

CLIPPINGS.

On learning that the undertakers of Avignon have struck, Calina exclaims: 'What I would advise the people of Avignon to do would be to do no more dying until the strikers give in. Just let them hold out a few weeks and they'll bring the undertakers to their senses.'

'Your Handwriting is very bad, indeed,' said a gentleman to a friend more addicted to boasting than to study: 'you really ought to learn to write better.' 'Aye, aye,' replied the young man, 'it is all very well for you to tell me that, but if I were to write better people would find out how I could spell.'

At a crowded French Country Theatre a woman fell from the gallery to the pit, and was picked up by one of the spectators, who, hearing the groaning, asked her if she was much injured. 'Much injured?' exclaimed the woman, 'I should think I am. I have lost the best seat in the middle of the front row.'

Did you ever notice that there is something really musical in the pitiful weeping of your own baby, God bless it! and something—something, everything—fiendishly discordant in the squalling of your neighbor's howling young one? How is it, anyhow, that it always is that way?—Huckeye.

A Danbury young man offended one of the lady clerks in a fancy goods store at a party a few evenings ago. A day or two later he went into the store and enquired if she had 'gentlemen's gloves.' She answered, 'yes.' 'I want to get a pair,' he said. 'Who are they for?' she asked, looking him straight in the eyes. 'Why,—for—me,' he gasped, turning scarlet under the insinuation of her enquiry.—Danbury News.

Three Irishmen, who had dug a ditch for four dollars, were quite at a loss to know how to divide the pay 'equal.' But one of the number had gone to school, and reached division in the arithmetic, so it was left to him. He did it at once, saying, 'It'saisy enough. Sure, there's two for you two, and two for me, too.' The two received their portion with a greatly increased respect for the advantages which learning gives to a man.

A man sawing wood yesterday afternoon in a back yard. He sored two sticks as thick as your wrist, and then went into the house. 'Mary,' said he to his wife, 'my country needs me; there's no use of talking; we've just got slaughter all these Injuns; no true patriot can be expected to hang around a woodpile these days.' 'John,' said his wife, 'if you fight Injuns as well as you saw wood and support your family, it would take 118 like you to capture one squaw, and you'd have to catch her when she had the ague and throw pepper in her eyes.' John went back to the woodpile.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Queen Victoria's attitude at the recent drawing-room is described by a correspondent of The North American by a young lady presented to her. 'I was very much disappointed,' says this irreverent young lady; 'she seemed so small and insignificant. She did not smile at all, but looked very cross. She did not take the slightest notice of me, beyond holding out her hand for me to kiss, nor say anything. My aunt had to curtsy as she passed the Queen, but she did not take any notice; but the Prince of Wales and the others spoke to aunt. I didn't like kissing her hand at all. I'm very glad it's o'er.'

A Good Thing.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Bochee, a celebrated German Physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures Coughs, Colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Beware of medicines of similar names, lately introduced. Bochee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cents. Sample bottle, 10 cents.

A WONDERFUL CURE OF DIPHTHERIA.—Three of my children had Diphtheria in its worst form. Skin dry, lips parched, could not swallow. With a feather I applied Giles' Liment Iodine Ammonia to the tonsils, rubbed it over their throats and chests. Great chunks of stuff came from the throats, the skin became moist, fever left them, and under the Almighty care I attribute their cure to Dr. Giles' Liment.—JANE KELLY, Corner Tonnell Avenue and Blocker St., Jersey City Heights, N. J. Giles' Pills cure Painful Menstruation. Sold by W. R. Watson. Send for pamphlet. Dr. Giles, 120 West Broadway, N. Y. Trial size 25 cents.

The samples were very fragrant, mellow, and of pleasant flavor, and possessed all the characteristics of pure and well-matured Scotch Whisky of the first quality.'
