Epps's Cocoa.
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified by pure blood and a properly nourished frame."

Suggestions About Closets.

The average height of woman is 5 feet 2 inches, but rarely does one find a woman in a city or country in which any attention has been paid to this fact in arranging the closets. The hooks are usually placed about six feet from the floor and above them is placed a shelf which is almost useless, unless a woman mounts on a chair every time she wishes her bonnet or shawl. In the ideal closet the hooks are only 4 1/2 feet from the floor and the shelf two or three inches above them. The closet should be supplied with yokes, as clothing of all kinds keeps in much better shape when hung on yokes. The floors of closets should be smooth, and all cracks should be filled up so that dust may not collect there.

Putty, plaster of paris or even finely shelled newspaper may be used to fill up the cracks. Make a paste with the putty by adding hot water and a little glue. Plaster of paris is simplest and most satisfactory. Mix the powder with cold water to make the paste of the right consistency to spread and then fill in the cracks. After the plaster is hard give the floor a coating of paint to make it look smooth and neat.—Exchange.

Simple Amusement For Youngsters.

Where children are accustomed to playing out of doors it is more of a problem to amuse them than in a rainy day, where there is an attic to go to, is sometimes quite a delight to the children, when mother will let them have a rummage among old dresses, dresses and hats. I have seen a small boy contented for hours with an old pair of boots, a high hat and an old coat, assuming different characters, or playing a game of hide-and-seek on top of an old chest. And little girls like nothing better than an old silk gown, bonnet and a pair of long kid gloves and any fancy dress or costume which they can put on themselves into little quaint dainties for several hours.—Cor. New York Recorder.

Buy Bacon In Quantity If Possible.

Breakfast bacon is one of the most serviceable relishes within the reach of the housekeeper. It may be used by itself or combined with many other things to give them the needed savornity. It may be purchased in any quantity in the market, the provision man shaving it off for you if you wish, but if one has a cool place to keep it in it is a good plan to buy a whole piece of the leanless breakfast bacon, which comes in wrappings that can be kept on it until the last of the meat is used. It is one of a great convenience to have the bacon in the house, but it is also more economical to buy a whole piece than to get it in small quantities.—Good Housekeeping.

A Neat Way to Clean Glasses.

If you slightly soiled, a small piece of oiled silk wound round your finger and rubbed vigorously over any sort of kid or canvas gloves will remove all traces of the spot, provided it is not a stain. A woman who tests this mode of cleaning kid gloves will be sure to keep thereafter a length of oiled silk in her dressing case. Three-quarters of a yard is enough to purchase at one time, or even one eighth, in the fancy dry goods stores where it is sold it is kept moist in a large roll and is thus very pliable. It is well, however, to moisten the oiled silk with water, but as one does a postage stamp.—Exchange.

New Way to Iron Shirt Bosoms.

After the usual plan of smoothing over the dry starched surface with a wetted cloth, next rub a piece of white-castle soap, the same that is used for smoothing sewing machine feet, over the starched surface over the shirt bosom, which is then ironed with a very clean iron of those especially made for the purpose. It is the handling of the iron and the strength of pressing it firmly upon the shirt that makes all the difference between good and bad ironing. Either mutton suet, white wax, or any similar substance in the bosom, and that make the ironer's work tell better.—Exchange.

Woman's Queer Position In France.

A curious state of affairs prevails in France in relation to women. A French woman may be a doctor, a lawyer, a member of the board of education and may even be decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor, but she may not witness a legal document. She occupies an important place in art, business and commerce, but she cannot possess her own earnings if she is married, and she can neither buy nor sell property without her husband's consent.—Chicago Tribune.

Orange Chips.

To make orange chips cut the oranges in quarters and carefully squeeze all juice through a sieve. Soak the peel in water and the next day boil it till tender, drain, slice the peel, put in the juice, weigh as much sugar and put all together into a bread earthen dish, place over the fire at a moderate distance, often stirring, till the chips candy and then set them in a cask to dry. They will not be dry under three weeks.—Boston Globe.

The French method of administering castor oil to children is to pour it into a pan over moderate fire, break an egg in it and stir. When cooked, flavor with salt or sugar or currant jelly.

It goes without saying that Mr. Whitney owes much of his success in life to the accomplishments of his late wife. That can be said of every successful man who is well met in this world.

In closets devoted to shelves the shelves should have spaces between them of not more than 12 inches, space allowing sufficient room for most practicable purposes.

Deservingly Popular.

Our readers have no doubt read with interest the despatches almost weekly appearing in this and other Canadian journals regarding cases of a most startling nature made by Dodd's Kidney Pills. These pills have proven themselves to be a certain cure for all diseases of the kidneys and blood, such as backache, rheumatism, Bright's disease, diabetes, dropsy, etc.

Inquiry amongst local druggists elicits the facts that they have a very large sale and are an infallible cure for kidney disorders.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold everywhere, or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.

Be As Convicted.

A man in Nova Scotia was in doubt as to the genuineness of the reported cure of Mrs. Bernard Maguire an ex-Councillor Lingley, of Peterville, Queen's Co., by a course of Hawker's Nerve and Stomach Tonic and Hawker's Liver Pills. He wrote to Spaine Lingley, and that gentleman promptly assured him that the testimonials were genuine.

For sick headache, sour stomach, loathing of food, dyspepsia or biliousness, take Hawker's Liver Pills. They will cure you. Recommended by leading physicians as a most reliable medicine.

GALLANT IDA LEWIS.
America's Grace Darling

The Brave Woman Who Keeps the Lime Rock Light.

Her Boat, "The Rescue," Exhibited at the World's Fair.

The Heroine Who Has Saved 18 Lives Tells How Her Own Life Was Saved.

Congress Gives Her a Gold Medal.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 24th.—America's Grace Darling, the heroine of 18 life-saving exploits, the woman for whom the American Congress has cast a gold medal of the first class, the first of the kind ever given to a woman, kept the Lime Rock Light.

It was when the Russian warships were at peaceful anchor in Newport's beautiful harbor, that a small company from the hotel Aquidneck went out in a sailboat to visit to the brave woman, whose lifeboat, "The Rescue," had been one of the much-talked-of exhibits at the World's Fair. The story told by Miss Lewis of how her own life was saved, amply repaid the visitors for their journey.

Lime Rock lighthouse, the home of this world-famous heroine, is within the harbor, and is a short sail from the New York yacht club's house. At high tide an ordinary cart-trail, sailboat cannot land at Lime Rock, and a row boat must be used, from which a landing is effected by climbing up the face of a perpendicular rock upon a ladder lashed with fetters of iron to the stone.

At low tide the rowboat is guided toward a pebbly beach through the sword grass that cuts against its sides like slasting martial blades.

The lighthouse—this saving station of wrecked mariners—is the blessed symbol of peace on earth and sea, saying good will to men. The fair woman to whom the visitors listened told a true narrative for every other brave and good woman in the country—a narrative for every woman in the country to heed and profit by.

Ida Lewis looks to be in her thirties as to age, with a high, nervous temperament, bright eyes, with a dash of color in her face.

"It is 35 years since we came to Lime Rock, six in family, and now there are but two of us left, my brother Rudolph, who helped you up the rock and myself," said she. "My father was a cripple for 17 years, in which time he never cut a mouthful of food for himself; my mother died 10 years ago of a cancer, and my sister six years ago of a cancer, and I have never been well in my life until now. My trouble was in my chest and lungs, and I have always had a cough from a child. What has done me more good than anything else in the world is Paine's celery compound.

"I have always been miserable in summer, and I believe I should have died this season if I had not taken Paine's celery compound. I began with it last February and this summer I have been splendid," and her eyes flashed as she warned to tell it, she continued, "for it is the truth. I have had so many doctors and so many doctors' prescriptions that I had lost faith in them, and I have tried so many patent medicines that I dreaded the summer. But I read about Paine's celery compound and went to see the gentlemen who sold it, and they were kind in its price. My brother Rudolph said that I had better not try it, as I would be disappointed again, and then I would feel worse than ever, but I went ahead. It seemed as if the Lord directed me, and I received benefit from the very first bottle.

"Oh, you should have seen me last summer. I was short of breath, easily tired out, and had a cough and night sweats, and my doctor told me I had heart trouble. I was so thin, and I was wearing black, and my friends said I looked like a little ghost. Now I am excellent, and feel proud to tell it and give the credit to Paine's celery compound. I have faith in it because there is nothing like it. I know so many people that have been helped. I am so much improved that my friends do not know me this summer. I have taken eight bottles since February, but the longer I take it the better I get. I have to live economically, and I do all my own housework, washing and ironing, and even the painting of the house, and I enjoy doing it now, but I believe I should be dead if I had not taken Paine's celery compound."

Besides the gold medal presented to her by the United States of America, a silver medal was presented by the humane society of Massachusetts: "To Ida Lewis, the heroine of Lime Rock, for the many heroic and successful efforts in saving human lives." Another silver medal was presented by the life-saving benevolent association of New York: "To Miss Ida Lewis, as a testimonial of her skill, courage and humanity in rescuing two men in the harbor of Newport, R. I., during a severe storm."

Not only on these several special occasions, however, has Miss Lewis shown the courage and fortitude that have made her famous, but also in the faithfulness and regularity with which her daily round of duties have been performed, for they are not few. No lighthouse on the coast is better kept than hers, and not one has a better record.

"People think, when they come and find things in perfect order, that there is nothing to do here," she said. "But they do not know how early we start in the morning, and how many little things there are to be done. The lamps have to be cleaned every day, the lenses kept clean, and the brass polished, to say nothing of keeping the house in order."

Not alone are the "brasses polished" on the light, but the shining copper pump in the kitchen and the row of brass candlesticks on the mantel behind the stove all testify to the success and industry of the thrifty champion of life and strength.

Ida Lewis is called the bravest woman in America. But there are many brave women who have suffered as she has done, who are nearly broken down, who need to lay a true food for the brain and nerves, and whom Paine's celery compound will make well again. Thousands of women have been saved by this wonderful remedy.
