U.S. Girl Scout Visitor Observing Girl Guides

Mrs. F. M. Latham, Edgewater, Maryland, visitor-observer to assist Canada's Girl Scouts of America, arrived in Prince Edward Island yesterday to begin a week-long stay here that will take her to all sections of the province.

Mrs. Latham's visit will wind up a tour of Quebec and the Atlantic Provinces that began Feb. 7. The visit is to promote better understanding between Girl Scouts of America and the Canadian Girl Guide Association. The philosophy, methods, and programs of the two similar movements have been discussed by Mrs. Latham and the Canadian guide leaders she has met while on her tour.

A charming person, Mrs. Latham is well prepared to be an international representative of the Girl Scouts. A housewife with two grown children, she has had many years experience in girl scouting as a leader, camp director, trainer and executive council member as well as having been a girl scout herself.

Looking forward to her visit to Prince Edward Island, Mrs. Latham said she had already had many new ideas, songs and games from Canadian Guides that she will be taking back to Girl Scouts in her country.

The American Girl Scout Movement, Mrs. Latham said, was founded by Juliette Gordon Low in 1912 a year after the Girl Scout movement had been introduced into Canada. Although the two movements are the same there are a great many differences in the organization, she said. There are approximately 4,000,000 members in the Girl Scout Movement.

One of the most noticeable differences was the great number of leaders and commissioners as compared with the Girl Scout Movement; another, Mrs. Latham said, that the meeting programs of the Guides appeared to be less flexible than those of their counterparts in the U.S.A. The age groupings in the American Movement also differ from those in the Girl Scout Movement.

THE WEEK AT SDU

Final Examinations are Close At Hand

FRANK CORCORAN SDU Correspondent The warm wind from the west movement are for girls age 7 to 10. In the Girl Guide movement from 8 to 12; intermediate girl scouts range in age from 10 to 14 and girl guides from 12 to 17 and in the United States and Land Rangers ranging in age from 10 to 21.

Mrs. Latham's visit will wind up a tour of Quebec and the Atlantic Provinces that began Feb. 7. The visit is to promote better understanding between Girl Scouts of America and the Canadian Girl Guide Association. The philosophy, methods, and programs of the two similar movements have been discussed by Mrs. Latham and the Canadian guide leaders she has met while on her tour.

At ANNUAL Today Mrs. Latham will be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Girl Guide Association held at Government House and next week will be the guest at a large number of Government House and Kings Coles as well as Queens.

She will leave the province on Saturday and return home. She arrived here from Sydney, N.S.
