Former Islander Dies In Mass.

Percy L. Bell, 64, husband of Marguerite (Richard) Bell, was stricken with a heart attack at his home, 99 Overland Rd., Waltham, Mass., July 2, 1958, and was pronounced dead on arrival at Waltham Hospital. He had suffered from a heart condition for the past year. He was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, a son of John H. and Mary A. (Kerwin) Bell, and had lived in Waltham for the past 18 years. He was a carpenter, retiring last November. He belonged to the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, the Carpenters District Council, AFL-CIO, of Newton, the Canadian Legion and the McGill Battery of Montreal. Besides his wife, he leaves five brothers, Dr. John P. Bell of Baltimore, Md., and Joseph, Russell, Reginald and Clyde, all of Charlottetown, P.E.I., and four sisters, Mrs. Chester Driscoll of Milton, Mrs. Jane Webb of Montreal, Mrs. Maude Morse of Snohomish, Wash., and Mrs. Joseph Corrigan of Charlottetown.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the Joyce Funeral Home, 532 Main St., with a Solemn Mass of Requiem at St. Mary's Church at 9 o'clock. Burial in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery, in Waltham. The following attended the funeral: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell, Mrs. Wilfred MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bell and Mrs. Joseph B. Corrigan.

Island Fishermen Borrow Second Largest Amount

OTTAWA (Special) — Prince Edward Island fishermen have borrowed the second largest amount under the Fishermen's Small Loans Act since it was proclaimed in 1955, the Commons standing committee on marine and fisheries was told Friday.

The total in the three-year period was $101,813. British Columbia fishermen led the field with total borrowed of $203,336. Nova Scotia applied for loans having a value of $58,160 and Newfoundland, $1,240. The loans are acquired from banks and credit unions, with the federal government guaranteeing a portion of the loan. The information was given the committee by G. R. Clark, Deputy Fisheries Minister, in reply to question by H. J. Robichaud (Lib., Gloucester). The MP suggested the Act was "not too practical" since relatively few fishermen had taken advantage of the program, especially in the Atlantic Provinces.

Mr. Clark explained that the provincial boards supply loans for bigger projects, such as draggers and trawlers. The federal scheme is aimed at assisting those requiring smaller boats and equipment.

resentment as do members as a whole will remain for him to say when he comes here."

Mr. Diefenbaker added that "whatever answer he gives will be in keeping with the tradition that we are all Canadians."

Mr. Jung, born in Victoria B.C., is a lawyer and a Second World War veteran with cloak and dagger experience as an intelligence officer in the South Pacific war sector.

He was first elected June 10, 1957, beating former Liberal defence minister Campbell. The day's sitting brought these other developments:

1. Prime Minister Diefenbaker said President Eisenhower promised favorable American consideration to lifting penalty liabilities against American parent companies of Canadian subsidiaries exporting to Communist China.

2. The Commons approved a preliminary resolution on a series of income tax changes announced in the budget, including one to permit the taxfree gift of $10,000 in real estate between husband and wife, or farmer and child, once in a taxpayer's lifetime.

3. Trade Minister Churchill said wheat exports will top the 300,000,000 bushel target in the crop year ending July 31. Exports in the 1956-57 year were 261,800,000.

4. There were strong reports the government plans to add Friday night and Saturday sittings to the Commons schedule in a move to speed up sessional work.

5. The Commons would expand the Commons work week to 33 hours from 25½. Addition of Saturday sittings normally is not done until late in a session, but at present Commons committees are active in week day hours when the Commons isn't sitting.

SEA CADETS RETURN FROM TRAINING

This cheerful group of Sea Cadets, members of R.C.S.C.C. Kent Charlottetown, proudly display the trophy they were awarded as winners of whaler class rowing competition held during a two-week summer training camp at H.M.C.S. Acadia, Sydney. Taking the stroke from coxswain Wayne Doyle, the Kent crew proved too strong for the several other Maritime crews in the race. Included in the group which returned to Charlottetown last night were (left to right) FRONT RANK—Terrance Mahar, Wayne Coyle, Richard Chinery, John McInnis, Garry Chipman; REAR RANK—James Lawlor, Edward Reeves, Roy Doiron, Alfred Doiron, Kenneth MacDonald. (Elmo Whalen is missing from the picture). In all 700 Sea Cadets from various Maritime centres attended H.M.C.S. Acadia, the largest sea cadet camp in Canada.

Potato Exports Via CNR Up 516 Cars In June This Year

Averaging almost 30 cars a day the CNR ferries plying the Strait between Borden and Tormentine in June this year hauled a total of 516 carloads of potatoes out of this Province, 516 more than was shipped over this route during the same month last year.

This item accounted for the greater part of the increase in exports forwarded via the CNR which in all amounted to 1,156 cars, an increase of 492 over June 1957.

Goods imported via this route also showed an appreciable increase in June this year, inward carloads totalling 1,645 as opposed to only 1,307 in June last year.

In the list of goods imported several significant changes appear. For instance, in June this year Islanders imported 14 more carloads of automobiles, 35 more carloads of flour and feed, 41 alternative of purchasing salt bulk fish from St. Pierre fishermen at an equivalent price of eight cents a pound.

"Because of this the unscraped St. Pierre fish plant is sending draggers to Newfoundland ports on the south coast... and buying fish from our Newfoundland fishermen at one and one half cents per pound."

CATCH IMPROVES Mr. Abbott also said fishing prospects along the south coast are "not too bright" but figures for the whole province show the catch to the end of June was better than the same period in 1957.

The federal fisheries department says Newfoundlanders processed 23,000 quintals of light salted fish and 30,000 quintals of heavy salted fish up to June 30, 1957. Figures for the same period this year were 50,000 and 75,000 quintals respectively. Each quintal equals 112 pounds.

Warm winter and spring weather enabled fishermen to take to their boats about a month earlier this season.

Prehistoric Men Still Existing? LONDON (Reuters) — Prehistoric men may still be living in remote mountain and desert regions of Asia, the Soviet news agency Tass reported Friday.

Shambling "ape-men" covered with sparse reddish-black hair, round-shouldered and bent-kneed, powerful jaws and low foreheads, have been reported in Central Mongolia, according to Russian scientist B. Porshev.

Quoting a Mongolian professor, Porshev said in the Soviet youth news paper Komsomolskaya Pravda that the ape-men have remained at the stage of animals in their development.

They could, however, be called Neanderthal only by their anatomical structure and not by their manner of living.

president of the Inter-provincial organization will preside. Mr. Cantwell is chief sanitary inspector for the Province of Prince Edward Island.

The Institute's executive include representatives of all the Atlantic Provinces - Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

At the same time local purchases brought in through Borden 25 carloads less of coal, 60 carloads less of fertilizer, 75 carloads less of stone, six carloads less of building material, and 14 carloads less of cans than they did in June 1958.

Expecting potatoes, only minor changes appeared in the export picture. Livestock shipments were 16 carloads ahead of June last year, meats, listed at 26 carloads for each year, showed no change, while turpentine shipments were down 20 cars, and egg shipments in June 1958 were two cars less than June 1957 when seven cars crossed via the CNR ferries.

Senator Farris said Friday night he is preparing a statement which probably will be issued today.

SAID DELEGATES BIASED Mr. Jung, 34, national president of the Young Progressive Conservative Association, had been quoted as saying that Canadian delegations to Russia are handicapped and "naturally biased" while Russian delegations here often can't see the people or places they wish to see.

Senator Farris, a senator for 21 years and a prominent corporation lawyer, ended his remarks with his abrupt reference to Mr. Jung's racial origin and his right to represent Canada.

Friday Mr. Pearson made his complaint without naming names. Speaker Roland Michener said he thought the question of privilege could not apply since the remark had been made in the Senate.

Mr. Pearson later made public the text of what he wanted to say. It said he is certain all MPs would read the Senate remark with "great regret and disapproval" and would want to dissociate themselves from "any remarks disparaging or questioning the unqualified right of a member of this House of Commons to represent the Canadian people whatever his racial origin might be."

The prime minister suggested postponing discussion until next week when Mr. Jung returns. "Whether he will find the same plenty of luggage on her Canadian tour, but she won't bring a mattress.

"We haven't heard a thing about it," officials of the government hospitality committee said Friday, commenting on reports published July 1 that the princess, favoring a lame back, would bring a special mattress.

The reports said the princess slipped and fell some years ago, causing a slight back injury. A check here, showed she suffered from acute fibrositis of the neck in July, 1948. There was no record of a back injury.

Reports of the special mattress caused a flurry among some officials in British Columbia, who wondered whether sleeping accommodation planned for the princess would have to be changed.

They can be reassured. The hospitality committee is looking after every detail of the visit, and if it knows nothing about a special mattress, it can be accepted there is none.

The princess is to arrive in Canada today by air from London.

"Thy Word is like a garden. Lord, With flowers bright and fair; And every one who seeks A lovely cluster there. Thy Word is like a deep, deep mine, And jewels rich and rare. Are hidden in its mighty depths. For every searcher there." It has been the mission of the Bible Society for more than a century and a half, to make the "flowers" and "jewels" of the Spirit, a reality to men and women of all races, in their own language. But even while we faced this, the Society was faced with the possibility of curtailment of its work, due to rising costs and diminishing funds. We help when we contribute through one of the Islands more than eighty branches and we also assist when we make a purchase at The Bible House, the profits of which are used to further the work.
