

Cromwell's Tomb.

There is, however, a mightier memory than that of Laurence Sterne associated with Newburgh, the home of Sir George Wombwell. In the long gallery is a glass case containing the saddle, holsters, pistol, bit, and bridle of "the greatest prince who ever ruled in England." The saddle and holster cases are by no means of puritan simplicity, being of crimson velvet heavily embroidered in gold. The pistols are of portentous length, and very thin in the barrel, and the bit is a cruel one with the tremendous check-pieces common two centuries ago—doubtless the Lord Protector liked his horse, like his Roundheads, well in hand. Not quite opposite to these relics hangs the portrait of a lady clad in dark green and demureness. This serious-looking dame is Mary Cromwell, wife of the second Lord Fauconberg. It was she who with keen womanly instinct, sharpened yet more by filial affection, foresaw that the Restoration once achieved, the men who had fled before Oliver at Naseby and Worcester would not allow his bones to rest in Westminster. At dead of night his corpse was removed from the vault in the Abbey, and that of some member of the undistinguished crowd substituted for it. In solemn secrecy the remains of him, of whom it was said "if not a king, he was a man whom it was good for kings to have among them," were conveyed to Newburgh, where they yet repose, the insane fury of the Royalist ghouls, who hung the supposed body of Cromwell as well as that of Ireton on the gallows at Tyburn, having thus been cheated of its noblest prey. The tomb of Cromwell occupies the end of a narrow chamber at the head of a flight of step stairs, and is an enormous mass of stonework built and cemented into the walls apparently with the object of making it impenetrable. There is no reason to doubt the truth of this story, preserved in the Bellasye family for two centuries and a quarter. It is not a legend, but a genuine piece of family history, and implicitly believed on the spot.

Mr. Ruskin has given an explanation of the meaning of the title "Fors Clavigera," as follows:—"That title means many things, and is in Latin because I could not have given an English one that meant so many. Fors is the best part of three good English words—force, fortitude, and fortune. Clavigera may mean either club-bearer, key-bearer, or nail-bearer. Fors the club-bearer, means the strength of Hercules, or of dead; fors the key-bearer, means the strength of Ulysses, or of patience; fors, the nail-bearer, means the strength of Lycurgus, or of law. Briefly, the first fors is courage, the second patience, the third fortune."

The People Want Proof.

There is no medicine prescribed by physicians, or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtues as BOSCHER'S GERMAN SYRUP for severe Coughs, Colds settled on the breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that fact is that any person afflicted, can get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try its superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cents. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are astonishing everyone that use it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent.

CAPSICUM
POROUS PLASTERS.
The Greatest Medical Discovery since the Creation of Man, or since the Commencement of the Christian Era.
There never has been a time when the healing of so many different diseases has been caused by outward application as the present. It is an indisputed fact that over half of the entire population of the globe resort to the use of ordinary plasters.
DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS are acknowledged by all who have used them, to act quicker than any other plaster they ever before tried, and that one of these plasters will do more real service than a hundred of the ordinary kind. All other plasters are slow of action, and require to be worn continually to effect a cure; but with these it is entirely different: the instant one is applied the patient will feel its effect.
Physicians in all ages have thoroughly tested and well know the effect of Capsicum; and it has always been more or less used as a medical agent for an outward application; but it is only of very recent date that its advantages in a porous plaster have been discovered. Being, however, convinced of the wonderful cures effected by DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTERS, and their superiority over all other plasters, they now actually prescribe them, in their practice, for such diseases as rheumatism, pain in the side and back, and all such cases as have required the use of plasters or liniments. After you have tried other plasters and liniments, and they have failed, and you want a certain cure, ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER. You can hardly believe your own convictions of its wonderful effects. Although powerful and quick in its action, you can rely on its safety for the most delicate person to wear, as it is free from lead and other poisonous material commonly used in the manufacture of ordinary plasters. One trial is a sufficient guarantee of its merits, and one plaster will sell hundreds to your friends.
Ask your druggist for DR. MELVIN'S CAPSICUM POROUS PLASTER, and take no other; or, on receipt of 25 cents for one, $1 for five, or $2 for a dozen, they will be mailed, post paid, to any address in the United States or Canadas.
