

If your children are well but not robust, they need Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil.

We are constantly in receipt of reports from parents who give their children the emulsion every fall for a month or two. It keeps them well and strong all winter. It prevents their taking cold.

Your doctor will confirm this.

The oil combined with the hypophosphites is a splendid food tonic.

How Grant Ran.
In September, 1875, there was a reunion of the Army of the Cumberland at Utica, N. Y., at which President Grant, General Sherman, General Hooker, General Slocum and Governor Seymour were present.
Long and loud cries arose for "Grant! Grant!" who, slowly rising from his chair, expressed his pleasure at being with his friends, but his dislike at being asked to speak and his diffidence in doing so.
"But there are those," he added dryly, pointing to Sherman and others, "who are not troubled with any sort of diffidence."
The three generals present made witty, telling speeches, and then arose cries for "Seymour! Seymour!"
The governor, who had been the defeated Democratic candidate against Grant for the presidency in 1868, came forward and said:
"I think I have some soldierly traits myself. At all events, General Grant, you must acknowledge that in a little contest you and I had a few years ago you ran a great deal better and farther than I did."
This telling allusion to the presidential contest brought down the house. General Grant, convulsed with laughter, rose and bowed his acknowledgments.—Youth's Companion.

At What Age Is Man Strongest?
The muscles, in common with all the organs of the body, have their stages of development and decline. Our physical strength increases up to a certain age and then decreases. Tests of the strength of several thousands of people have been made by means of a dynamometer (strength measurer), and the following are given as the average figures for the white race:
The "lifting power" of a youth of 17 years is 280 pounds. In his twentieth year this increases to 320 pounds, and in the thirtieth and thirty-first years it reaches its height, 356 pounds. At the end of the thirty-first year the strength begins to decline, very slowly at first.
By the fortieth year it has decreased eight pounds, and this diminution continues at a slightly increasing rate until the fiftieth year is reached, when the figure is 330 pounds.
After this period the strength fails more and more rapidly until the weakness of old age is reached. It is not possible to give statistics of the decline of strength after the fiftieth year, as it varies to a large extent in different individuals.—Strand Magazine.

Confusion at These Dinners.
In his dining room Sir Joshua Reynolds constantly entertained all the best known men of his time, including Dr. Johnson, Goldsmith, Garrick, Burke, Sterne, Hogarth, Wilkes, Allan Ramsay and a score of others, who formed the brilliant literary club of which the great painter was the founder. There doubtless in the familiar lines of the author of "Retaliation,"
When they talked of their Raphaels, Correggios and stuff,
He shifted his trumpet and only took snuff.
At these dinner parties, according to Malone, though the wine and the dishes were of the best, there seemed to be a tacit agreement that mind should predominate over body. The table, we are told, though set only for seven or eight, often had to accommodate double that number. There was usually a deficiency of knives, forks and glasses, and the guests had to bawl for more supplies, while the host calmly left every one to shift for himself, though he lost not a word, if he could help it, of the conversation.—London Telegraph.

Common people often use figures of speech which are both poetical and strong.
While visiting in Norfolk near the North sea Tennyson was much impressed with the saying which he there heard, "The sea is moaning for the loss of the wind."
This poetical saying he used to compare with another he heard used by an old fish-woman who had lost two sons at sea. On a stormy day she, clenching her fist at the advancing tide, cried out:
"Aye, roar, do! How I hates to see thee show thy white teeth!"—Exchange.

A Bank Director.
Stranger—Boy, can you direct me to the nearest bank?
Boy—I kin for sixpence, sir.
Stranger—Sixpence! Isn't that high pay?
Boy—Yes, sir, but it's bank directors what gets high pay.—London Punch.

Inhuman.
"Ah, yes," she sighed, "I was robbed of a lover by the cruel war."
"Which one," her dearest friend asked.
"The Mexican, the civil or the Yanko-Spanko."—Chicago News.

The court of appeals of New York has held that it was no ground for a new trial because the jury in a murder case attended church on Sunday in custody of the sheriff and heard a sermon on the prevalence of crime.

Spasms Lasted for Hours at a Time—Left Great Aching and Soreness—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Proved His Deliverer.

I was for over six months troubled with very sharp pains in the region of my kidneys, the spasms lasted for half an hour at a time, and left me with great aching, soreness and pain. I tried many remedies, but they did me no good. I commenced taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills according to directions. I had not much faith that they would cure me, but after taking one box I noticed a change for the better. It may seem incredible, but after taking the second box the pains all left me entirely, and I have not had them since.—Amos Carter, Melbourne.
