

THE DAILY EXAMINER. MAY 6, 1889.

Notes and Clippings.

We learn that the basin for a fountain on Queen Square is to be constructed forthwith. By the way, what about that fence?

The Ottawa Citizen aptly says that Mr. Davies, M. P., "does not seem to have any hesitation in expressing his opinion, whether he has any acquaintance with the subject or not."

It is stated that a law has been recently passed in Waldeck, Germany, forbidding the granting of a marriage license to a person addicted to the liquor habit. When will our legislators take the hint?

Seven States—namely, Michigan, Texas, Tennessee, Oregon, West Virginia, New Hampshire and Massachusetts—have, within a comparatively short period, voted on the question of Constitutional Prohibition, and decided adversely to such prohibition. The decision is not against temperance, but against this mode of promoting the cause.

The telegrams of Saturday contained the following item:

"The net debt of Canada decreased $335,000 during the last month. The surplus of revenue over expenditure for the ten months ended April 13th was $5,000,000.

This item did not appear in the Patriot. It was deliberately suppressed by that eminently fair and impartial organ of public opinion.

Act like a gentleman in the following matter: You have an undoubted right to stop a newspaper when you feel disposed, upon payment of all arrearsages. Do not hesitate to do so on account of "tenderness" for the editor. Don't you suppose he would quit buying sugar of you, or meat, clothing, dry goods, etc., if he thought he was not getting his money's worth, and why should you not exercise the same privilege with him? And when you discontinue a paper, do so manfully. Don't be so spiteful as to throw it back to the postmaster with a contemptuous "I don't want it any longer!" and have "refused" written on the margin, and have the paper returned to the editor. No gentleman ever stopped it in that way, no matter if his head is covered with gray hairs that should be honorable. If you do not longer wish to receive a newspaper write a note to the editor like a man, saying so—and be sure that arrearsages are paid. This is the way to stop a newspaper—like a gentleman.

The Exponent remarks that the world is made up of all kinds of people, with different tastes and ideas. But there is one class that seems to be largely in the majority—the grumblers and growlers—those who are never satisfied; who talk much and do little. With them nothing is done right, everything is going to ruin. They have lots of time for precept, but little for practice. They are little good to themselves or anybody else. There is another class, much less in number than the first, who talk little and do much. They can always see the bright side of every cloud; can see the good in every person they meet, and are always ready to give a good word for, and lend a helping hand to any enterprise that has the dimmest chances of success. They cast a flood of sunshine upon all around them. We love to meet them. We would that all were in the latter class. How smoothly every thing would move. Such will be the state of affairs, no doubt, until the end of time, and we have to do the best we can under the circumstances. Stop complaining and get to work.

The following statements have been made by eminent men and are said to be well authenticated—"The entire quantity of rum sent from Boston to Africa during the last six years has been 4,138,284 gallons; an average of two thirds of a million gallons annually. A firm within three miles of Boston is under contract to furnish three thousand gallons of liquor a day, for the next seven years, for exportation to Africa. Three thousand gallons a day of 'distilled damnation' to deepen the sins and sorrows of the dark continent! Tell it not to Mahomedans and Buddhists that Christian people can enact or tolerate such atrocious deeds, or the name of Christianity may be stamped with disgrace and consigned to infamy. The traffic is bad enough at home, but words fail to describe the villainy and enormity of this evil in its relation to advancing civilization. Another fact has great significance. The great powers of Europe desired to unite some time ago in an arrangement to prohibit the export of dynamite, firearms and liquor into Africa. The only country that objected to the league, thereby putting an arrest on a beneficent movement, was the United States. May we not hope that the Christianity of the republic will seek to remove that dark blot from its national escutcheon?"

Missionary Anniversary.

The Young People's Missionary Meeting in connection with the Second Methodist Church was held last evening (5th inst.) and proved to be a decided success. The service throughout was one of deep interest, and evidently had the effect of enlisting more fully the best connections and sympathies of the large congregation present, on behalf of the great enterprise of Christian missions. The remarks of Mr. John Henry, (Chairman), Mr. Full and Mr. R. Goff were exceedingly appropriate, touching as they did some of the finest aspects of the missionary movement as it exists today. The various members of the school acquitted themselves admirably, adding very much to the interest and success of the meeting. The report was read by Mr. Enman. The Secretary stated that there are 400 names on the school roll, 345 volumes in the library, and that the amount raised for missions by the school for the present year is $156, showing a slight advance on previous year. The holding of this important service on the evening of the Lord's Day, instead of on the usual week evening, was a decided improvement and the committee of management deserve the thanks of all for the change in this particular.—Cous.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Y. M. C. A.

SIR,—On going into the Reading Room of the Y. M. C. A., one cannot help being struck with the good order and excellent arrangements that have been introduced by Mr. R. M. Barrett, since he has taken charge, and the general opinion seems to point to the fact that he is the right man in the right place.

His extreme quietness, sense of order and business-like method of arranging everything, have been a complete comfort to those who have been frequenting the Reading Room for the last three months, and the opinion is general that he is much better fitted for the position than a younger man could possibly be.

In view of this fact, I hope that he will be permanently appointed, with a due regard to the comfort of

Yours, STUDENT.

Dog Nuisance.

SIR,—In St. Matthews Gospel, 7-12, we read: "Therefore, all things whatsoever ye would, that men should do unto you, do ye even so to them."

I am living in the midst of a kind neighborhood and I feel assured that if my friends knew all the annoyances to which I am subjected in spring and summer by troops of dogs at night and early morning racing through my grounds and garden, destroying flowers and beds newly planted, they would surely chain or shut them up and prevent their destruction. 'Tis true, I might have concealed traps or spring guns in my grounds and injure these animals, but as they are not to blame it would be unjust and cruel to them. As the remedy rests with the owner, I appeal to them to prevent this injury, by keeping their canine pets chained or shut up at night and early morning.

It was only at dawn this very day that ten or twelve of these animals, as I was told, congregated within my fence, raced and gambolled through flower and other beds, and you can easily judge of the havoc they were causing until they were discovered and driven out.

Other persons having gardens in the city loudly complain of this nuisance, as well as one of Thomas Howatt, frequenting disorderly house, $10 or 20 days.

William Curbeck, drunk and breaking windows in the House of Mrs. John McKay, Grafton Street, $90 or 90 days.

John Coyle, drunk, remanded until tomorrow.

After the regular business of the Court was over, his Honor, as a Justice of the Peace for the Island, enquired into the case of Joseph McKenna and Peter Conlan, two young men charged with being the principals in a bare-knuckle fight that took place on the night of Monday, 29th April, in a field on the Malpeque Road, outside the city limits. Several witnesses were examined. Their testimony was to the effect that the fight took place as alleged, that it was a sort of a go-as-you-please affair, with neither seconds nor backers, and that Conlan was knocked out by a blow on the ribs. His Honor fined the "pugs" $10 each, and dismissed a young man charged with taking a hand in the proceedings after the fight was started.

Challenge to the Island. Citizens. Attention!

PURE WATER.

I HAVE this day deposited One Hundred Dollars ($100) in Mr. P. P. Gillis's hands to trot my Bay Horse DREADNOT against any Stallion, Mare or Gelding on the Island, for Three Hundred Dollars a side, on any suitable track on the Island, the race to take place any time before the 1st of October, and to be mile heats, best three in five, to harness, and the winner to take the gate money. This challenge will be left open for ten days. I hope some one will cover my money, and then I will show the people whether Dreadnot can trot or not.

Having engaged the services of a man who will devote his time to the FITTING UP OF WATER PIPES in Houses, I would respectfully solicit a share of your patronage. All work entrusted to me will be done both cheap and satisfactory. A large supply of PIPES, FAUCETS, etc., always in stock, and prompt attention given to orders.
