Commander, briefly visiting Munsan from Tokyo, said the future of the truce talks is unpredictable.

The talks remained knotted on two of several major issues—Allied insistence on voluntary repatriation of prisoners and Red demands that Russia be included as a "neutral" armistice inspector.

The staff officers' meeting on armistice supervision lasted only six minutes; a total of 13 minutes in three days. The discussion on prisoner exchange lasted 45 minutes.

The Communists did not challenge an Allied demand of Monday that the Reds stick to the basic issues and refrain from propaganda tirades.

Although the tone of the Chinese and North Korean delegates was milder in Tuesday's sessions, they again accused the U. N. command of delaying the talks and raising what they termed "trifling odds and ends."

The Reds also submitted three lists containing 1,036 names, described as prisoners held by the Allies, and asked Libby for an accounting. He replied that the U. N. command will investigate, despite the fact that the Reds did not provide ranks and unit designations.

Dr. Dakin Describes C. A. R. E. Activities

Three-quarters of the people of the world go to bed hungry, was the arresting statement made by Dr. E. LeRoy Dakin, International Field Director for C.A.R.E. in addressing a large group of women from various organizations at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Dr. Dakin gave a revealing insight into the workings and purpose of the Co-operative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc. Explaining that the organization operates on a non-sectarian non-profit and guaranteed delivery basis, he also mentioned that C.A.R.E. parcels were only delivered to countries that would accept them duty and ration free, thus protecting the sender as well as the recipient.

Local Red Cross Chapters have been designated as information centres for C.A.R.E. in this Province.

The purpose of the organization, Dr. Dakin said, was to provide food, clothing and essentials to the people of Europe, Asia, including Korea, who are in desperate need of aid. From people of Canada, the United States, Mexico, Central and South America countless thousands of dollars are pouring in to help those stricken with poverty in far away lands, but he emphasized that more help was needed to carry on this vital work.

In response to a request from UNESCO, C.A.R.E. shipped thousands of technical training books to be used for classroom instruction in foreign lands and now the World Health Program has requested their assistance. Already C.A.R.E. has responded by shipping $180,000 worth of radium overseas and at present the organization is endeavouring to raise enough funds to send 30 iron lungs to the Orient.

Another phase of C.A.R.E.'s work the speaker defined as helping people to help themselves, explaining that there are hundreds of people who have no opportunity to learn a trade and whereby earn a livelihood. This is being partially overcome in the form of apprenticeship kits which can be bought by donors for $10.

In closing Dr. Dakin stated that C.A.R.E. was a great humanitarian agency, affording an opportunity for everyone regardless of race, color or creed to render a personal service to other human beings in dire need.

20th Century Clock Lives On Air

Shown for the first time in this Province, the "Atmos" clock, in the display window of the jewellery store of G. H. Taylor, City, is attracting much attention.

A comparatively new masterpiece of mechanism, the clock is a perfect example of perpetual motion, and, as its name implies, obtains its power from the atmosphere.

As temperature in the atmosphere changes, it creates expansion or compression inside the delicate mechanism, winding the clock as it does so. So fine has this been worked out, that a change of two degrees in the temperature will give enough power to wind the clock for 48 hours.

The clock is made in three finishes, the one on display being gilt. Entirely visible under its glass case, the marvellous movement revolves slowly without mystery, exposing itself to the admiration of all.

Opening Yesterday Of Provincial Legislature

As the guns at Victoria Park roared out the traditional salute at 3 o'clock yesterday, His Honour Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse finished inspecting a Guard of Honor and entered the Provincial Building to open the first regular session of the 47th General Assembly. He was accompanied by his aides and by Brig. W. W. Reid, D.S.O., E.D.

As they reached the door of the Legislative Chamber the bearer of the Black Rod knocked and requested admittance for the Lieutenant Governor.

Inside a large gathering stood as His Honour entered and took his place in the Speaker's chair. They rose again as the Speech from the Throne was read by the Lieutenant Governor and as His Honour departed. Present in the Chamber were the wives of many of the members as well as judges of the Supreme Court and other invited guests. The gallery was crowded with citizens, including many women.

After appointments to business was transacted by the Legislature, but it was announced by Premier J. Walter Jones that consideration of the Speech from the Throne would be the first order of the day today.

The "Independence" of the Legislature was demonstrated when Premier Jones arose immediately after the Lieutenant Governor left the Chamber to move the first reading of a pro forma bill.

Premier Jones, Hon. A. W. Matheson and Hon. W. E. Darby were named to a committee for the purpose of naming the members of the standing committees. Various appointments of employees were made on motion of different members. Mr. Charles McInnis, a veteran of the Second World War, was named Sergeant-At-Arms. He succeeds Lieut. Cmdr. Charles MacKenzie.

The four messengers named were Joseph Livingstone, Allan Hickox, John Duffy and Fred Gaudet. The door keepers are Duncan MacKinnon, Edgar Arsenault and Joseph Kelly.

Mr. Allison M. Gillis was appointed Law Clerk on motion of Premier Jones.

The Guard of Honor was from the P.E.I. Regiment (17th Recce) and under command of Capt. L. G. McNevin with S.S.M. Warren Farrar as Squadron Sergeant Major. Accompanying the Guard was the Recce Band under Capt. R. J. Mahar.

With Lieutenant Governor Prowse were his aides Lieut. Col. A. W. Rogers, Sqdn. Ldr. Alan Macmillan and Lieut. Cmdr. John Trainor. Brig. Reid was present as the representative of Major General E.C. Flow, General Officer Commanding, Halifax.

The salute was fired from Victoria Park Roadway by guns and crews of the 28th L.A.A. Regiment commanded by Lieut. Col. H. Gordon Williams. In charge of the gun crews was Capt. M. E. Campbell who had with him Lieut. H. G. F. Hughes and Lieut. Gordon Wellner. Lieut. Col. R. D. MacNeil was also present as medical officer. In the crews were Sergeants Robert Walton, L.W. Duffy and A. Dalziel and Gunners A. Steel, J. G. Gallant, J.H. Gallant, A.E. Gauthier and J.A. Gallant.

Training Course At Zion Church

An unusually constructive period introduced the Teachers' Training Course held in Zion Church Hall last night. This course will be continued each Monday night at 7:30 p. m. throughout the month of March. The course is being presented under the auspices of the Charlottetown Ministerial Association, with Dr. L. W. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Education as Instructor.

The Rev. John Irwin, associate minister of Trinity Church acted as chairman of the evening, opening the period with prayer. Mr. Preston V. Beck was appointed as secretary-treasurer during the course of studies.

A fairly representative number of teachers of city Church Schools was present to receive an excellent presentation of the thinking of the class about the "teacher" of the church school. "What one will teach will depend largely upon objectives," said Dr. Shaw. This is true in all phases and no less true in regard to Sunday School instruction.

Three main objectives of Sunday School teaching were pointed out:

- (1) Imparting knowledge regarding God.
- (2) The development of attitudes.
- (3) Habit formation.

Chief among problems encountered by the Church School teacher is the point of "brevity of time" in teaching the pupil and the "interval" between lessons given by the teacher to the pupil.

"It is essential then," said Dr. Shaw that the teacher adopt the Boy Scout motto of "Be Prepared" before she or he arrives to stand before the class. Essential in this regard is the preparation of the lesson; spiritual undergirding of one's own nature and the provision of all physical aids toward the impartation of knowledge.

Next Monday night the class will be held in Trinity Church hall at 7:30 p.m. and Dr. Shaw will lead the period in thinking primarily along the line of "The Pupil."

This is a splendid opportunity for all Church School teachers and it is hoped that many might take advantage of it.

"In fact," he said, "those goals do not represent increases but decreases over those set a year ago and which the C.C.F. approved. WOUNDED WHEN

Friday night in an apartment five blocks from where Jackson was trapped. The third man, wanted for the Toronto holdup, is Edward Alonzo Boyd.

As Jackson was helped to the ambulance he shouted:

"I know who tipped off police and Boyd will be back to get them."

Uniformed police and plain-clothesmen were scattered for blocks about the area. The attack on the building carried out by practically the full 16-man homicide squad, each man wearing a steel vest.

They and the two Toronto officers converged on the door leading to the basement apartment. They hammered on the door and ordered Jackson to come out.

Jackson yelled from inside: "It's unloaded. Come in and get me."

A furious exchange of bullets followed.

Under cover of the detectives' continuous fire, officers with the tear gas went into action.

Wounded and choking, Jackson finally gave up. Out with him came his friend.

Police said the tip-off on Jackson's apartment hideout came from the husband of the woman janitor in the building. They did not name him.

Police have been on a relentless search for Jackson and Boyd since Suchan fell into the police ambush and was cut down with bullets in his chest, thigh and arm.

Police were in waiting in the Cote des Neiges Road apartment Friday night when Suchan entered alone. Before he could shoot, Detective Sergeant Albert Dauphin fired three bullets and Suchan dropped.

The following day police found a small arsenal in a garage where Suchan had sold a car. In a valise were two machine guns, an auto-

RAIL STRIKE ENDS BY COURT ORDER

OTTAWA, March 11 (CP) — Canada will train more of her big export guns on expanding Latin American markets to reduce the impact of widened import restrictions by Commonwealth countries. Trade officials said today.

Already, they added, the South American continent is showing signs of becoming the best outlet in the world for Canadian manufactured goods—items which will be hit by new import restrictions by the United Kingdom, New Zealand and Australia.

Latest of the import restrictions was announced in Britain's new austerity budget today, which increased 500,000 to bring about $1,700,000,000 total import cuts announced by Britain's Conservative government since it came to power last fall.

Trade Minister Howe, commenting on the new restrictions, said they will not do Canadian cheese and apple producers any good, but emphasized that he still believed the bulk of Canadian exports to Britain will not be touched.

These were the tons of metals and minerals, the lumber and the wheat which Britain needed to keep its economy and bank-rupee and build up export trade to the point where she can make sterling convertible with dollars.

Canadian trade and financial officials judged from the drastic austerity steps announced by Britain's chancellor of the exchequer R. A. Butler, that Britain is moving in the right direction.

For Canadian trade, a gloomy aspect of the austerity was that some Canadian exporters will suffer a reduction in markets.

Coupled with this outlook was the possibility of a sharp setback in Commonwealth exports to Australia and New Zealand resulting from new import reductions there.

The hopeful sign is that Latin American countries may absorb more of Canada's production. Exports to that area jumped to $208,000,000 in 1951 from a mere $17,300,000 in 1928. Imports have skyrocketed to $273,800,000 from $16,000,000.
