

Tobacco Chewers Among Women.

A well-known physician, while walking down the street with a friend, remarked, a patient of mine lives in that house who is dying—an idolized wife—beyond all help, and tobacco chewing has killed her. Why, Doctor, what do you mean? I mean this: her hand is literally steeped in tobacco juice, and the insensible perspiration from his body has become so saturated with nicotine as to be a deadly poison. His wife, before I was called, had absorbed enough of the poison so that no human power could save her; and even he will, I believe, and his days in torture from some form of skin disease. The skin is really the most wonderful and important organ of the human body. Night and day, every hour of our lives, it is filtering out from the blood acids or poisonous debris. If it stopped work even for twenty-four hours in this or any case, death would ensue. You can imagine, then, what it means for a delicate, sensitive-skinned woman to sleep in a warm bed night after night with an inveterate tobacco chewer. The skin and mucous membrane of some persons is much more sensitive than others. A person who in summer is subject to hay fever, tanned or burned skin, in winter to colds, bronchitis, chapped hands or chilblains, ought always (whether at home or traveling) to keep a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Lintment near at hand. Dilute the lintment with water and gently bathe, or moisten a cloth with it and lay upon the irritated skin if very sensitive; then wash it clean in the morning with Castile soap and water. If a person who takes cold quickly, or is predisposed to bronchitis or catarrh, or exposed to any poison, irritating to the skin or mucous surfaces, which might tend to cause consumption, will every night, before retiring, bathe the chest and throat with Johnson's Anodyne Lintment, and, before dressing in the morning, rub the whole body smartly with a coarse towel, slightly dampened, and then wipe dry, we believe they never would have pulmonary troubles or disease from defective working of the skin. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass., will send a pamphlet free, describing other uses for this old household remedy, now eighty years old.

Odds and Jots.

To be a Christian in the church, but a pirate in the store, is a contradiction in terms, says the S. S. Times. Do not take the yardstick of your own ignorance to measure what the ancients knew, and call everything which you do not know lies. Do not call things untrue because they are marvellous, but give them a fair consideration.—Wendell Phillips. Kind words produce their image in men's souls, and a beautiful image it is. They soothe and quiet and comfort the hearer. They shame him out of his sour, morose unkind feelings. We have not yet begun to use kind words in such abundance as they ought to be used.

Our Work.

Let us be content in work, To do the thing we'll do, and not presume To fret because it's little. 'Twill employ Seven men, they say, to make a perfect pin; Who makes the head, content to miss the point, Who makes the point, agrees to leave the joint; And if a man should say, "I want a pin, And I must make it straightaway, head and point." His wisdom is not worth the pin he wants. Seven men to a pin—and not a man too much! Seven generations, happily, to this world, To right it visibly a finger's breadth, And mend its rents a little. —E. B. Browning.

MAKES FRESH AND BLOOD.

When the system is all run and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact, Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life," and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles 50c, and $1 at Charlottetown drug stores.

I FEEL BUOYANT

"Am happy to say that results so far are satisfactory as I could expect. I am enjoying excellent health, appetite good, sleep sweet and refreshing, gaining flesh; am less nervous than I have been for years; feel bright and buoyant." It is almost miraculous, making a young man out of one of seventy, for that is just what your treatment is doing for me. I wish the community to know in as modest a way as we can get at it.
