

Salvation Army Commander Dies

HARTSDALE, N.Y., July 18 (AP)—Gen. Evangeline Booth, 84, the "white angel" who followed her father's footsteps in Salvation Army work and as world commander of the organization he founded, died Monday at her home. She had been ill for the last year. Death was caused by a heart ailment and hardening of the arteries.

Miss Booth was the daughter of Gen. William Booth, who founded the Salvation Army in 1865, the year she was born. Her career in the organization began as a child in London where her father preached in the slums.

A leader of the Salvation Army in the United States for 30 years, Miss Booth became international commander in 1934. She retired in 1939.

As Miss Booth got her first lessons in the salvation of souls in London's Limehouse and Whitechapel districts, the toughs taunted her at first but later formed a bodyguard for her and called her their "white angel".

She fought and won a legal battle through Britain's Parliament when the Salvation Army was prosecuted for insisting on its right to preach in Torquay, exclusive English seaside resort.

In 1939, Hitler reversed an order limiting activities of the Army in Germany after she wrote the Nazi Fuehrer a letter saying she could not be sure whether he was a "dunce or a devil".

She filled the Salvation Army leadership in Canada for nine years, and organized and led a mission and nursing corps for the north into the far northwest in 1898.

Record Hog Grading Results

A record perhaps never before equalled in Canada is that of Warfield Orr, Mayfield, P. E. I. In a total of 104 pigs shipped in one season, 93 graded A, 10 graded B1, and one graded B2. The 11 pigs which did not grade A were all either a few pounds under or over the grade A weights. Mr. Orr is a commercial hog grower who produces his own feed, and has a reflection of the high standard of Island Yorkshires.

MacMillan-MacLaughlin Wedding At Halifax
The following item is from a Halifax exchange of recent date:

Wide interest is being shown throughout the Maritimes in the marriage of Miss Aileen Joyce MacLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. MacLaughlin, Halifax, to Joseph Roland, son of the Honorable Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan and Mrs. MacMillan, Charlottetown.

The ceremony took place Tuesday morning, July 4, in St. Thomas Aquinas Church, Halifax, with Rev. Thomas LeBlanc officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father and was charming in her gown of white swiss organdy, designed with a fitted bodice, long sleeves pointed over the wrists and a high round neckline. The gown had a two-tiered skirt. Chantilly lace was used to outline the wrists of the gown and was used again in the bonnet styled headpiece which held the three-quarter length veil of British bridle net in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis and ivy and wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, as her only jewellery.

Miss Daphne MacLaughlin, sister of the bride, and Miss Nora MacMillan, sister of the groom, were the bridal attendants, while Jack Trainor, Charlottetown, was best man and the ushers were the bride's brother, Donald MacLaughlin and the groom's brother, Allan MacMillan.

Miss Norma Marriott was soloist and Constance Inglis, organist. Mrs. MacLaughlin, mother of the bride, chose a navy blue faille costume for her daughter's wedding. Her accessories were navy and white and her corsage was of pale pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. MacMillan, mother of the groom, wore a smart grey printed silk ensemble with a hat of pale grey milan and corsage of red roses.

The reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, 4 Pine Hill Drive, Halifax.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Ambrose Mallett, who passed away July 19th, 1948.

God only knows how we miss him in a home that is lonely yet, But the hearts that always loved him Are the ones that never forget.

It is not the tears at the moment shed That tell of the hearts that are torn, But the secret tears, of the after years And the sorrow that is silently borne.

Thank God for the faith that teaches When the struggles of life are o'er, We shall meet our own, our loved ones And know them all once more.

Lovingly remembered by his wife and family.

Berry Crop Larger Than Expected

The anticipated strawberry crop this year at the farm of Mr. Fred G. MacIntyre, Montague, has exceeded all expectations with approximately 45,000 boxes having already been picked. This year Mr. MacIntyre is picking off 16 acres which include Dunlap, Dorset, Midlands and Warfield berries, with another six acres planted to be picked off next year. About 30,000 boxes have been sold to Mr. Leon Johnston, local canner, and 15,000 boxes have been sold locally. At the height of the season some 80 to 90 pickers moved over the field gathering the luscious red ripe berries. It is indeed a sight for anyone who wishes to see strawberries growing in abundance, covering the ground in heavy clusters of red beauty. Visitors from the United States and other provinces of Canada have visited the strawberry fields, remarking that never before had they seen such berries grown in abundance, and favourably noticed the excellent quality of the berries, particularly the Dorset variety which grows to a very large size, beautifully red in color, and sweet to the taste. Mr. MacIntyre expects to increase the production of 52,000 boxes last year to 60,000 this year, averaging 4,000 boxes to the acre. Over 150 pickers were employed during the picking season including the staff employed at the canning factory. This added employment has added considerably to the wage earners pay, which also affects to a great extent the respective businesses of the town. Mr. MacIntyre and his sons also operate a large farm comprising 40 acres of hay, 26 acres of grain, and ten acres of potatoes with the remainder of the 240 acres in fields and lumber.

LACK OF RED

The U. S. supply lines both in the battle area and along the railroad and highway routes to Pusan are highly vulnerable. Pusan is the only port where American ships can tie up to docks and unload men and equipment directly on waiting freight cars and motor trucks.

North Korea, by contrast, has far less to lose from strategic bombing than most countries. She has few developed industries and no concentrations of manufacturing power that would warrant air assaults on the scale launched against Germany and Japan in the last war.

Even without air support, however, the Red Koreans have driven some 180 airline miles southward from the 36th parallel in three weeks.

While American military men are convinced that the lack of Red air power will eventually cost the invaders dearly, Allied air power alone is not expected to turn the tide.

A hampering factor is the generally bad flying weather.

Island Founder Of Bible Class To Be Honoured

Forty years ago, come next October, a young woman who came from Charlottetown started teaching a Sunday School class in Norwood, near Providence, in Rhode Island. And a few months from now Mrs. Edward Bigelow, the former Miss Ina Macmillan, will be honored when the class observes the fortieth anniversary of its founding.

Mrs. Bigelow is a sister of Miss Christina Macmillan and Dr. Cyrus Macmillan, both of Charlottetown.

The story of her class, as carried in a Rhode Island paper, is as follows:

One of the blessings in the life of "Aunt Ina" is the Sunday School Bible class she started 40 years ago.

Aunt Ina, as she is affectionately known to members of the Loyal Helpers Bible Class of the Norwood Union Baptist Church, is Mrs. Edward D. Bigelow who organized the group in 1910.

She has been teaching Sunday School for about 60 years, 40 of them with the Loyal Helpers.

Although she became teacher emeritus of the class six years ago, Mrs. Bigelow still maintains an active interest in the group's functions.

The members, many of whom grew up under her tutelage, still regard Aunt Ina as their teacher though she cannot attend the meetings as regularly as she did up to six years ago.

"It has been a blessing to have such a class," Mrs. Bigelow said, "for they have been truly loyal helpers."

Long time Norwood residents readily agree that the class has made that much of an impression on that community.

Gave Start to District Nurses
The class has figured prominently in the history of growing Warwick. Under Aunt Ina's guidance, the group raised $102, the initial contribution that gave the Warwick District Nursing Association its start.

When Norwood was less populated than now, Loyal Helpers supplied flowers for every person ill for any length of time.

Class projects through the years have meant financial aid for missionaries and a number of schools for Negroes and Indians in this country.

Not once, members will proudly point out, has the class failed to hold a regular monthly meeting in its 40 years, nor has it failed in all that time to meet its annual pledge to the church.

From its original 11 girls the class has grown so that during its history it has had 100 women who were members at one time or another.

Opening Of Supreme Court At Georgetown

In their report to the Supreme Court which opened in Georgetown yesterday, the Grand Jury criticized the condition of the interior of King's County Jail, and stated that they had found the basement in a deplorable state, and unsanitary.

The report of the Grand Jury read in part as follows:

"We examined the jail and found four prisoners there. The general care of the building appears to receive careful attention. The outside of the jail is in good repair with the exception of the roof, which needs to be renewed. The interior of the jail is in a very unsatisfactory condition. The plumbing requires replacement. The stove needs some repairs and a new table is required. The walls need plastering and painting and we recommend that the interior of the jail be painted in some bright colour."

"We found the basement in a deplorable state and unsanitary," the report went on to say. "The floor covered with water and we strongly urge that steps be taken immediately to remedy these conditions. Also that something be done with the ceiling of the jury room."

In his address to the Grand Jury, Chief Justice Thane A. Campbell asked the Attorney General's Department to impress very definitely on Stipendiary Magistrates and Justices of the Peace that depositions to be considered by the Court must be presented to the Court at the proper time. "Otherwise the Court will not entertain the matter," he said.

Chief Justice Campbell outlined the general and specific duties of grand juries and said that the function of a grand jury is to consider whether evidence presented by the Crown is sufficient to place a man on trial.

The test of sufficiency of evidence, he said, "is whether that evidence would convict a person in the absence of contradictory or explanatory evidence by the accused." Mr. Campbell then received the indictments before the Court for the jury's benefit.

True Bill Found
The jury brought in a true bill in the case of the King versus Wm. Watterworth, Montague, on a charge of theft. The accused was arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for Monday, July 24th, at 11 A. M. Counsel for the Crown was Assist. Atty. Gen. J. O. C. Campbell, K. C., and S. E. Heslian, K. C., and D. L. Matheson, K. C., acted for the defence.

The second indictment to be heard consisted of two counts, intent to commit an assault, and prison breach, against William Carter of Souris. A true bill was found on the first charge, and no bill on the second. The accused was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Later, upon advice of his counsel, Mr. R. B. Bell, K. C., he changed his plea to guilty, and was sentenced to six months in King's County Jail. It was stated that his time spent in jail since May 1st was to count as part of the sentence. Mr. Campbell and Mr. Heslian again acted for the Crown.

The appeal was also heard by Chief Justice Campbell, the first of which was an appeal from a decision by Stipendiary Magistrate Joseph W. MacDonald under the Temperance Act, against Wm. Carter. It was judged that defective notice of appeal had been given and the appeal was dismissed with no costs allowed. The King was represented by M. J. McQuaid.

The second appeal was also by Wm. Carter for his conviction under the Excise Act by Stipendiary Magistrate J. W. MacDonald. The conviction and sentence of Magistrate MacDonald were confirmed, and imprisonment thereby ordered to be consecutive to any other imprisonment which appellant is now serving. Appellant to pay costs of thirty dollars within thirty days.

Members of the Grand Jury were Messrs Frank D. McFarlane, Murray Harbour, Foreman, Harry MacGregor, Montague, Reginald Coffin, Rollo Bay, Hugh MacEachern, Cardigan R. R. 3, Thomas McCloskey, Bear River, W. R. Beck, Montague, John K. MacDonald, Kilmuir, Vernon Ross, Summersville, Percy Rubbins, Morell, Howard Paquet, Souris, and William Keenan, Murray River.

Congenial P. E. Islanders

It takes only two days of regular routine in a new place to get to know the personalities and characteristics of the people. Of all the provinces in Canada none, excepting Saskatchewan, can equal Prince Edward Island for the congeniality of its people.

In Charlottetown, for instance the girls in stores give me full measure courtesy. They give me more information than I ask for. One called me "dear" the first time I saw her. "That one gesture made me feel at home; as if I were not completely away from my friends. I began to warm up; unconsciously I began to see friends around me, people whom I'd never seen before—and in half the time it ordinarily takes I was at home completely on the Island."

A clerk in a grocery store (I eat most of my food raw when travelling and, therefore, do considerable purchasing) was more interested in what I was looking for than in the stock he was placing on the shelves. "That is rare."

In my letters and cards I write to people this one new item overrules all others—the congeniality of the people in a store took time when I was buying postcards to explain what one particular card was about. In five minutes, without my asking him, he told me what it would have taken me one-half hour of research in the library to locate.

Each person seems to like what he is doing, puts his heart into it and, therefore, has a fine approach to others.

In many cities I have found business staffs on the defensive. Here it appears to be the opposite. They go all out to help you. You are a human being and the staffs immediately take an interest in you. Mr. Murray and Miss MacMillan of the Unemployment Insurance; your congenial Premier, Mr. Jones; Hon. Mr. Matheson; Hon. Mr. Baker; Mr. Compoly, Director of Industry and Natural Resources stopped everything to give me information when I dropped in to see about vacation pay books; Hon. Mr. Cullen appears to be more of a Westerner than anyone, and your two very congenial Public Relations men, Mr. Fraser of the Department of Industry and Mr. Reid of the Tourist Bureau.

Truly, a congenial people! The congeniality of the Islanders is further enhanced by the look on people's faces. Happy faces appear to be in the majority. I study faces as I go along the street and it is like a tonic to walk down Queen and Trafalgar Streets.

Need Of Marine Slip Emphasized At L. P. U. Meeting

The regular meeting of the Laborers Protective Union, was held in the L. P. U. hall, 46 Water St. last night. The regular Union business was carried on, and reports of committees received.

The matter of a marine slip was taken up by the President who stated that as the Federal representatives were now at home the Union should take the initiative in pressing on the Federal Government the need of having this slip repaired to regular shipping out of Island ports, also the need of winter employment in Charlottetown.

It was decided after considerable discussion to hold a meeting of all tradesmen and laborers in the L. P. U. Memorial Hall in the near future and have Mr. Lester Douglas, M.P., Mr. W. Chester McClellan, M.P., Mr. J. O. Hyndman, Mr. Leonard McKay and others interested address this meeting. The President also stated the need of winter employment in Charlottetown was of the utmost importance to this Union, as work ended in December, and a marine slip would answer that need.
