One Divorce Cancels Two Marriages Rules Br. Court

LONDON (Reuters)—A British sorted out the matrimonial tangle of a British lord and his ex-wife who found after a succession of marriages that they were still short one divorce.

The court straightened out the long-stand mixup by ruling that a single divorce was enough to cancel two marriages of the marquess of Bath, 50, to the present Mrs. Daphne Fielding.

That leaves both the marquess and his ex-wife legally remarried for the third time each, to their present spouses, the court ruled after a series of legal calculations.

Cause of the complication was the fact that the marquess and his first wife married twice—once secretly and once in public—before getting a divorce last year.

The divorce, sought by the marchioness, specifically dissolved only the second marriage in 1927 and made no provision for the secret ceremony the two went through in 1926—secret because their parents then disapproved the match.

The second marriage,a gala society affair, was held after parental opposition was withdrawn.

The question whether they were legally divorced rose to haunt the marquess and his ex-wife this year after both had remarried.

Mrs. Fielding was turned down by a divorce court when she first asked to have the divorce extended to cover both marriages to the marquess.

But her appeal was granted in court today by a 2 to 1 majority of the three judges.

Broadly, the legal problem was whether a divorce cancels a marriage or a marriage ceremony.

Horses Saved

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., (AP)—A mysterious fire Wednesday destroyed two barns and seriously damaged a third at the Saratoga race track amid circumstances that led officials to suspect arson. All of the horses, totalling about 22, were saved.

The fire was the second at the famous thoroughbred racing plant within 14 hours. A frame barn in a training track area was burned to the ground Tuesday night. No horses were injured .

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Norman Matheson who passed away July 26, 1953.

Many a lonely heartache
Often a silent tear,
Many a beautiful memory
Of one we loved so dear.

God gave us strength to bear it
And codrage to stand the blow,
But what it meant to lose her
No one will ever know.

Ever remembered by Annie, Heath and Deborah.

In loving remembrance of Patrick J. MacInnis who departed this life on July 28, 1953.
A husband and father, loving and kind
No friend like him on earth we'll find,
For each of us, he did his best,
May God grant him eternal rest.

Lovingly remembered by wife and family.

In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Albert H. Clow, Kingston, who passed away suddenly July 28th, 1945.

Little we knew when we awoke that morning,
The sorrow the day would bring;
The call was so sudden to part with
One we had loved so dear.
We wonder why you had to die
Without a chance to say good-bye.

There is someone who misses you sadly,
And thinks the time long since you left;
There is someone who weeps in silence
And grieves with sighs of regret;
For you were ours to remember,
When the rest are apt to forget.

Sadly missed by husband and family.

Her memory will never grow old.

Always remembered by Sister Sadie.

Strange But True

By F. B. MacArthur

Some dogs just sit by the fire and sleep. Others are hunters, watch dogs and what have you. Bingo, owned by Mrs. Marian Widden, of Tuscon, Arizona, is a pin-ball addict.

No one knows exactly how or why it began, but Bingo if he doesn't come when he's been called, is usually to be found playing a pinball machine.

In fact one time Mrs. Widden's 2-year-old granddaughter and Bingo could not be found. Their disappearance was broadcast over a radio station. The pair were discovered in a pin-ball parlor. The little girl was fast asleep in a chair, and Bingo was entertaining the patrons with his antics. Sitting patiently atop the machine he waited for a player to set the balls bouncing around under the glass cover. Then Bingo leaps and cavorts as long as the balls are in motion.

Tests show that it takes an average of five number 4 pellets to kill a wild duck. Of course head shots are exceptions and only one such pellet can do the job.

The most acid of all foods we eat is the oyster.

Where did we get that phrase, "There's nothing new under the sun?"

From the old Testament, which says, "That which hath been is the same which will be; and that which hath been done is the same which will be done; and there is nothing new under the sun."

The world's best hydrometer — an instrument that records humidity — is built around a few strands of human hair and their unusual ability to react to moisture hence the human body is better able to react to temperature changes than any man-made machine.

Gov't. Helps Protect Ottawa Green Belt

OTTAWA. (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent announced in the Commons Wednesday a government move to help preserve the projected green belt around Ottawa.

He said Central Mortgage and Housing Corp., the government's housing agency, will not be permitted to provide any financial assistance for home construction or land development in the green belt area.

He said a Commons-Senate committee will be established at the next session of Parliament to study development of the National Capital Plan, designed to make Ottawa and the surrounding area more attractive.

Armed Burglars Lectured On Psychology Of Crime

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Three gunmen invaded a businessman's home, fruitlessly sought a safe for 45 minutes, tied up four members of the family and two neighbor boys, and fled afoot after getting a lecture on morals. They got no money.

The gunmen, neatly dressed and wearing sunglasses, entered the home of J. Gordon Cook, an auto accessories dealer, at 11 a.m. Monday, police reported.

Cook's daughter, Mary Luanne Cook, 20, a philosphy student, coolly questioned one intruder who held her at gunpoint, asking:

"There are nine types of criminals — which are you? I mean, are you a professional or just an amateur?"

"I'm going to have a nice home like this some day."

"Not at the rate you're going," Miss Cook replied.

"I come from the wrong side of the tracks," he said.

"That's a minor cause of criminality," Miss Cook said.

Miss Cook then lectured the intruder on moral and religious scruples, and on the evils of crime.

Cook told the men he had no safe in his home. He said later he had not taken home receipts from his store for many years.

T.U.C. Takes Steps To Avoid Big Strikes

LONDON (Reuters)—Leaders of Britain's main labor federation, the giant Trades Union Congress, said Wednesday they would take action to prevent future nationwide strikes of the type that have hurt the country's economy and irritated the public in the last year.

The general council of the 8,000,000-member TUC decided to seek powers from the general membership to step in to help solve disputes before union-management negotiations reach the breakdown point. It expects to get them approved at the organization's annual congress in September.

Names of the horses killed were not known.
