GENTLEMEN,—I have purposely delayed writing you, as I wished to give a thoroughly complete trial to the M. P. P. It affords me much pleasure now to give it my unqualified approval in the classes of cases in which I have used it: In Atonic Dyspepsia, in convalescence from Nervous Depression, and in cases where the stomach is irritable and rejects stronger forms of stimulants. I have found most marked results from its use, and I strongly recommend its employment. Although this note is unsolicited by you, it is at your disposal for any use you wish to make of it.

Faithfully yours,

General Telegraphic News

VIENNA, Feb. 26.—The police have stopped the distribution of bread on the ground that the assembling of thousands of the poor constitutes public danger. The editor of Volkspresse, assisted by Herr Frey socialist, visited many bakeries and appealed to the proprietors to give bread to help the starving. Both editor and Herr Frey were arrested for this termed offence.

ST PETERSBURG, Feb. 26.—After a stormy discussion yesterday the municipal authorities merely censured two members of the famine relief committee accused of being implicated in the purchase of adulterated flour intended for distribution among the famine sufferers. Newspapers denounce the indulgence shown the accused and claim the two men should be tried by the courts.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 26.—Petitions will be largely signed, praying that at the forthcoming election a vote will be taken as to whether the people desire to have an act passed prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in the province.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The government of Russia has officially expressed regret for the expulsion of Captain Younghusband and Lieut. Davidson from Pamirs by Russian officers. This ends an incident that at one time threatened to result in serious consequences. England claimed that the Russians themselves were trespassers in the territory from which Younghusband and Davidson were expelled.

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—Two thousand unemployed workmen held a meeting yesterday with the object of deciding upon some course of action that would improve their condition. Upon the conclusion of the meeting a procession was formed and marched down Unter den Linden, singing the Marsellaise. When the procession was near the castle of the emperor it was met by a body of soldiers. The officer in command ordered the procession to make way for the soldiers. The workmen refused to do so and the police charged the crowd. A free fight ensued. After a short struggle the workmen were dispersed and the leaders arrested. The soldiers numbered only about twenty, and comprised a small detachment marching to relieve the guard between Schlossbruck and Charlotten Strasse.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 26.—Dr Vulcovitch, Bulgarian agent at Constantinople, was stabbed by an unknown man while walking in the street last night. His wounds are not dangerous. The would-be-assassin escaped. The motive for the deed is unknown.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26. The steamship Advance is detained at quarantine. She left Santos Jan 23rd and Rio Janeiro 25th. An epidemic of yellow fever broke out on the vessel and ten of the seamen were stricken. One died.

CHICOUTIMI, Feb. 26.—The report sent abroad that the election case against Savard, Liberal M. P. for this county, had been abandoned was incorrect; in fact the election has been annulled by Judges Pelletier and Gagne. Judge Pelletier was of opinion that Savard should be disqualified, but Judge Gagne was against disqualification. Savard defeated Sir A. P. Caron in the last federal election.

VIENNA, Feb. 26.—The officers of Volkspresse were to-day again besieged by hungry people, and one thousand loaves of bread bought with 300 florins publicly subscribed and the quantity of flour given by the bankers' committee were distributed. The police refused to allow the distribution. Handbills announcing the gifts brought out an immense multitude of homeless persons, who are daily assisted by four houses of shelter.

PARIS, Feb. 26.—A Roman Catholic committee has been formed at Aix la Chapelle to celebrate the pope's first elevation to the Episcopate by starting signatures from all the world to an address demanding the independence of the papal see. The promoters of this idea hope, by forming a committe in every country, to get fifty million signatures, which will be bound in several volumes and presented to His Holiness the Pope, who, when the idea was communicated to him, gave it his full approbation, although he expressed a doubt as to the possibility of collecting fifty million signatures.

We have a lot of children's ulsters which we have put upon the counter to-day at 75 cents each.—Harris & Stewart.

MUSIC.—The "Oddfellows' Grand March" and the "Air Ship Waltz" are two of the latest compositions of Isaac Doles, Indianapolis, Ind. Both are musical gems. They comprise five pages each, sheet music size, besides Illustrated title page, not difficult in execution, but beautiful in composition, and sell at 40 cents each. By way of introduction, Mr. Doles will mail them to any address on receipt of ten cents per copy, when accompanied by this notice. Address, Isaac Doles, Indianapolis, Ind, U. S. A.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS Mrs. Winsloe's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winsloe's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. 1yr

Personal

Mr. Tarte, ex-M. P., "assisted" at the opening of Parliament. He says he has not quite decided whether he will run again in Montmorency.

Emperor William of Germany is said to have expressed the opinion at a banquet recently that all who criticise the Government are enemies of the state.

Gen. Roberts, commander-in-chief of the British Indian army, has been elevated to the peerage, and gazetted as Baron Roberts of Candahar and the city of Waterford.

Tennyson is a great reader of novels, and so absorbed does he become in such literature at night, sometimes, that it is hard to persuade him to go to bed. Like many less distinguished people who indulge in this practice, he rises late.

The Archbishop of Canterbury once put the following question to Betterton, the actor: "How is it that you players, who deal only with things imaginary, affect your auditors as if they were real; while we preachers, who only deal with things real, affect our auditors as if they were imaginary?" "It is, my lord," replied the player, "because we actors speak of things imaginary as if they were real, while you preachers too often speak of things real as if they were imaginary."

The former wife of the present Duke of Marlborough (generally known as the Marchionness of Blandford) and the mother of the heir to the dukedom, the actual Marquis of Blandford, applied to court some time ago to have His Grace compelled to increase the allowance for the support of their son; but, after hearing the argument, the court refused to grant the order to that end. In 1869 the Marquis of Blandford (now Duke of Marlborough), being then in his 25th year, married Lady Alberta Frances Anne Hamilton daughter of the first Duke of Abercorn, and elder sister of Lady Lansdowne. The Marchioness was subsequently granted a divorce from her husband, with charge of their son, Charles Richard John, then Earl of Sunderland, who was born in November, 1871. The allowance, £500 a year, seems small for the heir to a dukedom, who, though a minor, is virtually a man.

The Duke of Beaufort, the greatest turfman of the day in England, is one of the handsomest men in the peerage. He is a few years under seventy, with hair of silvery whiteness, but with all the activity and vigor of youth. He was once a member of the House of Commons before he was promoted, by his father's death, to the House of Lords, and was twice a member of Earl of Derby's ministry, but he has always preferred to be known as a master of the hounds rather than as a member of Parliament. Not the last source of pride to him is the fact that a popular article of masculine attire perpetuates his family name.

The sacrifices of lesser principles for the sake of greater ones, which public men have often to make, is well exemplified by the vote of Mr. Chamberlain in the imperial parliament on the disestablishment question. He has long been a fervent advocate of disestablishment, but on his elevation to the Liberal Unionist leadership at Devonshire House the other day, promised that he would subordinate his views on disestablishment to the party unity on the Irish question. Hence his vote on Tuesday against Welsh disestablishment, which will damage him somewhat amongst the nonconformists, and which certainly indicated great courage on his part.

The killing of her little daughter by Lady Montagu, whose husband is an uncle of the Duke of Manchester, brings to mind another tragedy in British high life over thirty years ago, known as the Kent murder. Florence Kent, through a mixed inspiration of insanity and malignity, killed a little child related to her and attempted to conceal the body. She was a cousin of Queen Victoria, and royal influence was, no doubt, potent in saving her from an ignominous death. The only English nobleman recorded as having suffered the penalty of murder—apart from any political charge was the Earl of Ferrers. The Earl killed his steward in a fit of passion and was hanged at Tyburn with a silken cord.

The Times pronounces the manifestation of public respect and affection in the Tabernacle and the streets adjacent on the occasion of Mr. Spurgeon's death as striking and impressive as that which did honor to the memory of Cardinal Manning. This is certainly not to be wondered at. Although Mr. Spurgeon belonged to a denomination of which the numerical strength in England is restricted, compared with some others of even the unestablished churches, he was in a sense the representative of what is wont to be called Evangelical Protestantism, and as such had many admirers beyond the limits of Baptist nonconformity. But, as those who reverently bowed their heads as they passed the holy ground where the Cardinal's remains had been laid were not all of the dead ecclesiastic's creed, so neither was it as the spokesman of any sect or school that his fellow-citizens did honor to Mr. Spurgeon's memory. Conspicuous among the crowds of mourners both of the prince of the church and the preacher of the gospel were the poor whom they had both befriended.

DAY after day the evidence accumulates that the "Myrtle Navy" is the people's favorite tobacco. The demand keeps increasing, and from every new circle of consumers who have been induced to try it the evidence is emphatic in its favor. Its genuine qualities always hold the friends they have once made. These qualities will be kept up to their full standard by the manufacturers of it. It is to these qualities and the reasonableness of the price that they attribute their marked success. To the quality they will adhere at all cost, and also to the price if that be possible. ....
