We understand that the Market Hall has been secured for the 27th inst., by the members of the Sodality of the Children of Mary, who intend holding a Strawberry Festival on the afternoon and evening of that day. The festival is in aid of Notre Dame Convent, than which we have no more deserving institution in the city. We hope to see this festival liberally patronized. On account of the Oddfellows entertainment on the 15th inst., Mr. Fraser, of the Halifax Institution for the blind, has been compelled to give up one of his entertainments here next week. There will now be but one concert, and that on the 17th inst. We trust our charitable people will give Mr. Fraser a full house. Next week we will publish some press extracts about the entertainment. Our advertisement will appear to-morrow. Mr. WILLIAM ABBOTT and bride left for Summerside by special train at six o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large number of the friends of the happy couple assembled at the station to wish them bon voyage. The rails were lined with torpedoes, which exploded as the train moved out of the station. Of "The Danites" which the Oddfellows produce June 15th, the New York Herald says:—"This great play possesses many points which appeal strongly to the feelings of an audience. Interest is sustained from the very outset, through a series of powerful and striking incidents until the end. This piece has earned recognition as the leading American play, on its merits alone. Miss Agnes Cody, in "Billy Piper," has a part which fits her like a glove, and her pliant, spirited, intelligent acting was an important feature of the entertainment. Everything will be done to make the production a grand success. Elegant music, written especially for the play, will be discoursed by the orchestra during the evening. AN inquest was held at Tignish yesterday afternoon on the body of the lad Welsh who was found dead on the railway track in the Tignish yard. Coroner Barclay presided. Several witnesses were examined. The following verdict was returned:—"We, the jury summoned to hold an inquest on the body of E. W. Welsh, found dead in the railway yard at Tignish, on the morning of June 9th, agree that the said Welsh was accidentally killed by being crushed between two cars in the railway yard at Tignish on the evening of the 8th. We further find that no blame is attached to the railway employes in connection with the accident, and recommend that the rules with regard to keeping boys off the track be strictly enforced." The boy was wounded on the left arm and right side. How he came to be between the cars has not yet been found, but it is supposed that he was endeavoring to board the car during shunting operations. His sad ending should be a warning to other lads who are in the habit of attempting to steal rides on moving trains. Queen Square Ticket-Sellers Song. O, Whear! O, Whear! is "Citizen" gone? O, Whear! THE PEOPLE SAY —That it is cruel to leave cattle on the wharves without food and water. —That even worse than the tramp is the anonymous "one who was there." —That the latest theory is that some of the planets are capable of absorbing colors. —That the indiscriminate throwing of rice at weddings is to be deprecated. —That it is tolerated only because it is "the custom of the country." —That the "Diamond Bookstore" was removed yesterday morning. —That it is now back to the old stand. —That the swinging sign nuisance is being suppressed by the swinging boot and shoe nuisance. —That both are insufferable. —That the trades procession has not failed. —That business was talked at last night's meeting. —That this is as it should be. —That the Caledonian Club medals are not yet forthcoming. —That the choir in a certain church is crowded somewhat during weddings. —That some consideration should be had for the members thereof. —That the rule relative to the removal of high hats should be enforced at weddings. —That it would be well for some ladies to make a note of the foregoing. —That the number of wedding presents on the rounds is extraordinary. —That they are all of rare excellence. —That the matrimonial epidemic has abated. —That it is expected to break out with renewed vigor in a few days.
