THE CIVIC MEETING.

THE meeting of last evening was large and representative of the people of Charlottetown as a whole. We note, with satisfaction, that the feeling expressed was strongly in favor of sewerage. While there was some diversity of opinion as to the time and the way and the means of obtaining sewerage, the voice of the meeting seemed to be almost unanimously in favor of having it,—soon. Both the candidates for the Mayoralty are personally in favor of sewerage; and both say that they will not take any steps towards it until authorized to do so by the electorate. This is as far as any reasonable advocate of sewerage can desire them to go,—particularly in view of the means that are to be provided, under Hon. Mr. Laird's resolution, unanimously adopted, for an informal plebiscite on the question. If a majority vote against sewerage in the manner prescribed, then nothing will at this time be done about it; but if a majority vote in its favor then steps may be at once taken towards the legislation that will be necessary in view of sewerage, to safeguard the interests of taxpayers, to obtain additional advice (if such be deemed necessary) as to the better system of sewerage to adopt, or to obtain the opinion of a specialist concerning Col. Waring's plans. The way will thus be open to the beginning of the work without any more delay than will be necessary in order that it may be begun right.

Councillors Nicholson and Hughes gave clear, and upon the whole satisfactory, explanations concerning the civic finances and the improvements of our streets. The increase of the civic debt, it was shown, was more in appearance than reality, $10,000 worth of school debentures having been called in and replaced by civic debentures issued at a lower rate, and saving $200 a year. The construction of the Park Roadway has, however, caused an addition to the debt of $6,000 or more. This may be excused by reason of the exceptional character of the work. But we think that, as a rule, the enlargement of the permanent debt of the city ought not to be permitted except on account of revenue-yielding works, such as waterworks, sewerage and electric lighting. Other cities of greater wealth and larger industrial or commercial resources may afford heavy debts involving additional taxation. But Charlottetown, dependent for the most part upon a small agricultural community, has well-nigh reached the limit to which it ought to go in that regard. We see no need for additional debt necessitating increased taxation. Experience has proved that we can take out of ordinary revenue, every year, a considerable sum for expenditure in the macadamizing of streets. In the present year, this sum may be applied to the completion of the Park Roadway; for until sewerage is supplied the work of macadamizing had better cease; and after sewerage is completed the macadamizing of our streets may go on again and be paid for, year by year, out of the ordinary revenue, as heretofore, until the whole town shall have been supplied with permanent streets and sidewalks without incurring any additional debt therefor.

Some persons at the meeting, last evening, seemed anxious that the candidates should come out unconditionally for or against sewerage, and stand or fall by the result of the people's verdict upon that issue. But we think that the method adopted by the meeting to obtain an expression of the opinion of electors is the better one to pursue. Of course, the personal opinions and leanings of the candidates as to sewerage will be taken into consideration by the judicious voter; but other considerations will also, under the arrangement that has been made, be admissable into the contest. Considerations of personal fitness, experience in the conduct of civic affairs, etc., will come up for review. This will be notably the case in respect to the candidates for the Mayoralty;—for both are personally in favor of sewerage. The main question as to them will, therefore, be whether a tried man or an untried man, one who has served the city for eight years or one who has never served it, shall be elevated to the most honorable office in the gift of civic electors.

At the recent winter show of the Royal Dublin Society, Mr. Nolan, one of the largest wholesale butter merchants, exhibited samples of butter from Denmark, the Argentine Russia, Siberia, Holland, Sweden, Normandy, Australia, Canada, United States and Italy. It may be seen what necessity there is for producing a good article when so many competitors are in the field.

ESTEEMED EXCHANGES.

—Halifax Herald: The reason that the business of the country is not in ruins is that the grit trade platform is in ruins.

St. John Sun: Mr. Tarte is now having his turn. He failed to get his correspondent, Sir Adolphe Chapleau, a second term as governor, but he has seen the parliamentary leader of the anti-Tarte wing removed to the seclusion of the bench, and his place taken by a harmless, new man. Still greater is the triumph he enjoys in the appointment to the senate of Mr. Dandurand, one of his own leading organizers. Mr. Dandurand has supported Mr. Tarte in all his disputes with the old Liberals, and will be the personal representative of the Minister of Public Works in the upper house. His appointment is a great blow to the English speaking Liberals of the Eastern Townships. Mr. Scriver, the member for Huntington, an old and tried member of the party, a man of experience, integrity and good repute, was thought to have the strongest claim for this seat. But Mr. Scriver is not the sort of man to win the affection of Mr. Tarte. Nor is he the sort of man to do homage to that potentate, whom he doubtless despises and distrusts. Therefore Mr. Scriver cannot be a senator.

POWNAL NOTES.

Court Abegweit, I. O. F. is booming. Propositions and initiations are coming in to beat the band. Young men are beginning to find out that it is one of the best fraternal societies, and certainly the best and cheapest insurance society in the world.

Initiations on our regular night (2nd Wednesday in each month) were too many and we had to call a special meeting for Friday the 21st inst. Although stormy and and roads bad, the boys turned out like men, as Foresters always do, and we had a grand meeting, after which the amiable and accomplished hostess of the Forester House invited the Court to tea, which, it is needless to say, was all that the most fastitidous could desire and to which ample justice was done. A very pleasant hour was spent. Before rising from the table the Court Deputy, Bro. A. A. Moore, in a neat speech, moved a vote of thanks, which was ably seconded by Bro. Rev. J. W. Howard and Bro. Henry Wood, P. C. R., which was duly tendered and suitably acknowledged by our genial host, Bro G. W. Carver.

On our regular night the Court was treated to a generous supply of luscious apples provided by our worthy C. R., Bro. Albert Jenkins and Recording Secretary, Bro. J. A. Moore. Every night of meeting there is something inviting and entertaining at Court Abegweit. The Court intends having a grand complimentary supper on Thursday evening, 10th of February at the Forester House, to which the sister courts Albino and Balnagowan are invited. A grand, good time is anticipated.

ANNIVERSARY PRESENTATION.

Sunshine Amid the Storm—Pleasant Visit to Dr. Doyle—Vernon River Church and Choir.

Sunday last, the 23rd inst., being the anniversary of the Rev. Dr. Doyle's ordination to the priesthood, a number of his friends, (amongst whom the writer has the honor of counting himself) drove out from the city to offer him their felicitations on the occasion and to express their best wishes for many returns of the day with a full measure of health and prosperity. They presented him with a beautiful silver-mounted walking stick, suitably engraved, as a reminder that he is growing old, and requires a support in the discharge of his numerous parochial duties. The presentation was made by Mr. D. O'M Reddin, jr. in a neat little speech such as "Young Denny" only knows how to make. He highly complimented the Doctor on the many good works he has performed during the past 34 years in the ministry, and expressed the wish that he would live to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of his ordination and many more. The Doctor returned thanks to the gentlemen for their neat and useful present and expressed his great appreciation of their thoughtfulness in facing the storm to show their good wishes towards him. He then invited the whole party to a sumptuous dinner, which was gotten up in Miss Keough's excellent style, and which, needless to say, pleased every one present.

After spending a very pleasant afternoon with the Doctor, the party left for home where they arrived about 6.30 p. m. and just before the storm had reached its worst.

During the morning service, the choir of St. Joachim's sang Conesne's mass in excellent style, and as an offertory, "Quid retribuam Domino" which I thought was very appropriate to the occasion. The choir has improved wonderfully since I last had the pleasure of hearing them, and Miss Eliza O'Neill's beautiful soprano voice rang through the arches of the large church like the notes of a pipe organ. Doctor Doyle and the congregation of Vernon River have reason to feel proud of their church and choir.

THE MAYORALTY CONTEST.

SIR,—It appears the contest for Mayoralty, judging by the voice of the large meeting last night, is between Dr. Warburton and Councillor Hughes. Now, Sir, I was canvassed for Dr. Warburton against Mr. Dawson. I promised my vote and support to Dr. Warburton. I find now Mr. Dawson has decided not to offer at this time, and we have Councillor Hughes in the field.

Now, Sir, I consider Councillor Hughes has a claim on the position which Dr. Warburton has not. As a friend of the Doctor's, I would advise him, retire in favor of Councillor Hughes and give his friends a chance to elect him to the City Council for Ward 4. Then, if he proves himself worthy in that capacity for one term, I feel sure a majority of the citizens would elect him to the honorable position of mayor.

I find a great many electors who promised their support to Dr. Warburton during the past week, when he was alone in the field. I consider it unfair that electors should be bound in that way. They should be allowed to make a choice, and I think Dr. Warburton would gain in public favor if he would publish, a card releasing electors from voting on account of any promise hastily made.
