

THE CIVIL WAR IN CHINA.

From a letter dated Shanghai, the 27th ult. we learn that 'Shanghai and the country around are now in a state of partial rebellion...'

Truda, who are reported to amount to fully 100,000 men, have been in the possession of the city any moment they please...'

On the 20th but very little was done on either side until about three p. m., when the first shot was fired...'

On the 21st the fighting was continued... the Imperialist camp, from which, having retired to breakfast, the patriots...'

On the 22nd the fighting was continued... the patriots did not weigh in...'

EXTENSION OF THE FRANCHISE.

Among all the subjects which will engage the public mind next season there is one so important as perhaps no other...'

The late general commissioning in Hu-peh... was discovered in disguise and under false name in a village in the outskirts of Peking...'

On the 23rd the fighting was continued... the patriots did not weigh in...'

On the 24th the fighting was continued... the patriots did not weigh in...'

On the 25th the fighting was continued... the patriots did not weigh in...'

THE CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, signing himself 'Canada,' furnishes the appended statistical criticism, comparing the population of the two countries...'

The progress of Canada compared with that of the United States, may be seen by inspecting the following table showing the advance of the population in the two countries since the year 1830:-

Table with 3 columns: Year, Canada, United States. Rows for 1830, 1850, 1870, 1880.

Such, according to the above, is the comparative position in regard to population in the two countries...'

Having exhibited the delinquency in reference to Canada, and having accepted the statistics referring to the American States, it will be seen that in each decade the movements were as follows:

HARZARD'S GAZETTE.

The only powdermills in Upper Canada, namely those in Hallow, were blown up on the 4th inst. by a tremendous explosion...'

We are sorry to learn, says the Quebec Gazette, that Lieut. Rose, R.M.A., formerly commanded the Alliance, together with his wife were drowned in the Janie...'

A fair for the Exhibition of Farm Produce and Domestic Manufactures, is to be held at Picton, in the early part of December...'

Quebec has lately lost by death, two of her distinguished citizens, namely, Frederick St. Venon, proprietor of the Chronicle and F. X. Methot formerly M.M.P. for Quebec...'

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

When we discontinued this article, we promised to return to the subject of the Market House a separate consideration...'

HARZARD'S GAZETTE.

Wednesday, December 7, 1883.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

When we discontinued this article, we promised to return to the subject of the Market House a separate consideration...'

When we discontinued this article, we promised to return to the subject of the Market House a separate consideration...'

When we discontinued this article, we promised to return to the subject of the Market House a separate consideration...'

When we discontinued this article, we promised to return to the subject of the Market House a separate consideration...'