ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR WOMEN.

Some Difficulties In the Way of Their Realizing of Benefits.

A woman who is by no means strong minded, in its unpleasant, popular acceptation, was talking to some friends the other day.

"I wonder," she said, "if it will surprise you as much as it did me to find that women are only partially eligible to benefit by an accident insurance policy.

"A woman may take out such a policy—in fact, she needs only to hint that she meditates such an act to be flooded with circulars and besieged by agents.

"But the rules of the companies in regard to a woman are fearfully and wonderfully constructed. Suppose that a woman—one of the army of self supporting women who earn their own daily bread and in many cases that of their families—suppose such a woman to have an insurance policy against accident. And suppose still further that she is in some kind of a disaster, has a leg broken and is thus disabled and incapacitated for work.

"Does she receive the stipulated weekly sum scheduled as the payment for her particular injury?

"Not a bit of it.

"If she had been killed, her surviving heirs would have profited to the extent of the policy, but so long as the breath of life can be kept in the mutilated body the woman herself gets nothing.

"Two points are advanced in explanation of this course. In the first place, it is presumed that accident insurance is only for people who are deprived of a whole or a part of their income because of injury received, and it is also presumed that women are not self supporting and that their income is not affected if they are hurt. This would imply that no one who is not a money earner would be eligible to weekly payments in case of injury.

"But it isn't so. Any man is eligible, even if he never earned a cent and never will. Then, too, it certainly ought to be the case that a woman who does earn her living could have the same protection against the loss of an income because of accident as a man. But no! She may earn thousands of dollars a year, but she is a woman, and therefore presumably not self supporting.

"The second point—and I want you to listen to this—is that more women are injured than men. I was talking with an insurance man about this, and he admitted that there are more men hurt in the aggregate than there are women. 'But,' he said, 'women are so much more liable to injury.'

"I just stared at him.

"'You see,' he went on, 'if a car comes along, I jump right on, while a woman stands on the corner and just waves her umbrella.'

"'Yes,' I said. 'You try to jump on the car, and you slip and go under the wheels. The woman stays in safety on the sidewalk, waves her umbrella wildly and puts out some man's eye with it. The men both get ever so many dollars a week. The only person unhurt is the woman on whom the company declines to take risks.'

"Pshaw!" and the lady looked triumphantly at her hearers, who agreed to a woman that she was quite right.—New York Sun.

The Advantage of Advertising.

The Rambler met a man who came to Brooklyn from the interior of the state five or six years ago, and in the course of the conversation reference was made to countryman's ideas of city life and city business methods. The man said that he received his impressions from the newspapers. "While on this subject," said he, "I want to tell you an incident in my experience which I do not think is unique. It is interesting because every one has done the same thing. When I was a small boy living at home, I used to see a weekly paper printed in New York devoted to literature and fashions. I read nearly everything but the fashion articles which were printed in it, and I did not omit the advertisements. Each week I used to see the announcement of a shoe store which contained a picture of a shoe and the statement that no better shoes were made for men, women and children.

"About 10 years later I came to Brooklyn, and one day I wanted to buy a pair of shoes, and while looking for a shoe store I saw the name of the man whose advertisement I had read in my youth, and I went in the store and bought my shoes, and have been there several times since. There were other shoe stores in the vicinity, but I selected this one for no other reason than that I had seen it advertised. I suppose that advertising agents would be interested in this incident. It simply shows that a man who invests money in publicity will continue to get returns as long as he lives. Some day I am going to tell the shoe merchant why I patronize him."—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Man's Leisure.

It it in his pleasures that a man really lives. It is from his leisure that he constructs the true fabric of his being. Perhaps Charles Lamb's fellow clerks thought that because his days were spent at a desk in the East India house his life was spent there too. His life was far remote from that routine of labor; built up of golden moments of respite, enriched with joys, vivified by impulses that had no filiation with his daily toil. "For the time that a man may call his own," he writes to Wordsworth, "that is his life." The Lamb who worked in the India house and who had "no skill in figures" has passed away and is today but a shadow and a name. The Lamb of the essays and the letters lives for us now and adds each year his generous share to the innocent gayety of the world. This is the Lamb who said, "Riches are chiefly good because they give us time," and who sighed for a little son that he might christen him Nothing To Do and permit him to do nothing.—Agnes Repplier in Scribner's.

A Neat Way to Capture Rattlesnakes.

To secure rattlesnakes the "mountain doctor" of Pennsylvania grasps a silk handkerchief at one corner, and allowing the other end to hang toward the serpent teases her until she strikes it with her fangs, when he immediately raises the handkerchief from the ground, thus depriving the snake of any opportunity of disengaging herself therefrom, as the slightly recurved fangs are hooked in the material. The "doctor" then either kills the serpent by first grasping her neck with the disengaged hand, so as to prevent her biting him when he cuts off her head. Should he desire, however, to keep the snake as a curiosity or for sale, he will extract the fangs with a small pair of forceps.—Science.

Royalty Commanding Regiments.

It sounds somewhat odd that the young king of Servia has appointed his mother honorary colonel of the Eleventh infantry regiment, but Queen Victoria occupies a similar post of honor in the German army. If queens are to be colonels at all, it seems only fitting that they should command infantry regiments.—London Tit-Bits.

How to Make Money.

The following statistics gathered from reliable sources are both interesting and instructive and may be turned into money, so to speak, by farmers and poultry raisers. The number of fowl has greatly increased in the United States during the last five years but this increase has been larger in the New England and Middle States than in any other. Twenty seven States report over one million each. Seventeen States report over two million each. Thirteen States report over three million each while the States of Illinois, Iowa, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania report over five millions each. In eighteen of the States the annual average product of eggs per hen is as follows:

	Doz.		Doz.		Doz.
Me.,	7.5	Penn.,	5.2	Ohio,	4.0
Mass.,	7.2	N. Y.,	5.0	Ill.,	3.6
Conn.,	7.2	Ind.,	5.0	N. C.,	3.6
N. H.,	6.7	Tenn.,	4.7	Ala.,	3.2
R. I.,	6.4	Ky.,	4.4	S. C.,	3.1
Vt.,	5.9	Iowa.	4.3	La.,	2.0

It will be noticed the average number of eggs laid per hen per year ranges from three dozen to over seven dozen and that those states which reported the largest number of hens did not make the most money because, as the figures show, they only got an average of four to five dozen per hen per year while the New England States showed an average of from six to over seven dozen. The question arises then why do hens in the New England States average more than seven dozen eggs per year per hen, while in Louisiana they only average three dozen? The reason must be found in the fact that in the New England States, Sheridan's Powder to make hens lay is almost universally used, while in the West and South, it is not used much. Louisiana has not gone behind but the Northern states have gone ahead. There is no doubt at all but what the extensive use of Sheridan's Powder to Make Hens Lay, and for the improvement of poultry has boosted the poultry industry more than all other influences put together. The poultry industry of this country now amounts to between five and six hundred millions of dollars annually and the profits are said to be enormous. One man in Mass. near Boston has made twenty thousand dollars a year for last five years and many more have from five hundred to a thousand dollars while thousands of women, children and invalids have earned a comfortable living. All who want to know just how to make money, keeping and tending poultry should send to I. S. Johnson & Co., 22 Custom House St. Boston, for a copy of the Poultry Raising Guide Price 25cts.

A TRIP TO EUROPE.

An ex-British Consul's Experiences—A Friends Kindness Protects Him from an Old Enemy.

F. J. Cridland, of New York, formerly British consul at Mobile, Ala., and Charleston, S. C., when about to start for Europe found himself short of a valuable article which he feared he would not be able to obtain in Europe. He wrote thus to a friend who had previously supplied him: "Last year, when suffering from the worst cold and cough I ever experienced, for which medical skill appeared to afford no relief, you kindly gave me a bottle of Hawker's Balsam of Tolu and Wild Cherry which afforded me great relief at once, and in a short time I found that the cough had entirely left me. I have carefully hoarded a little of the contents of that first bottle fearing I could not obtain another, and I wished to have such a valuable remedy at hand." In response his friend supplied him with more of this valuable remedy. Mr. Cridland thus expresses his thanks: "Your generosity has fortified me against my old enemy and I send you many thanks for the same. I shall always recommend Hawker's Tolu and Wild Cherry Balsam wherever I may be, as I consider it without an equal for the cure of coughs, colds, etc."

Hawker's Tolu and Wild Cherry Balsam is manufactured by the Hawker Medicine Co., St. John, N. B., and is a perfect cure for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, and all forms of throat and lung troubles. 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

The Brydon Case.

HILTON, Man., Oct. 30.—James Brydon of this place, told a marvellous tale to a newspaper reporter the other day. He said he had been attacked by kidney disease about two years ago, which resulted in continuous pains in the back. To use his own words, "the pains were unbearable and life was a drag." He became so weak that he had to give up work for over a year, and frequently needed assistance in dressing and he could not put on his own boots. Mr. Brydon has lately taken one dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The result has been a perfect cure, and he is to-day as healthy and happy a man as can be found in the Province. These pills have only been on sale for a short time in Manitoba, but several instances of really wonderful cures from their use have come to light throughout the Province.

Popular Cures for Headache.

Headaches are one of the greatest banes of humanity, and the so-called cures are without number. Among them may be mentioned smelling salts, toilet vinegars, hot foot foot baths, etc. But the most effective and reliable cure yet discovered is Hawker's Liver Pills, which regulate the stomach and bowels and relieve the brain of all fevered and congested blood. If your head aches, try them.

No ONE need pity you if you die of consumption, without having tried Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, "the kind that cures" coughs, colds, bronchitis and all pulmonary diseases. Every bottle warranted. No oily taste like others. In big bottles, 50 cents and $1.00, at all druggists.

A Letter From His Dad.

DEAR SON,—

Yours to hand yesterday. It gives me great pleasure in sending you a cheque for $100. Thanks to Prowse Bros. & Co. They have done the people of this country more good and saved them more money than any firm that ever started business in Charlottetown. I am glad you are buying your Furnishings and Carpets from men you can depend on. They won't misrepresent an article to make a sale. You spoke about me recommending anyone who might want a Carpet to trade there. It would be impossible for me to tell anyone who has not already heard of Messrs. Prowse Bros. & Co. Why, your sisters, your cousins and your aunts all trade there. They say their store is like a fair on market days. Crowds of thankful buyers are found pressing their way up to the counters to have a share in the bargains which they daily offer. Good bye.
