14 YEARS Without Cleaning

A watch was recently left with me to be repaired, which the owner stated had not been cleaned for 14 years.

But, mark you, it needs more than cleaning now, one of the pivots having been entirely worn away for want of oil.

I would like to impress on all owners of watches, (particularly fine watches) the importance of having your watch cared for at intervals not exceeding two years. I solicit your patronage, because I know that I can give you the best service obtainable.

IMITATION IS THE SINCEREST FORM OF FLATTERY.

The best proof that

MINARD'S LINIMENT

has extraordinary merits, and is in good repute with the public, is that IT IS EXTENSIVELY IMITATED. The imitations resemble the genuine article in appearance only. They lack the general excellence of Genuine

This notice is necessary, as injurious and dangerous imitations, called WHITE LINIMENT, &c., liable to produce chronic inflammation of the skin, are often substituted for MINARD'S LINIMENT by Dealers, because they pay a larger profit.

They all Sell on the Merits and Advertising of MINARD'S.

I once heard Artemus Ward tell an audience that he had gifts of oratory, but didn't happen to have them with him that evening. I suppose most people flatter themselves that they have fairly good memories. Perhaps they have, but the lost parcel room of the elevated railroad goes far to indicate that they don't have their memories with them when they travel. I asked the lost parcel clerk yesterday how many things were left in the cars. He said that the average is about 150 pieces a day, of one sort and another. While I was talking to him a gentleman was waiting to see if a pair of roller skates, which his little girl had left in the cars last week, had turned up. It turned out that they had turned up.

Old Handles on New Umbrellas.

"It is not unusual," said an umbrella dealer, "for a person to use the same handle on more than one umbrella, having it shifted from a wornout umbrella to a new one. The handle thus shifted might be a valuable one, too costly to throw away, or it might be an inexpensive one, that just suited the carrier. Many people are particular about the handle of an umbrella, as to its size and shape, and thus want one that just suits them if they can get it. They may run across such an umbrella and buy it, or they may search for it and find it, or when the umbrella to which it is attached wears out then very likely they have the handle of the new umbrella that they buy taken off and the old handle, that they like, substituted for it."
