

I. Teachers' Federation Art Contest

The results have been announced by the E. I. Teachers' Federation of the Art Contest held throughout our schools previous to the Education Week.

Miss Eleanor Lowe, Director of Art, Prince of Wales College, kindly arranged the rules of the contest and acted as judge. Asking Miss Lowe to comment on the work entered she said: "The work of judging was difficult in the Primary and Intermediate groups by the large number of groups of a consistently high quality. The winning entries were finally chosen for their freshness and originality, as well as for their lively composition and coloring. The entries in the senior groups were fewer in number but of a high quality." Miss Lowe remarked on both the quantity and quality of the work submitted as compared to that of a few years ago, when the plan was first put into operation with the idea of stimulating work in our schools.

She would like to commend, particularly, the rural teachers, for they carry on work of this sort often under great handicaps, shortage of time, and scarcity of material. The following is a list of the prize winners.

Two Women On Jelks Jury

NEW YORK (AP)—Two women finally made the jury Tuesday at the cafe society vice retrial of Mickey Jelks.

There were no women jurors at Jelks' first trial in 1953.

Both women took their seats despite a warning by the State that "some of the testimony which will be adduced here might be embarrassing to you."

Three men also were selected during the day. They brought to eight the number of persons in the jury box at the close of the second trial day.

Mrs. Annie Johnson, English-born with a married daughter, was the first woman selected. She was joined later by Mrs. Marie C. Toland, middle-aged Western Union telegrapher and mother of a 21-year-old son.

By Mrs. Leigh Vessey, Mrs. Robert Chappell and Mrs. W. D. Cooke.

Mrs. Sproule read letters from three missionaries, Miss Violet Stewart and Dr. Florence Murray, Korea, and Miss Dulcie Cooke Japan, all giving thanks for parcels received.

The business period opened with the minutes and roll call responded to with a verse of scripture. Mrs. Elmer Brown reported one box sent to Korea. Mrs. Sproule, delegate to Presbyterial, gave a very full report of the meetings. Plans were made for the World Day of Prayer meeting. It was decided to ask Pleasant Grove Auxiliary to join with us for this meeting. Twenty-one sick and shut-in call were reported. Meeting closed with benediction in unison. Refreshments were served and a social time enjoyed.

Amnesia Victim Marries Twice

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The case of a young woman described as an amnesia victim who left her husband and three children two years ago and later married another man, unfolded Tuesday.

Mrs. Stella Sullivan, police juvenile officer, said relatives identified the woman as Mrs. Marie Riddy Mangini, 26, who in 1953 left her family to seek work.

She didn't come back to San Jose until this week — and said she was married to James M. Neal, a cook in Boise, Idaho.

She was recognized by a bartender who recalled Mrs. Sullivan. The juvenile officer had handled the placement of her children, ranging in age from one to six years when their mother left them.

Mrs. Sullivan reported Mrs. Ada Neal as her daughter. Tuesday night, after seeing pictures of her three children and having previous events described by her family, Mrs. Mangini began recalling some of her former identity.

She told a reporter her two chief worries were how to explain the situation to Neal, who was reported on route from Boise, and whether or not she would be permitted to regain custody of her children.

Mrs. Clark said her daughter had had two previous amnesia attacks.

City and Central Matsus Can Be Made Safe From Reds

Editor's Note: James A. Michener, author of "Tales of the South Pacific" and other stories of the Far East, describes a visit to the Communist-threatened Matsus islands off the Red China coast.

By JAMES A. MICHENER

THE MATSUS ISLANDS (Delayed)—President Eisenhower may soon have to decide whether to make a stand at the Matsus. Can they be defended? The Chinese Communists today have no capacity to launch anything but a sampan invasion, so for the time being the Matsus have a good chance.

My guess is that, with three weeks of concentrated digging, the Matsus will be able to withstand any surface invasion the Communists might launch.

WITHIN GUN RANGE

The Matsus can be shelled from the Red mainland. Any Communist gun with a range of 22,000 yards can bring five-sixths of the United States civil defence headquarters and adopted by Canada, a state official here said Tuesday night.

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—The states of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York will disregard the new air-raid signals announced by United States civil defence headquarters and adopted by Canada, a state official here said Tuesday night.

Instead the states will keep their present signals, said Thomas S. Dignan, deputy New Jersey director of civil defence and disaster control. "For the present and until further notice."

The new signals are:

1. Alert—warning tone for three five minutes.
2. Take cover—warning tone or short blasts for three minutes.
3. All clear—warning tone of long duration because of radioactive fallout danger.

New Jersey's signals are:

1. Alert—warning tone for three minutes.
2. All clear—three one-minute blasts with two-minute silence between each.

Dignan said New Jersey didn't go along with the national program because there would be so little time between the alert from the air force and the need to take cover.

Lovers Flee To The Desert

DAMASCUS (AP) — Two young couples fled to the Syrian desert Tuesday under protection of a band of hard-riding Bedouin tribesmen. The girl's father wants her returned but authorities were fearful of provoking a fight with the rugged protectors.

Officials identified the couple as Nicole Therese Poche, 18, daughter of Rodolphe L. M. Poche, honorary Dutch consul at Aleppo, Syria, and Rida Yamlika, 23, son of a retired Moslem judge, Zaki Yamlika.

Nicole and Rida eloped two weeks ago from Beirut, Lebanon, where they were being educated. After being married by a Moslem sheik, they applied to the Aleppo Moslem Sharia court to register the wedding and legalize it according to Syrian law. This permits a girl of 18 to marry without her parents' consent.

But Nicole's father filed suit to prevent legalization and to direct authorities to return his daughter to him. He claimed Dutch law applied and that it forbids a girl under 20 to marry without parents' consent.

Authorities ruled in favor of the father but before the decision the couple fled into the desert as guests of a Bedouin tribal chief.
