Prominent City Barrister J. A. (Gus) Macdonald Dies

J. Augustine Macdonald, QC, prominent Charlottetown barrister, died early Wednesday morning following an illness of several months. He was 74 years old. The late Mr. Macdonald was admitted to the bar of Prince Edward Island in 1919 and continued his law practice in the Island capital ever since. For a time he was associated with the late H.F. MacPhee in the firm of Macdonald and MacPhee. Following the termination of this partnership, he established an office of his own and continued work in the legal profession until some months ago when illness forced his retirement. He twice represented the Queen in the provincial legislature as a Conservative member, from 1923 to 1927 and from 1931 to 1935. He served under Premier J.D. Stewart and Premier W.J.P. MacMillan. At the time of his death, Mr. Macdonald was secretary of The Liquor Control Commission for Prince Edward Island. Two daughters survive. They are Mrs. C.R. McQuaid, Greenfield Ave., Charlottetown and Pauline, Mrs. Charles Campbell, West St., Charlottetown. His wife, the former Nellie Morgan, predeceased him in 1944. His remains are resting at the residence of his son-in-law, C.R. McQuaid, 31 3/2nd Ave., from where the funeral will be held Friday morning. Requiem High Mass will be celebrated at The Church of The Most Holy Redeemer at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in the Catholic cemetery.

Hurry Guernsey Herd Maintains Top Record

The Guernsey herd of J. Eric Hurry, Winsloe, is maintaining its most unusual record of production with the announcement that his cow, Patosie Dorraine's Lassie, has been announced the highest Guernsey milk lifetime producer of milk ever recorded in the Maritime Provinces. The outstanding recognition came to the Hurry cow on the completion of her last official record which in 305 days (twice-a-day milking) the 15-year-old cow totalled 13,216 pounds milk, 634 butterfat with breed class averages (a comparison of cows in her class cross the country) of 174 milk, 167 butterfat. Patosie Dorraine's Lassie continued without interruption to produce for 306 days producing a total of 26,332 milk, 1770 fat, which brought her total lifetime recorded production to 140,612 lbs. of milk and 6,473 lbs. of butterfat, which places her first among Maritime Guernseys for lifetime milk production. She has been awarded a Diamond Medal Certificate with a seal by the Canadian Guernsey Breeders Association in recognition of her achievement. Mr. Hurry told The Guardian yesterday he has been told the continuous milking of more than 1,000 days will also likely constitute a record in itself. The story of the long lactation is interesting in itself. Mr. Hurry had been unable to get the cow settled when he was breeding her through an artificial insemination unit, and was told by some veterinarians that she would not settle (get with calf). But Mr. Hurry finally bred her to one of his own bulls and she settled PLACES THIRD among the all time great Maritime Guernsey lifetime butterfat producers. The highest in this department is Beaverwood Gem, owned by the Estate of Walter West, Irishworth, N.B., who has produced 135,576 milk, 7,677 fat in 10 lactations and by Patosie Rosie, a former stablemate at Rosalie Farms, who produced 126,425 milk, 6,671 fat in 12 lactations. "Lassie's" biggest record in 365 days was made at eight years of age when she produced 13,222 milk, 801 fat on 3x milking. Her longest 305-day record was made at 10 years of age when she produced 14,558 milk, 658 fat on 2x milking. "Lassie" has also achieved distinction in the show ring. She won the ROP class at the now extinct Maritime Winter Fair in 1955. She was first Aged Cow in milk, senior and grand champion at Charlottetown in 1956 and as late as 1964 she was still being shown placing third in the aged dry cow class at Charlottetown. Not mentioned in the story from Canadian Guernsey headquarters is the fact that Mr. Hurry produced another great cow, Patosie Patricia, some years ago that stood second in the all time Canadian honor roll for butterfat production for many years. Patricia's best record was the 19,342 pounds milk, 928 fat she produced as a 10-year-old cow. She had other records of more than 18,000 milk, 871 fat and of 16,000 milk and slightly more than 800 pounds fat when she was a bit younger. Unfortunately Mr. Hurry lost Patricia before she reached an age where she could have qualified for a lifetime production record. Dorraine's Lassie, by the way, used to be fined $30 and costs on a similar charge; one was fined $30 and costs on each of two charges of intoxication; and seven persons were each fined $20 and costs for illegal possession of liquor.

J. ERIC HURRY

will freshen again in April and she will add to her lifetime production record which already is the best ever recorded for a Maritime cow. Mr. Hurry was president of the Canadian Guernsey Breeders Association in 1964 and presided over the annual meeting held in Charlottetown in July at which time he was elected an honorary life member of that association. He is one of the island's most active Guernsey breeders and he is secretary-treasurer of the provincial Guernsey breeders association.

Place Of Monarchy Outlined To St. Paul's Laymen's Ass'n

DeBlois presided. The sing song was conducted by George Smith with George A. Thompson at the piano. PLACE OF MONARCHY Dr. MacKinnon gave an address based on the theme "The place of the Monarchy in our Government" and drew parallels with other countries outside the Commonwealth which do not have this type of constitutional government where the "Pomp and Power" are split between the monarch (or governor general or lieutenant-governor) and the prime minister (or provincial premier). He gave three reasons, which he later developed, for the place of the monarchy in government; first, the decorative side with its pomp and pageantry; secondly, its use in times of emergency; and thirdly, and most important, the part it plays to see that democracy operates as such within our country. The speaker went on to say that in Canada is re-elected through the governor general and the 10 lieutenant-governors and the cost of having these 11 representatives of the crown is only two cents for each Canadian per year. He pointed out that the prime minister of Canada and the premiers of the provinces are all

Variety Show Opens MRHS Ice Carnival

MONTAGUE — The Montague Regional High School Winter Carnival will get off to a rousing start this evening with a variety concert featuring both students and teachers. In past years concerts of this type have drawn capacity crowds and predictions to date forecast no changes. During the concert contestants for queen of the carnival will be introduced to the audience. Preceding the concert, there will be a torchlight parade through the streets of Montague. Friday's festivities start with a broomball game between the boys and the teachers. The boys plan a sweeping victory; but the teachers are expected to put up a good fight. Following this, there will be a relay race with students pulling their home room teachers on toboggans in what should prove to be an exciting race. At seven that night an all-star high school team plays an exhibition game with Summerside High School. A dance follows with music by the Continentals and the coronation of the carnival queen. Teams from Charlottetown, Morell, Souris and Montague will participate in the daylong basketball tournament on Saturday. Trophies will be awarded at the record hop following the tournament that evening. In the afternoon there are two curling games planned with rinks from Summerside and Souris playing the Montague boys and girls' teams. A cookout and hotcandy follow the curling game. Throughout the three days there will be skating at the rink sponsored by the student's council.

Grower Organizations Urged As Aid To Strawberry Market

Development of grower organizations is a vital link in any attempt to market Island strawberries. L. W. G. Lippert of Halifax said yesterday. Speaking at a one-day short course for strawberry growers at the Vocational Institute, Malpeque Road, Mr. Lippert, food products officer of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council, said irregular picking and fluctuating selling prices are the products of marketing on an individual basis. In order to capture a portion of the Canadian strawberry market, Island growers must grow more early varieties; supply more berries for the province's own fresh market during the normal production period; and grow more late maturing berries to supply other early producing areas. He also suggested islanders should expand their advertising and promotional efforts aimed at increasing berry consumption. Pointing out that last year the strawberry crop averaged approximately $300 per acre in the province, he said strawberry production offered island farmers one of the best opportunities for a high level cash crop. Other speakers included J.A. Cutcliffe, Dr. Carl Willis, Dr. L. Thompson, W.E. Sierra, all of the Canada department of agriculture, Charlottetown; Dr. C.L. Craig, Kentville, N.S.; George Wright, manager P.E.I. Frosted Foods. The short course is sponsored by the Frosted Foods plant and the P.E.I. department of agriculture.

Huge Children's Hospital Still Unable To Meet Needs

TORONTO (CP) — North America's biggest children's hospital, made bigger with a bright new wing just last year, is being forced to expand again to meet a mounting clamor for more space. The Toronto Hospital for Sick Children, healing centre for almost 30,000 youngsters a year and school for most of Canada's pediatricians, has announced plans to grow by almost one-third if private and public donors help foot a $30,000,000 bill. Since the hospital opened on its present University Avenue site in 1951, Director John Law said at a press conference: —Bed patients admitted annually from across Canada, the United States and elsewhere have increased by more than 60 per cent to 26,357 admissions last year, a projected 29,275 this year. —Out-patient treatments have grown by 35 per cent to about 115,000 treatments a year. —Emergency cases have more than doubled to almost 45,000 a year. —Teaching obligations have about doubled to the point where the hospital gives brief pediatric training to about 120 general interns a year, in addition to the 60 doctors now engaged in four-year courses leading to accreditation as pediatric specialists. The new wing, opened last May, added 200 beds for a total of 800, provided spanking new surgical and research facilities and a modern emergency treatment unit. POSEPIDOU IN PAKISTAN KARACHI (AP) — French Premier Pompidou and Foreign Minister Couve de Murville landed at Karachi airport Friday for a three-day visit in Pakistan. Pompidou, the first French premier to come to Pakistan, was received by Pakistan's foreign minister, Z.A.
