The Teacher
Who advised her pupils to strengthen their minds by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, appreciated the truth that bodily health is essential to mental vigor. For persons of delicate and feeble constitution, whether young or old, this medicine is remarkably beneficial. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla.
"Every spring and fall I take a number of bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and am greatly benefited."—Mrs. James H. Eastman, Stoneham, Mass.
"I have taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla with great benefit to my general health."—Miss Thirza L. Crear, Palmyra, Md.
"My daughter, twelve years of age, has suffered for the past year from General Debility.
A few weeks since, we began to give her Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Her health has greatly improved."—Mrs. Harriet H. Battles, South Chelmsford, Mass.
"About a year ago I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for debility and neuralgia resulting from malarial exposure in the army. I was in a very bad condition, but six bottles of the Sarsaparilla, with occasional doses of Ayer's Pills, have greatly improved my health. I am now able to work, and feel that I cannot say too much for your excellent remedies."—F. A. Pinkham, South Monmouth, Me.
"My daughter, sixteen years old, is using Ayer's Sarsaparilla with good effect."—Rev. S. J. Graham, United Brethren Church, Buckhannon, W. Va.
"I suffered from Nervous Prostration,
with lame back and headache, and have been much benefited by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I am now 80 years of age, and am satisfied that my present health and prolonged life are due to the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Lucy Moffitt, Killingly, Conn.
Mrs. Ann H. Farnsworth, a lady 79 years old, So. Woodstock, Vt., writes: "After several weeks' suffering from nervous prostration, I procured a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken half of it my usual health returned."

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.
OTTAWA LETTER.
Interesting Topics—Sketches in the House.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.
In the House yesterday the time was chiefly taken up with private bills and notices of motion.
The opposition to the Alberta Railway and Coal Company culminated in a vote of the House, which divided on the amendment of Watson, of Marquette—Yeas, 49; Nays, 97. The bill was then passed.
On the suggestion of Mr. Mulock, Sir John A. Macdonald said that it would be advisable to pass a general act regulating Loan and Distribution Companies; but it was not likely to come up this session.
On a second reading of a bill amending the act incorporating Queen's College, Kingston, some debate arose as to the constitutionality of the former act. It is likely to be pretty well discussed when the report of the Committee on Private Bills is received, for the Opposition appeared to intimate that the whole question of grants for educational purposes will be opened up, and this, of course, will include the Jesuits' estate matter of which so much is now said. Considerable feeling is felt here among the Orangemen respecting the non-interference of the Government in this matter. But the Opposition are blamed just as heartily; and, although a third party is talked of, it will doubtless fare like all such propositions, and justify the truth of the proverb, "Between two stools you come to the ground."
Sir Hector Langevin, in reply to a question of Mr. Perry, respecting the dredge Prince Edward, said the repairs had been completed at a cost of $12,693. The Minister was not prepared to say in what harbor the dredge would first commence work. There were several harbors claiming the services of the dredge, and those would be selected that were considered most pressing.
Several other notices of motion, respecting P. E. Island matters, were allowed to stand over.
After recess, Col. Amyot continued his speech, defending his conduct in the North west rebellion, and attacking the Minister of Militia, and made a very long speech to a very thin House. Sir Adolph Caron replied, defending the action of the Militia Department, and justifying his own conduct. He paid a high compliment to the worthy manner in which the officers and soldiers engaged in that campaign had borne themselves, and elicited cheers from the House when he said that if the necessity again arose, he had every confidence that Canadians, both French and English, would show an equally patriotic spirit. Mr. Laurier tried to make a point in favor of Col. Amyot, or rather tried to widen the gap between that gentleman and the Minister of Militia; but General Laurie, of Shelburne, healed the breach by describing the arduousness and necessity of the services Col. Amyot and the 9th Battalion performed, and so successfully soothed the galled honor of the French officer, that he withdrew his motion of censure.
It is said that Col. Amyot will, before long, return to his former friends, the Conservatives.
Sir Richard Cartwright will make a motion to-day, condemning the Government on their handling of the fishery question.
Influential delegations are asking the increase of the duty on pork and lard, and it is probable that the duty on these articles will be raised.
Sir John held out no encouragement to the millers who asked an increased duty on flour, but the lumbermen will likely get a rebate on the export duty on lumber.
The weather here is very fine, but cold. The frost makes ears and faces tingle, but the bright sunshine gives everything a pleasant look.
A murder in Lower Town, on Saturday morning, excited some interest, and two or three suspected parties have been arrested. Old Johnny, the lame newsboy, makes the air ring with his "Morning Citizen and Montreal Witness—all about the murder and coroner's inquest."
Among the members of the House of Commons, are many notable characters. I don't mean men like Sir John and the Ministers, Blake, Laurier and prominent members of the Opposition. Among the rank and file of the Conservatives, mention may be made of such men as Brown, of Hamilton, Clarke Wallace, Col. Denison, Dalton McCarthy—who, by the way, is seldom seen in his seat—Dr. Ferguson, of Welland, Sproule, W. Shanley, who looks like a fine old Irish gentleman, and Kirkpatrick. On the Opposition side, Casey, McMullen, Lister, Cook, of Simcoe, Dr. Wilson, of Elgin, and Mulock, often claim the attention of the House. Mr. Mulock is one of the richest men in Parliament, and has an income of $40,000 a year. Another millionaire is the celebrated Pat Purcell, who bought his way in at a cost, it is said, of $50,000. I was greatly surprised the other night, to see this Grit elevator of the "standard of purity," staggering in with his overcoat on, and gently feeling his way to his seat, where he slept the sleep of the "tired" for about half an hour. Anyone who is acquainted with Pat Cluney, of Carleton Place, would recognize a likeness between him and Purcell, especially when the latter awakens up with disordered looks and rubicund countenance, and endeavors to find out where he is. A good story is told of one occasion, when Mr. Purcell tried to prevent the member from Assiniboia from voting, by setting him drunk. In company with some others he adjourned to the restaurant of the House, and had several rounds of Scotch. Instead, however, of setting the North-west representative "over the bay," the member for Glengarry got very drunk himself, and with the utmost difficulty reached his seat in the House, whilst Mr. Davin was as sober as ever he was.

Our Island representatives behave creditably in this respect. Mr. Davies has a good reputation as a debater, although his flights of imagination weaken the force of his arguments. Mr. Welsh is one of the finest looking men in the House, but his restlessness is very apparent. He has a strong yearning for the Government benches. The remainder of the Island contingent count four on a division. That is all I can say in the favor. I was rather disappointed in the oratory of Mr. Laurier. He speaks very pleasantly and has a fine personal appearance; but it seems to me that no Frenchman can master the intricacies of English grammar. It spoils a speech greatly when plural verbs are used for singular ones. Sir Adolph Caron speaks well, but his manner is affected, and when he screws his eye-glass into one of his eyes, the effect is not pleasant.

Local and Other Items.
MAILS.—The foreign mail arrived at half-past twelve this afternoon.
TEA AND FANCY SALE.—The ladies of St. James' Church intend holding their Tea and Fancy Sale on Thursday, March 28.
A faded and discolored beard is untidy and a misfortune. It may be prevented by using Buckingham's Dye for the Whiskers, a never-failing remedy.
COMMENDABLE.—Messrs. Mark Wright & Co. have again presented their employees with season tickets for the Y. M. C. A. Reading Room and Gymnasium.
TRAINS COLLIDE.—A passenger and a freight train came into collision on the morning of the 27th, on the Southeastern Railway, near Sweet'sburg, Que. Two freight cars and an engine were destroyed and one man badly injured.
The great majority of so-called cough cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver.
KILLED BY CHLOROFORM.—A young woman named Minnie Marsaeles, died in a dentist's chair at Norwalk, O., a few days ago. She had taken chloroform preparatory to having some teeth drawn, and it caused her heart to cease beating. It is thought she was affected with heart disease.
A COMPREHENSIVE DEED.—There is a deed on record in the clerk's office at Gainesville, Ga., which conveys to the purchaser all the land south of the grantor's door. If the heirs of the purchaser could get possession of the premises conveyed they would almost literally secure "the earth."
ALLEGED TREASURY ROBBERY.—A Washington despatch to the New York Tribune says there is considerable excitement in the treasury department, where, it is asserted, another robbery has occurred. It is stated that on Tuesday last, it was discovered that tobacco stamps to the value of $4000 had been stolen. No clue to the lost or stolen property has been discovered. It is also asserted that $2000 worth of revenue stamps were stolen some months ago.
A RICH DISCOVERY.—Ten years before the war, John Gaiter, a slave owned by a small farmer near Moorfield, located a silver mine and told his master he would show him where the mine was provided he would set him free. The master refused, so the darkey never told where the silver could be found. When the war set Gaiter free, he moved with his family to Mount Pleasant, where he died some years ago, but told his son, Henry, where to find the mine. Henry has been back several times and obtained silver from the mine and had it tested. It proved to be of the very best quality, and a company has been organized to develop the mine.
A DREADFUL FATE.—A laborer, named Narcisse Lemire, met with a terrible death last Monday morning while working in a brick yard on Parthenais street, Montreal. It appears that he was engaged in tunnelling an immense pile of earth, when part of it suddenly crumbled, and as the unfortunate man had no means of escape he was entombed alive. Other workmen who witnessed the accident, rushed to Lemire's rescue, and with pick and shovel threw the earth aside. For several minutes they worked with apparently superhuman effort, until the poor man was reached, but it was too late, as life was already extinct. The remains were crushed, but it is supposed that suffocation was the immediate cause of death.

Personal.
Mr. Spurgeon has returned to London in excellent health.
Hon. A. J. Macdonald returned home from the Upper Provinces last evening.
Mrs. Sarah Hickson has just passed away at South Frankfort, Mich., at the age of 107 years.
Mrs. Snyder, daughter of ex-Governor Oglesby, of Illinois, while visiting San Diego, Cal., was robbed of $12,000 worth of diamonds and jewellery.
Mr. John P. Murray has passed the first year examinations in the Boston Dental College, standing well up in his class. We congratulate Mr. Murray, who is a son of Wm. Murray, Esq., of this city, and a student with Dr. Bagnall.
Napier's famous despatch from India announced his victory in one word: "Peccavi"—which is, by interpretation, "I have Sinned." Very much of the same kind was General de Bourmont's message to the French War Minister in 1830, when the Dey of Algiers escaped him after being taken. "Perdidi Diem"—"I have lost a Day." It is said that Drake, when the ships of the Armada turned their sails, sent to Elizabeth the word, "Cantharides"—"this is, 'The Spanish Fly.' This last is probably a fable.—Temple Bar.
