The Patriot says that THE EXAMINER began the controversy about the secrecy of the ballot. But before that Sir Louis and his canvassers had begun to intimidate government employees with their false statements. A generous minister would not in any case try to force government officials and employees to vote for him. We believe that Sir Louis will live to regret this action. Let every man vote according to his judgment and conscience—no one daring to make him afraid.

PEDESTRIANISM.—On Sunday last two veteran firemen went out for a walk, and covered much ground in a short time. In the evening, after their return to City Hall, each began to talk about his ability as a pedestrian. The outcome of the discussion was that arrangements were made for a test on Sunday next, the walking to begin at an early hour in the morning and continue until dark. Each is confident of being able to defeat the other, and, if the weather is fine, the long distance record will be badly shattered.

BOARD OF TRADE.—The wet weather of last night materially affected the attendance at the meeting of the Board of Trade, and it was decided to postpone the meeting at the discretion of the Board. An informal meeting of the Board was held, however, of which Mr. R. B. Norton called the attention of the President to the running of the Southport without inspection, claiming that the boat was not safe for passenger traffic, and that the Inspectors refused to inspect her unless she was hauled up on the slip. The location of the new railway station and freight rates were also talked over.
