NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market posted a substantial gain Wednesday despite a late sinking spell.

It was the second day of a rally set off by investors' favorable reaction to economic policies outlined by President Johnson in his State-of-the-Union message.

Some big early gains were pared in later trading. International Business Machines, up more than 7 points at one stage, wound up with a gain of less than 3. Du Pont closed up a little more than a point after having been ahead more than 4.

Profit-taking apparently figured in the late slump. A broker said a rush to buy gold in London and Paris also probably was a factor.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.5 to 325.9. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials gained 3.82 to 879.68.

Of 1,364 issues traded, 786 rose and 335 fell. There were 59 1964-65 highs and six lows. Volume expanded to 4,870,000 shares from 4,110,000 Tuesday.

Of the 15 most active stocks, eight advanced and five fell. Pan American World Airways, off ¾ at 27¼ on 85,800 shares, was most active. American Telephone, off ⅜ at 69¼ on 80,600 shares, was second.

Among Canadian issues, Aluminium Ltd rose ¼, Canadian Pacific ⅛, Distillers Seagrams ⅛, Dome Mines 1⅜, Granby Mining ⅜, International Nickel 1⅜ and Walker Gooderham ¾.

McIntyre Porcupine lost 1¼.

On the American Stock Exchange Canadian Javelin and Fargo Oil rose ⅛ each. Canadian Marconi and Jupiter Corp. fell ⅛. Scurry Rinbow Oil ¼.

But in London, the foreign and Commonwealth relations offices continue to be separate entities under their respective ministers, Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker and Commonwealth Secretary Arthur Bottomley.

Diplomatic sources said Sir Patrick was expected to take up his new post in Washington about the end of March.

Until the Labor party won the general election Oct. 15, he was Britain's permanent representative at the United Nations in New York.

You never miss your daily paper until it isn't there

You seldom realize how much a daily newspaper means to you—or the community—until one day it isn't there.

Surprisingly, perhaps, it's the little things that are missed the most—the services, the incidentals. Consider the plight of New Yorkers caught in a city-wide newspaper strike not so long ago. They missed the news, to be sure. The editorial comment, the women's pages, the sports section and the comics. What else?

Well, they never knew what was on at the movies. They missed the daily stock market quotations and the bargain sales at Macy's and Gimbel's. People couldn't find apartments—or jobs—without the classified ads. Concerts and recitals were postponed; plays closed prematurely.

Statistics may be a heartless way to measure the effects of such a strike. But sometimes, they're the only way. Unless you're a florist, you might not be interested to learn that flower sales fell off some 20%. Until you realized that the absence of obituary notices helped produce this loss. Then you begin to see what a newspaper means to a community.

If the newspapers themselves lost $101 million in sales and advertising revenue, should you care? Yes, because most of this money would have been paid to employees in wages and salaries, to other companies (and their employees) for newsprint, ink, film, engravings and other operating necessities. Several thousand news dealers went out of business. Some permanently. Department stores lost $5½ million, hotels and restaurants almost $20 million, federal and state governments $11 million, railroads $2½ million. When so many businesses suffer such severe losses, everyone suffers.

If you think Canadians were remote from all this, think again. The New York newspaper strike cost the Canadian newsprint industry $28,700,000. A lot of men lost a lot of days' pay. The newsprint industry will feel the pinch for some time to come.

Yes, it's easy to take your daily newspaper for granted when it's at your front door every day. Not so easy for you—or the community—to get along without it.
