VULGAR PEOPLE.—"Those are not vulgar people," says Dante, "merely because they live in small cottages, lowly places; but those are vulgar who, by their thoughts and deeds, strive to shut out any view of beauty."

JAUNTY MEN.—Your jaunty man wears his hat a little on one side, and cultivates a rakish appearance generally. If a handsome woman passes him he throws at her, over his shoulder, a glance which he intends to be at once careless and killing, but which is simply pert and presuming.

A GOOD WAR-HORSE.—At a club-dinner with a party of Nantucket people not long ago, one of the guests remarked that Nantucket horses were celebrated for their general worthlessness, imbecility, and slowness.

A Gentleman, fond of using high-down language, some times makes very laughable mistakes. He had the honor of presiding at a Sunday-school celebration, and after one of the speeches, he addressed the audience, telling them that they would now have some vocal music on the brass band!

When Theodore Hook was asked for a donation to the Society for Conversion of the Jews, he returned an answer that he had no money to give away; but if they sent him a Jew, he would try and convert him.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE.—A sporting young lady says:—"If the course of true love never does run smooth, why don't they water it, and roll it regularly so many hours a day, until they could get the course so smooth that a donkey could run upon it."

A Curate having been reprimanded by his bishop for attending a ball, the former replied, "My lord, I wore a mask."

"What is that dog barking at?" asked a fop, whose boots were more polished than his ideas.—"Why," said the bystander, "he sees another puppy in your boots."

"Ah, John, since you have been to town the donkey died without any notice whatever."—"Gracious mercy!" exclaimed John, "how fast we are passing away."

"My name," said a gentleman, "is composed of seven letters; but take the first two away, and there will remain eight." His name was Speight.

"What letter of the alphabet would be of more service to a deaf woman than a patent ear-trumpet?—The letter a, because it would make her ear hear."

"Where are you going?" said Selwyn to an acquaintance.—"To see a friend."

Feelings come and go like light troops following the victory of the present; but principles, like troops of the line, are undisturbed and stand fast.

A country dentist advertises that he "spares no pains" to render the operations satisfactory.

A Man got so deep into debt that not one of his creditors was able to see him for months.

The bee and the butterfly are both busy bodies, but they are differently employed.

When is it difficult to get one's watch out of one's pocket?—When it's sticking there.

The law is a pretty bird, and has charming wings. Pity it has so terrible a bill.

He who turns spy for pleasure, would not stickle to turn hangman for business.

Agricultural.

WHAT A GOOD WIFE IS WORTH

A Kentucky farmer furnishes the following evidence of the money value of a wife. The companionship of such a wife was even more precious than her industry and economy:—"I have been farming twenty-two years. The first four years I was unmarried. I began farming with 250 acres, in the Blue Grass region. I handled cattle, hogs, sheep, and horses—principally the first two named—and lived I thought tolerably economically, spent none of the money for tobacco, never spent a cent for dissipating in any way; and yet at the end of four years I had made little or no clear money. I then married a young lady eighteen years of age—one who never had done any house-work or work of any kind, except making a portion of her own clothes. She had never made a shirt, drawers, pants, or waistcoat, or even sewed a stitch on a coat; and yet before we had been married a year she had made for me every one of the articles of clothing named, and knit numbers of pairs of socks for me—yes, and mended divers articles for me, not excepting an old hat or two. She had also made butter, sold eggs, chickens, and other fowls, and vegetables, to the amount of $600 in cash, at the end of the year; whereas, during the four years that I was single, I never had sold five cents worth, besides making me purely happy and contented with and at my own home. And as to making money, we have made money clear of expenses every year since we were married, in everything that we have undertaken on the farm, and she has made from $350 to $500 every year except one, during the time, selling butter, eggs, and marketing of different kinds. My yearly expenses for fine clothing, &c., before I was married were more than my yearly expenses were after I was married combined with the expenses of my wife and children, and our farm has increased from 250 to 650 acres; and I believe that if I had not married it would have increased but little, if any; and I have never been absent from home six nights when my wife was at our home, since we were married, and her cheeks kiss as sweetly to me as they did the morning after I was married."

POINTS OF A GOOD MILKER.—In selecting a milker, look well to the udder. Before milking, it should be wide and broad, not hanging down like a sack; and hard and shiny, nearly destitute of hair, and what there is should be fine, short, and bright. After milking, the udder should be soft, and apparently a skin bag. If, after milking, the udder is hard and full, it shows that it is flesh, not milk, that distends it.

FEED FOR COWS.—Well-saved clover hay is thought to be the best forage for milk cows; and badly-saved, dried up, dusty clover hay, the worst. A Maine dairyman says that his cows never gave so much milk from any kind of feed as with a mixture of oats and potatoes. Potatoes alone increase the quantity of milk at the expense of the quality, but the addition of oats improves the quality.

A HINT.—Those who would keep their waggons and carriages in good order, should place a wrench on every nut at least once a month. This will save nuts, save bolts, and prevent rattling and wear and tear. There is a great deal depending upon looking after the running gears of vehicles as well as the harness.

For want of a little attention, accidents have happened and damage been sustained; therefore take a hint.

Just in Time FOR THE SPRING TRADE!

The Subscriber has opened a Tailoring Establishment!

In Mr. H. J. RICHARDSON'S Old Stand, which he trusts will be the real fashionable one of Summerside. If an accurate fit, a stylish cut, and superior workmanship can ensure custom, he flatters himself he shall not be without patronage from the tasty and discerning. Every trade requires brains, and none more so than the art of cutting and making up a garment to fit every variety of the human form; but some people seem to imagine that it requires no more judgment to cut a coat than to sew a log—an erroneous idea, the effects of which are seen in the tasteless and ill-fitting garments we every day behold in the streets. There is no earthly reason to prevent us from being as elegantly and fashionably dressed as the Americans, and the subscriber will use his best endeavors to reach a "consummation" so devoutly to be wished.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's PREPARATIONS FOR THE HAIR.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Restorer

is suited to both young and old. It strengthens the Hair, prevents its falling or turning grey, and imparts to it a beautiful glossy appearance. It never fails to restore GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It is not a Dye, but acts directly upon the roots of the Hair, giving them the natural nourishment required, producing the same vitality and luxuriant quantity as in youth. It will restore it on bald places, requires no previous preparation of the hair, and is easily applied by one's self. One bottle will usually last for a year, as after the hair is once restored, occasional applications once in three months will insure against grey hairs to the most advanced age.

The Restorer Reproduces and the Hair Dressing Cultivates and Beautifies. Principal Sales Office, 198 Greenwich Street, New York City. August 1, 1867.

Mrs. S. A. Allen's World's Hair Dressing, or ZYLOBLISAMUM, is essential to use with the Restorer, but the Hair Dressing alone restores, and never fails to invigorate, beautify and refresh the Hair, rendering it soft, silky and glossy, and disposing it to remain in any desired position. FOR LADIES AND CHILDREN, whose hair requires frequent dressing, it has no equal. No lady's toilet is complete without it. The rich glossy appearance imparted is truly wonderful. It cleanses the Hair, removes all dandruff, and imparts to it a most delightful fragrance. It will prevent the Hair from falling out, and is the most economical and valuable Hair Dressing known. Millions of bottles sold every year.
