Kensington Elders Ordained

During the past Sunday evening service of worship in the Kensington Presbyterian Church the historic rite of ordination to the office of Elder in the Church was granted to two recently elected Elders.

The minister of the congregation, the Rev. E. H. Bean, addressed the constitutional questions to the Elders elect and those being answered in a satisfactory manner, proceeded with the service of ordination. Following the ordination and singing of the formula, the newly elected Elders, Mr. Charles Kennedy and Mr. Boyd Bearstow, were extended the right hand of fellowship by the Moderator of the Session and the members of the Session associated with him during the ordination service.

In the course of his sermon, Mr. Bean reminded the newly ordained Elders that no higher honor could be bestowed on a man by his congregation than that which has been granted them, namely being raised to the office of Elder. He pointed out that the office of Elder traces its origin back to the Old Testament Church prior to the days of Moses and from that time on the church had not been without the office of Elder and that in all of Scripture the office of Elder is counted worthy of the greatest respect and honor.
