REJECTS SUGGESTION

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan Thursday rejected a suggestion in the House of Commons that he involve the premises of the other European Free Trade Association countries in a major bill for a Labor MP, John Stonehouse, urged him to do this so the EFTA countries could discuss relations with the European Common Market and to strengthen Britain's position in her negotiations to join the Common Market.

CONSERVATIVELY SPEAKING

By ISLANDER

There was plenty of rejecting down Murray Harbor way the other night. At least that's what I got from a close friend down there. Seems he looked over toward Dr. Lorne Bonnell's house and noticed the lights were on later than usual. Like folks do in these times that he made some inquiries and found good doctor was having a celebration all by himself. According to the way I got it came down from Charlottetown that all of a sudden Alec Matheson and the rest of his boys had suddenly got on the hospital insurance premium handbook. This came as much good and unexpected news to Dr. Bonnell that he invited some of the boys to a little private celebration. "It was a real shocker," he told my friend. He said that when he brought the matter up in the couple's dining room he found a letter waiting for him to back him up. "They all sent," he said. So my friend said to him, "How come you had the party all by yourself?"

"The way they have been all along," he said. "I've never sent no one wanting anything to do with paying premiums. So why should I invite them to the party?"

By the time this gets to you there'll be some really big news in the province. It means more jobs and more income for a lot of people. I get the word from all over Canada that PEI is on the march and that several big companies are anxious to come down here and take a look. People like to have this happen. There were good many years when not too much happened along this line. Now, under the PC program industries are heading for this province. Most of the government people I have talked to believe that PEI can be the bread basket of Canada and think a good start has been made. Now that Kings County has made a big step you watch West Prince. Things are shaping up right now and it's only a matter of time.

With over 1,000 people enrolled in handicraft courses and with the first courses ready to start in December, there's something I've been thinking about. Suppose only half of those people complete their courses and begin to make some good money by making gifts for sale? That almost a good position in the industry in here that would employ 500 people part time. We'd make a real hard try to get something like that and here, thanks to the efforts of the government, it's right here on our doorstep.

The candidates all seem to be in the field now. TIME MAGAZINE had some things to say about this election last week. In fact the magazine says that Walter Shaw and his government is not only going back but will pick up a couple more seats to boot. That makes sense to most people. Like a fellow said to me the other day, "The government's done a lot of good things and it hasn't made any bad mistakes." As I told you before, the list of things that's been done is long.

There's a lot of old people in the province who are looking forward to the day when they can move into one of those apartments that Welfare and Labor Minister Henry Wedge is building. Some folks I know had a negative come here from Saskatchewan last summer and right out of the blue she said, "Have you got any places for old folks to live?" And her sister says, "No we don't but she's a real nice coming and when they get here we're going to try to live in 'em." Well, Sir, the lady from Saskatchewan told me she's been living in one of these for years and she says there's nothing like it. According to her she's in the country place as well as in the towns. You young couples watch what's going on during the next year or two.

But what makes me happier than anything is to see these young couples and their kids getting into these houses they're building together. They're great. There's a lot of hard work going into these houses but when they're done they compare with the best. As a young fellow said to me, "I wouldn't have had this place if the Show government hadn't given me a hand." The schools calls for more of these in the country places as well as in the towns. You young couples watch what's going on and get in on it.

MR. AND MRS. ALDEN E. WEEKS

Marriage Vows Exchanged In Ceremony Held In O'Leary

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized in O'Leary United Church on Monday, October 22, at 2:30 p.m. when Audrey Lilian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacPhee, Bras, was united in marriage with Alden Edwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leish Weeks, Edmonton, in a double-ring ceremony, performed by Rev. David Hamilton.

Mrs. Louis Bernard played the wedding music and accompanied the bride and groom as she sang, "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony. "The Lord's Prayer" following the prayer, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register. The church was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor length gown of beau de green with lace bodice and sleeves edged with scalloped lace. Her gown was styled with a high neckline and long sleeves tapering to fly points over the hands. The front panel of the gown was gathered with ruffles to reveal a ruffle of tulle. The bride also wore a white Maritimer and New England Stars. Her four-tiered chapel length veil of pure silk tulle hung from a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a semi-circular arrangement of roses, Mrs. Neil Mackay, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was gowned in a dress of olive green pou de soie with scoop neckline and long sleeve sleeves and semi-full skirt. A matching headpiece of cabbage roses, gloves and shoes completed her costume.

Mrs. Glenn Brunton, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Wendell Weeks, sister-in-law of the groom, as bridesmaids, wore dresses identical in style to the matron of honor and groom respectively. They carried colorful bouquets in autumn shades.

Mr. Clair Oliver, friend of the groom, was best man. Mr. Wendell Weeks, brother of the groom, was officiating.

SHIRLEY MACDOUGALL, MISS CALGARY STAMPEDE

P.E.I. Is Native Province Of Miss Calgary Stampedeer

On Saturday, Islanders viewing the Grey Cup Parade will be watching the Miss Grey Cup contestants with an added note of interest since this year one of the contestants, Miss Calgary Stampedeer, is a P.E.I. as her native province.

Shirley MacDougall, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne MacDougall of Calgary, has been named as Miss Calgary Stampedeer, and today she begins a busy round of activities that culminates on Friday with the crowning of Miss Grey Cup. Shirley was born in Charlottetown on June 10, 1944, and her parents moved to Calgary while she was still very young. Her father, Mr. John D. MacDougall, Newlon Cross, are Shirley's grandparents and another grandmother, Mrs. A. Macdonald, resides at Alton Cross. Next summer she plans to spend some time visiting on the Island with her grandparents and other relatives.

Arriving in Toronto this morning, Shirley and the other Miss Grey Cup contestants will embark on a busy schedule of commitments. This morning they will be fittings for a fashion show in which they will be participating, and at an informal reception the girls will get to know each other, their chaperones (Shirley's mother is acting as her chaperone), the hostesses and members of the Grey Cup Pageant committee.

After this, more fittings for the fashion show; a Board of Trade dinner, at which the girls will be special guests; and then a radio and TV reception.

On Wednesday their work will be more radio and TV reviews and the "Kick-Off parade." In the afternoon the girls will participate in a fashion show; then to another press reception in the lobby of the O'Keefe Centre.

The last day of the busy week is of course, Saturday and the highlight of this day will be the Grey Cup parade in the morning and the "big game" in the afternoon.

In the evening the girls will see a hockey game at Maple Leaf Gardens and Miss Grey Cup and runners-up will appear at the Victory Dance in the Canadiana Room of the Royal York Hotel.

So Shirley has a busy week ahead of her, but Islanders and Calgarians alike will be rooting for her.
