Bank Bandit Takes Life

BURLINGTON, Ont. (CP)—Police said a 24-year-old bandit shot and killed himself after wounding a provincial police constable in a bank holdup here.

The bandit shot and wounded Const. William Tuskas while escaping from the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce with $3,000.

Police identified the holdup man as Morris Robertson of Burlington. They said he shot himself as police closed in on him.

Slanted Texts Blamed In Que.

By RON LEBEL

SHERBROOKE, Que. (CP)—Slanted textbooks on Canadian history and the religious division in the school system contribute to a perpetuation of the "two solitudes" in Quebec, the royal commission on biculturalism was told here.

The consensus at an informal meeting attended by 350 community leaders and students at the University of Sherbrooke was that the French- and English - speaking groups in the Eastern Townships have very few cultural and social relations.

Many participants suggested that more factual and objective history textbooks are needed in both languages to dispel misunderstandings.

The meeting, attended by Commission Co - Chairman André Laurendeau, was held simultaneously with a similar gathering in Trois - Rivieres, Que., attended by Co-Chairman Davidson Dunton. They were the first of a series of informal regional meetings preceding the start of public hearings in the fall.

Mr. Laurendeau said in an opening statement that the meeting of the whole inquiry is to find new conditions under which the two main language groups will agree to live together in a spirit of understanding.

Mr. Dunton said in Trois Rivieres these informal regional meetings are "something rather new" for royal commissions. At them the commission was attempting to sit in on discussions among all sorts of Canadians rather than hear formal briefs.

Some 150 people attended the Trois-Rivieres meeting.

FEDERATION

Dairymen's Association is planned for Wednesday, April 8 at the Charlottetown Hotel starting at 10.30 a.m. in the morning and continuing through the day to the evening with the usual banquet Guest speaker will be H.C. MacCallum, manager of the Canadian Dairy Foods Service Bureau. A program of entertainment is being arranged, and prizes will be presented for excellence in dairy work. During the business sessions the state of the industry will be examined and the activities of the association during the past will be reported on.

EDUCATION CONFERENCE

Planning for the April 15 conference on Agricultural Education is now underway. Persons expected to take part and from outside the province are Jack Johnson of the CBC Halifax, Dr. W.A. Jenkins of the Nova Scotia department of agriculture and R. Alex Simm, Ottawa, a special consultant to ARDA. Dave Rogers is expected to discuss the state of agricultural extension and Rev. Father E.J. Roche to give the key note address. Panels representative of such groups as farmers, farm women, high school principals, and young people are also being arranged.

The objective of the effort is, of course, to get a representative cross section of opinion on the needs in agricultural education and how these needs be best made.

FARM MEETINGS

Farm management meetings are scheduled at Vernon Bridge School Tuesday, March 24 at 8 p.m. and DeSable school Thursday March 26 at 8 p.m. At both meetings farm machinery will be the topic for discussion. Attendance at those meetings will be a profitable experience.

FARM FORUM

Last Monday evening was the final discussion night on Farm Forum with the topic being "The Canada Pension Plan". The final program this coming Monday will consist of a report from the national secretary and the provincial secretaries. While it has not been a very active season this year, yet there are certainly worthwhile values apparent in relation to the small investment financially. For this season the concluding act in the play will be the national conference which takes place in Truro in June.

VISITS KUWAIT

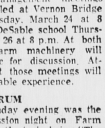
AMMAN (AP)—King Hussein of Jordan went to Kuwait Monday for a state visit. A palace statement said the Jordanian monarch, who returned Saturday from a four-day visit to the United Arab Republic, will spend three days in Kuwait.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

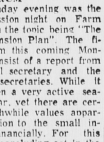
By B. JAY BECKER

QUIZ

1. You are declarer with the West hand at Six Diamonds. North leads the jack of hearts. How would you play the hand?



2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Hearts. North leads the queen of spades. How would you play the hand? (Assume that the trumps are divided either 2-2 or 3-1.)



1. With correct play, the contract is certain to make regard less of how the North - South cards are distributed. Win the heart with the king, draw two rounds of trumps, cash the ace of hearts, and then play a club.

If North follows low, play the eight. South is bound to provide the twelfth trick, whatever he returns after he wins the eight.

If North follows with the nine or ten of clubs, win it with the king, return to your hand with a diamond, and lead another club. If North follows low, finesse the jack, thus assuring the contract even if the finesse loses. If North produces the nine, ten or queen on the second club lead, twelve tricks are again certain.

2. Win the spade with the ace and draw the outstanding trumps. Then play a diamond (preferably the king, since either opponent may have the singleton queen). Assume that North wins with the ace, the play is that much simpler). Finesse the queen of clubs.

If the finesse wins, eleven tricks become certain by leading another diamond and forcing out the queen. But let's assume the finesse loses to the king. In that case South cannot afford a club return, which would simplify matters, so let's say he returns a spade.

Ruff it and force out the queen of diamonds. With both the A-Q of diamonds now gone, you can discard a club from dummy on your fourth diamond and thus guarantee the loss of no more than three tricks.

It would be wrong to attempt to make the contract by relying on diamond and club finesses. This method of play would fail against proper defense if it turned out that North had the A-Q of diamonds and South the K-J of clubs. The only way of insuring the contract is by attacking diamonds from your own hand, being willing to relinquish the possibility of finessing against the queen of that suit.

Quebec Spokesman Explains Restriction On Wood Export

QUEBEC (CP)—A lands and forests department spokesman said here a recent decision to encourage use of Quebec wood in Quebec lumber mills instead of shipping it to Ontario has been misunderstood.

The spokesman said a statement by Lucien Cliche, lands and forests minister, means that the department will require a cutter to get an export permit before shipping wood across the boundary to Ontario mills.

If the department feels the wood can be better used in the province, a permit will not be granted. Mr. Cliche's announcement was originally interpreted to mean a complete ban on exports.

The policy, announced March 3, is already bearing fruit in the government's bid to encourage industrialization here, a source said.

One major company said it plans to build a sawmill on the Quebec side of the boundary to work Quebec wood.

A law passed in 1956 permits the minister to require cutters to get an export permit before shipping. It had never been applied.

By applying it the government will be able to plan for further industrialization, the source said.

Consolidated Paper Company planned to build a mill in northwestern Quebec. It should be ready "fairly soon," he said.

Probably, the mill would require wood from Ontario as well as Quebec. At the same time, types of wood that Quebec could not use could be sent to Ontario.

"This way, a sort of balance will be achieved," the official said.

Quebec, up until now, exported some 25,000,000 board feet to Ontario sawmills each year. The new policy is to take effect when the fall cutting season begins.

Yesterday's Answer

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
