THE prizes were presented by Professor Anderson to the pupils of the Model School, and not by the Superintendent of Education. We omitted stating that Professors Anderson and Caven, and T. C. James, Esq., delivered appropriate addresses to the pupils at the close.

FIRE.—At three o'clock, this afternoon, a fire was discovered in a house on King Street, owned by Owen Connolly, Esq., and occupied by Mr. Buchanan. It was caused by one of the numerous street Arabs of the vicinity throwing a cracker through a bedroom window. The cracker exploded and set fire to the bed-clothes. The fire was discovered by Mr. George Hughes, who promptly extinguished it without giving any alarm.

IN view of the approaching departure of Col. Dunn, American Counsel, it is the intention of his friends to present him with an address which will be done to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock, in the Council Chamber, in the Provincial Building. No doubt a large number of our citizens will avail themselves of this opportunity of testifying their respect for a very worthy gentleman.

At the Nova Scotia Methodist Conference a motion was put by the ex-President complimenting President Hartz in warm and well-deserved language for his admirable conduct of the debate as the presiding officer, to which Mr. Hartz responded in grateful terms:—"The Mr. Hartz referred to is a son of our genial townsman, Mr. Richard Hartz. No greater compliment could be paid to Mr. Hartz than such a vote, by such a body."

We heartily commend to all our readers the Springfield tea, to be held on Dominion Day. All travellers on the Malpeque road, which was the great thoroughfare between East and West, previous to the opening of the railway, must have observed the neat, though small Church that so gracefully crowns one of the elevations of that road. The services in this church have been mainly sustained by a small, but most devout and earnest congregation. They are now desirous of improving their church and making it more suitable for worship. The object is a most laudable one, and deserves the hearty co-operation, and cheerful support of all well-meaning people. The country now is nearly at its best, and the drive from Charlottetown through the beautiful English scenery of Milton, over the verdant slopes and cherry undulations of Hazel Grove, to the well-cultivated fields, rich meadows, and cheerful greetings of the warm-hearted people of Springfield, must be delightful. The Tea promises to be one of the largest, and we have no doubt, will be one of the most enjoyable ever held on the Island. Railway fare half price. Carriages at County Line to carry guests to tea ground. Young people, old and old ones too, go West and East, and North, and South, and help St. Elizabeth's Church, Springfield.—Com.

Gladstone on Garibaldi.

A tablet commemorating of Garibaldi's visit was recently unveiled at Stafford House, the town residence of the Duke of Sutherland. Mr. Gladstone made a speech, in which he related the following incident in which he related the following incident of the Italian patriot:—"Now, at the dinner at Sir Antonio Panizzi's to General Garibaldi I had the pleasure of sitting by him, and he conversed very freely with me. And I remember he told a story in these words:—"When I was a boy," he said, "I was at school in Genoa." Of course, I am rendering it in English. "It was towards the close of the great French Revolution. Genoa was a great military post—a large garrison always in the town, constant parades and military display, with bands and flags that were beyond everything attractive to schoolboys. All my schoolfellows used to run here and there all over the town, to see if they could get sight of one of those military parades and exhibitions. I never went to one. It struck me as a matter of pain and horror that it should be necessary that any portion of mankind should be set aside to have for their profession the business of destroying others." Well, now, I will not comment upon that tale, but when one considers what Garibaldi was, what he was in the field of battle, how fear never for a moment any more than cruelty, found a lodgment in that heroic breast, is it not a wonderful tale, and is it not truly interesting to trace up the man to the boy, and to find that even in the thoughtless hours of childhood that sympathy with mankind which governed his whole existence found such a peculiar and interesting form of expression?"

Deceased Wife's Sister Bill.

LONDON, June 29. The British House of Lords yesterday rejected the Deceased Wife's Sister Bill by a majority of five on the third reading.

Pauper Emigration.

LONDON, June 29. Mr. Trevelyan, in the House of Commons yesterday, said the reports that pauper emigrants were sent by England to America, were greatly exaggerated. No inmates of Poor Houses were assisted on the passage to America by the British Government.

Cholera in the East.

PORT SAID, June 29. Cholera is increasing in Damietta, and numerous cases are reported in other parts of Egypt. One hundred and twenty-nine deaths occurred in Damietta on Wednesday. Cholera is also on the increase here.

A Panic in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 29. Another panic occurred in Chicago yesterday. Great excitement prevails. The market prices fell heavily and several failures have occurred.

Telegraph Notes.

Gen. Sir Edward Sabine, president of the Royal Society, London, is dead. He was born in 1788.

The aggregate loss in seven townships in Missouri, by floods, reaches nearly half a million dollars.

The London Times says it has been arranged to send the two principal invincible informers to Manitoba.

Reports from Foo Chow, China, are that all grades of the new tea crop are of better quality, and that the spring rains improved both leaf and color.

The Government announces that negotiations between Russia and the Vatican have been concluded. The hierarchy will be allowed freedom in matters of faith, but interference in questions in regard to temporal power is forbidden.

A collision occurred on the Northern Pacific Railroad, at Heron station, Oregon, on the 27th. A gravel train of fifteen cars was run into by a construction train. The engine of the gravel train and twenty-three Chinamen were killed and fifteen wounded. The accident was the result of gross carelessness.

At Lesiruen, Yucatan, Demitrio Ozario, an officer in the army, was arrested for assaulting a young lady. He bribed the guard, and with a party of desperados attacked the authorities, murdering the political chief, Senor Kosaro, and his brother, Mayor Espito and Pedro Navrez, and wounding others.

Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant, speaking at Limerick, on the 27th inst., said he saw signs of a better future for Ireland. He advocated technical training leading to unimproved style of farming before the people entered upon the task of reclaiming waste lands. He maintained that the Land Act worked well and asked all classes to co-operate for material advancement of Ireland.

The London News of the 27th, says it is perfectly within America's right to prevent the landing of Irish paupers on her shores. The gross negligence in shipping them was cruel. If assisted emigration is conducted it must be conducted differently. There is no reason to believe that the Government has co-operated with any other agency than Mr. Tuke's, but mere inaction is not now enough.

The London Times correspondent at Paris says:—"The Pope in his letter to President Grevy regarding church affairs in France, complains of the expulsion of religious orders, the suspension of salaries of curates, the army bill which militates against the supply of priests and arbitrary changes proposed before the Concordat commission, thus rendering the church unable to defend its rights against usurpations of State. President Grevy's reply will be conciliatory."

A new paper published in Lima prints a letter from General Calderon to General Yglesias, dated Valparaiso, Feb. 8th in which he says all attempts to make peace have been frustrated by Gen. Yglesias or Gen. Pierola, who have been treating with Chili, at the same time offering better terms. Gen. Calderon said he had hoped to conclude a peace without the cessation of territory, but that now seems impossible. He, however, hopes that Gen. Yglesias and all parties will unite for the common welfare and make an immediate peace with the least possible sacrifice.

In reply to a request, Gen. G. G. Gordon has telegraphed the following to the New York Herald: "I beg to say the Chinese are sufficiently powerful to give France a good deal of trouble, for it is not with France as with Russia, who could approach Pekin by land. The approach by sea would need a very much larger force than in 1860. If the Chinese were educated they would be able to resist all the world. China has not signed the declaration of Paris in privateers, and she will make full use of her rights I have no doubt."

All vessels arriving at Italian and French ports, from Egypt, are quarantined ten days. The Paris Temps points out that cholera appeared in Bombay in May and that the English delegate to the sanitary commission at Constantinople prevented the taking of proper precautionary steps declaring that commercial interests were as important as those of public health. There were four deaths at Port Said on the 26th. There are 180 refugees from Damietta in quarantine in the vicinity of Port Said. News has been received at Alexandria that 73 persons died at Damietta between six and eleven a. m., yesterday. No confidence is placed in the sanitary cordon around Damietta, which is composed of Egyptian soldiers. A number of refugees from the infected district arrived at Alexandria on the 26th. An epidemic is reported at Rosetta.
