No Provincial Sales Tax In Issue Says Government

A Hansard report quoting the P. E. I. Government's approval of a proposed Provincial sales tax was in effect repudiated in the Legislature yesterday when the subject was brought up in the Draft Address debate by Mr. R. R. Bell, leader of the Opposition.

While he was in full accord with the move to change the British North America Act for the purpose of extending old age pensions payments, Mr. Bell said that he and his colleagues were strongly opposed to the further suggestion that the Act be amended to enable the Province to impose a sales tax. He chided the Government for acting with "unseemly haste" in agreeing to the latter proposal.

Interrupting at this point, Premier Jones said there was nothing in the Speech from the Throne about a Provincial sales tax. "I would suggest," he said, "that the hon. member is putting up a straw man to knock down. It has never been suggested by anybody."

Mr. Bell: "According to Hansard, the Provinces were all circularized about January 2, asking for their reaction to this amendment, dealing both with old age pensions and a Provincial sales tax, and the Premier expressed his agreement with both."

Premier Jones: "We had nothing to do with a Provincial sales tax at Ottawa."

Mr. Bell: It was all contained in one document, which I understand was replied to by this Government, stating that they were quite in accord with both proposals."

Hon. A. W. Matheson: "They were two separate questions."

Mr. Bell: "Two separate questions in one document, It seems to me that this Government was a little too quick on the draw when they replied to Ottawa agreeing with this tax proposal. The other Provinces have taken the matter into consideration. In any case I wish to state that we on this side of the House will be very much averse to any Provincial sales tax." He emphasized that the monthly wage average in this Province is the lowest in Canada and that rising living costs would make the tax a great hardship.

Hon. Mr. Matheson: "Nobody has spoken about it."

Mr. Bell: "We know you did a lot of writing about it."

(Mr. Bell's reference was to the proposed amendments to the B.N. A. Act appearing in the Hansard report of the House of Commons proceedings of Feb. 1, 1951. The changes were, (1) for the purpose of enlarging the scope of old age pensions provisions, and (2) for the raising of Provincial revenue by "indirect taxation within the Province in respect of the sale of goods," etc., at a rate not exceeding 3 percent.

(The Hansard text quotes the Premier's reply on Jan. 5 to the Minister of Justice as follows: "Dear Mr. Garson: The Government of Prince Edward Island approves the two proposed amendments to the British North America Act respecting old age pensions and a Provincial sales tax which were forwarded in your letter of January 2. Yours very truly, J. Walter Jones."

Iranian Premier Shot To Death

TEHERAN, Iran, March 7—(AP)—Premier Gen. Ali Razmara, a tough little anti-Communist with a general reform plan, was shot to death today at a funeral in a Teheran mosque.

Informed sources identified the assassin as Abdullah Rastegar, a member of Fadayam Islam, a fanatical Moslem sect.

The motive of the slaying, which could easily upset the tranquility of this strategic oil-producing section of the East-West front, remained obscure. But the best sources believed Communists were not involved.

(Reuters News Agency said Rastegar attempted suicide after the shooting but was seized by police.)

News In Brief

HALIFAX, March 7—(CP)—Premier Macdonald told the Nova Scotia Legislature today he expects to present his budget tomorrow — a budget that will contain news of new taxation for the first time in years.

OTTAWA, March 7—(CP)—The Industrial Development Bank Act new permits extending loans for the processing of fish, Gordon Higgins (PC—St. John's East) was told today in the Commons.

LONDON, Ont., March 7—(CP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said today that wartime-style food subsidies will have to be considered to check the rising cost of living and keep imported foods in line with the general Canadian price structure. At the same time, he said the Liberal Government has not yet made any firm decision on controls policy to recommend to Parliament.

QUEBEC, March 7—(CP)—Mr. Justice Valmore Bienvenue today nullified the election by acclamation of Mayor Lucien Borne last Nov. 13, and ordered the city to hold new elections April 9. The Quebec Superior Court ruling was on a contestation by Barthelemi LeClerc, a city property-owner, alleging that the city clerk illegally rejected papers of a last-minute candidate on nomination day Nov. 13.

Drive Enemy From Spurs Of Hill 532

Bill Boss, Canadian Press correspondent with the Canadian forces in Korea, writes a detailed account of their first hand-to-hand combat with Chinese troops. His dispatch was written from the front at 11 P.M. Wednesday Korea time.

By Bill Boss

Canadian Press Staff Writer

WEST CENTRAL SECTOR, Korea, March 7 —(CP) —Cold steel, used in heavy close-quarters fighting with the Chinese, carried the Patricias late today on to spurs of Hill 532.

The hill is a dominating position 2 1-2 miles southeast of Yongdu, a junction on the road leading southwest from Hongchon.

Exasperated after a bitterly-contested seven-hour advance against the Chinese—as well dug in as usual in positions commanding every approach up to the 1,-600-foot feature—a Patricia company under Capt. Gordon Turnbull of Toronto threw finesse to the winds late in the afternoon and went in with the bayonet.

TOKYO, March 8 —(Thursday) —(CP)—Canadian and Australian troops, spearheading a Commonwealth brigade thrust on Korea's west-central front, advanced three miles into heavily-fortified country Wednesday.

Reuters news agency said the troops from the two Dominions cut the Communist supply route between Yongdu and Hoengsong in their advance.

"Advancing through a hail of Communist fire," Reuters said, "they put a claw-like hold on the lower slopes of a Chinese-held ridge, inflicting heavy casualties before digging in for the night."

Different Terrain

Reuters correspondent John Colless, in a front-line dispatch, said the Canadians and Australians were moving forward through some of the most difficult terrain in Korea. The sector in which they are operating is more than 30 miles east of Seoul.

Colless reported the Canadian and Australians were dug in Wednesday night "while the Communists continued to send down a stream of fire from commanding positions."

As light broke on the advancing troops the Communists brought their machine-guns to bear. But they could not turn back the slow, relentless advance.

Aircraft dived out of the sky, bombing, strafing and rocketing the Communist-held ridges.

U. N. Troops In General Advance On 70-Mile Front

TOKYO, March 8—(Thursday)—(CP)—United Nations troops in a general attack smashed five miles deep into Communist lines Wednesday on the west-central sector of a flaming 70-mile front.

In the west-central sector, Canadian and Australian troops of the Commonwealth Brigade advanced three miles into heavily-defended enemy territory, cutting the Communist supply route between Yongdu and Hoengsong.

At the east end of the front, an estimated 13,500 North Koreans struck hard at Republic of Korea troops and drove them back at least three miles.

These furious attacks and counter-attacks may be a prelude to the expected Chinese spring offensive, with the Allies trying to keep the Reds off balance while the North Koreans probe for a soft spot in South Korean lines.

The U. S. 25th Division with tanks stormed across the Han River 15 miles east of Seoul to open the Allied onslaught. Within six hours it reported an estimated 1,-300 enemy killed and 100 captured.

Other Allied units all along the line to Pangnim kicked off with general attacks. Thundering artillery barrages raked enemy positions along the front.

A field dispatch said the major gain of the day was a five-mile advance on the west-central front west of pivotal Hoengsong.

Air reports of heavy unidentified reinforcements moving into the area northeast of Pangnim, where the North Koreans launched their attack, led some front-line commanders to believe that this might be the scene of the next Chinese counter-offensive.

The Allied attack got under way when a battalion of the 27th (Wolfhound) Regiment of the U.S. 25th Division stormed across the Han in assault boats.

Opposition Leader Moves Draft Address Amendment

Mr. R. R. Bell

In the Legislature yesterday the Government was urged by Mr. R. R. Bell, K.C., leader of the Opposition, to inaugurate a policy of long-tern loans to farmers for the purchase of livestock.

Speaking in the debate on the Address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, Mr. Bell moved, seconded by Mr. R. L. Burge, that the following words be added by way of amendment:

"We regret that your Honor's advisors have failed."

"1. To give leadership in agriculture or to inaugurate any policy whereby the farmers of this Province would now be in a position to take full advantage of the increased demand for live stock and live stock products.

"2. To carry out in spirit and in practice the system of Responsible Government granted to the people of this Province one hundred years ago.

"3. To protect our Provincial rights under Confederation and to adequately present our claims to the Federal Government.

"4. To conduct the administration of the affairs of the Province with economy and efficiency."

The Opposition amendment will be voted on at the conclusion of the debate now under way.

The Throne Speech as it stands, Mr. Bell maintained, was "startling in its omissions." There was no forecast of any legislation, no reference to the Federal proposal of a Provincial sales tax, or to the urgent question of rental controls. Moreover, it was unduly optimistic with regard to agricultural conditions in the Province.

Farming Conditions

The seconder of the Address (Mr. MacRae) had admitted that the farmers were having a hard time. Mr. Bell said; and the mover (Mr. Douglas) had echoed this sentiment when he said that money was scarce and that farmers were turning to their woodlots to make some ready money.

More farms are becoming vacant in this Province every year, which were formerly productive and could still grow bountiful crops, Mr. Bell continued. There is an exodus of young, middle-aged and older persons from their farms. There is a diminishing amount of livestock in the Province, especially of cattle and sheep. There is a dearth of capital for farmers to carry on with, and a very heavy indebtedness incurred by them to the banks and other lending institutions.

"All this despite the fact that we have come through a period when average prices were high and we had bounitul crops," the Opposition leader said. "This is a situation which the Government must accept responsibility for, and find means of grappling with.

Land Settlement

"We have here no Provincial land settlement scheme. What are we going to do about these vacant farms? In Nova Scotia they have a land settlement scheme whereby the Government will provide one-half of the purchase price of the land and assist up to two-thirds in advancing money on long-tern loans for the buying of

Unemployment Insurance Claims

OTTAWA, March 7—(CP)—Claims for unemployment insurance benefits declined five per cent during January over the corresponding month last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

Claims during the month totalled 172,269, compared with 182,053 for January, 1950. Declines were recorded in Ontario and British Columbia but slight increases were registered in the other provinces.

The claims amounted to $9,367,-276 for 3,788,241 unemployed days against $11,781,142 paid for 4,925-381 days a year ago.

Claims by provinces during the month follows with totals for the corresponding month last year in brackets: Quebec 50,785 (50,521); Ontario 42,431 (50,944); British Columbia 29,857 (37,402); Nova Scotia 10,626 (10,299); Manitoba 9,713 (8,970); Alberta 9,702 (9,375); New Brunswick 7,523 (7,127); Saskatchewan 7,037 (5,968); Newfoundland 2,999 (367); Prince Edward Island 1,506 (1,080).

Turns Down Offer To Take Play To France

MONTREAL, March 7 —(CP)— Gratien Gelinas, Canadian playwright, said today that he had turned down an offer to take his play—Ticoq—to France at "this time."

Gelinas, known in theatrical circles as Fridolin, said he had received an invitation to take his Canadian play to France, but that he preferred to present it to Canadian audiences before thinking about taking it out of Canada again.

Three weeks ago the show folded after a two-day performance at New York.

SPLENDID RECORD

STOCKHOLM — (CP) — Major Gunnar Nyby, a Red Cross official back from Korea, states that although 3,600 patients from 18 nations have been treated at the Swedish hospital in Pusan, and more than 2,400 operations performed, not a single United Nations soldier has died in the hospital.

Suggests Liquor Store Might Solve Rocky Point Problem

Complaining that the Rocky Point ferry service was being made a "political football," Premier Jones twitted the Opposition leader, Mr. R. R. Bell in the Legislature yesterday for seeking to take credit for the restoration of the motor boat service recently, after the regular ferry had been laid up for an overhaul.

He said there were other sections as far removed from Charlottetown as Rocky Point, which had no free ferry service to the city. He suggested that some of them wanted the ferry continued so that they could visit the liquor vendor's. "I don't know whether to establish a liquor store at Rocky Point to satisfy them, or not," he added.

The Premier made another reference to liquor purchases when he said, in reply to Mr. Bell's contention that the farmers were in hard financial straits, that they had bought $122,000 more liquor in February, than in the corresponding month last year.

"Perhaps it is not the farmers who are buying it," retorted Mr. Bell.

Following the Opposition leader in the Draft Address debate yesterday, Premier Jones spoke only briefly before moving the adjournment at 6 o'clock.

He took issue with Mr. Bell in his "dirge about the vacant farms," the Premier said, offering to pay Mr. Bell "his lawyer's fees" if he could find any vacant land "anywhere within five miles of where I live."

Contrary to Mr. Bell's statements, he maintained that the cattle population is on the increase, as well as poultry and hogs. The reason farmers are not selling their cattle is that they think prices are going to be higher. "Little calves cost $60 apiece and you can sell a bull for 27 cts. a pound on the hoof."

He insisted also that farmers have no difficulty in getting loans provided through the Dominion Government. "The loans are for three years and you can buy a cow and get a couple of calves before you have to pay it off," he said.

Trans Canada Highway

"My hon. friend tells us he wants a bridge at Brighton and another at York Point," the Premier continued. "He wants the trucks trav-

Make Slow Progress At Big Four Meeting In Paris

By EDDY GILMORE

PARIS, March 17 — (AP) — The Russians demanded an airing of the troublesome Trieste situation today as a condition for putting the Austrian independence treaty before the Big-Four foreign ministers. They didn't seem to get far but touched an old sore spot between Italy and Yugoslavia.

Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, put forward this plan at a wrangling meeting of the Big-Four deputies assigned to draw up an agenda for the foreign ministers. He charged that the free territory of Trieste is a British-American military base.

Western officials gave this account of the discussion:

Philip Jessup, chief United States delegate, said he would agree to consider putting Trieste on the agenda, but would refuse to make it a condition to consideration of the Austrian treaty.

Ernest Davies, principal British delegate, told Gromyko that Trieste and Austria are two separate matters and the Russian move seemed only a pretext for failing to complete the Austrian treaty.

More than 250 meetings among representatives of the U. S., Britain, France and Russia since 1946 have failed to complete the Austrian treaty, though only minor technical points remain.

The Italian peace treaty of 1947 provided that Trieste was to be demilitarized and neutral under a governer to be appointed by the United Nations Security Council after consultation with the governments of Yugoslavia and Italy. The Security Council has never been able to get together on a nominee for the governorship acceptable to all the Big Four. Occupation by American, British and Yugoslav troops continues. Both Italy and Yugoslavia maintain claims to the strategic zone at the head of the Adriatic Sea.

Expansion For Nfld. Forecast In Legislature

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 7 — (CP)—The third session of Newfoundland's 29th General Assembly got under way today, with the Speech from the Throne forecasting expansion of present industrial development and "the beginning of a relatively long period of expanding earning power for the people in general."

Lieutenant Governor Sir Leonard Outerbridge read the Throne Speech after arriving at the House of Assembly where a 15-gun salute boomed out.

The Lieutenant Governor and his party inspected a guard of honor of Naval Reservists and the Newfoundland Constabulary.

"My Ministers have redoubled their efforts to procure the establishment of certain new industries and the expansion of others in the face of worsening prospects of world peace," the speech said.

The definite possibility of a Newfoundland-American development corporation to carry on a full program of industrial development for Newfoundland was suggested in the speech, which said that if negotiations were successful "my government would join with a very large and important financial corporation in the United States to form this corporation ... to result in considerable economic development in this province."

According to the speech, the Government intends to continue the survey begun last summer to determine the mineral resources in East Newfoundland.

"My Government are intent upon doing everything practically possible to interest mining companies in the mineral possibilities of Newfoundland," it added.

Touching on the recently announced possibility of forming a fishermens' organization, the speech said "no lasting prosperity is possible in this province so long as the fisheries fail to give a fair living to all those engaged in them."

Employment for "thousands" was suggested in connection with "new installations and expansions of defence works in the province.

One Montreal Bandit Captured, Other Sought

MONTREAL, March 7—(CP)—Police tonight sought a daring gunman who today robbed the Caisse Populaire De Sacre Coeur de Jesus in Montreal's east-end and escaped with $2,000.

However, police captured an accomplice of the bandit and said they expect to capture the fugitive "shortly."

The capture was partly due to the daringness of a 25-year-old bank teller, Denise Odette, who telephoned police as the bandits prepared to leave the bank.

The captured bandit, unidentified by police, ran almost into the arms of Leon Pronovost, special bank investigator, who pummeled the thug until police arrived.

The loot was carried by the gunman who got away. He left the bank about a minute before his accomplice, who was busy keeping the bank staff covered with a revolver.

The robbery marked the second bank hold-up in Montreal this week. The Windsor Raiway Station branch of the Bank of Montreal was robbed of $2,200 Monday.

In today's robbery police said the money was taken from the cash wicket of Simone LeClair shortly after 11 a.m. One of the thugs ordered her to turn her back and not watch what he was doing.

While he was scooping up the money, Miss Odette phoned police headquarters.

Would-Be Assassin Of Truman To Be Executed

WASHINGTON, March 7 —(AP) —The death verdict was returned today against Oscar Collazo, 37, survivor of the two Puerto Ricans who tried to shoot their way through President Truman's guards last November.

A Federal court jury convicted him in two courts of first-degree murder. Each carries a mandatory sentence of execution in the electric chair.

One count charged that Collazo and a companion Puerto Rican nationalist, Griselio Torresola, attempted to break into President Truman's residence, Blair House, with intent to kill the President or anyone who might be guarding him.

The other charged murder of Leslie Coffelt, a guard who was slain in a gun battle between the Puerto Ricans and secret service men.

Collazo was smiling when he was brought into the court room to hear the jury's verdict.

The two final counts—assault with intent to kill—were based on the wounding of officers Joseph H. Downs and Donald T. Birdzell of the White House police.

There was evidence during the 10-day trial that Corresola, who died in the gun battle, actually shot Coffelt. But under District of Columbia Law one conspirator in a felony is held equally guilty with another.

Leo A. Rover, head of Collazo's court-appointed defence lawyers, told reporters he would appeal the verdict.
