APRIL 19, 1888.

Cost of Delegations.

The Hon. James Warburton has written to the Patriot to state the cost of delegations when he was in office. That was the time when Liberals were true patriots.

The Provincial Legislature.

The House of Assembly has been employed during several days past in discussing the budget. The Opposition have not presented anything new or interesting.

Canadian Literature.

APPROPOS of the last drama from the pen of Mr. Duvar, Mr. G. Mercier Adam writes to the Empire:

"The few posturing critics who have recently been denying the existence of a native literature will hardly join with us in giving welcome to a new Canadian drama.

Newfoundland and Confederation.

THE statement published by the Patriot that the resolution to dispatch delegates from Newfoundland for the purpose of negotiating terms of union with Canada was voted down is not correct.

"Judging by what I see and hear, I should say that Confederation will now encounter a strong and determined opposition, and that it will not be carried without a vigorous effort and a prolonged conflict.

What Has Been Gained.

In his last great speech, Sir Charles Tupper showed what has been gained by the negotiations lately carried on at Washington. He said:

"I ask you to contrast that language with the position we occupied a year ago in regard to the great Republic to the south of us. Let the Senate reject the treaty to-morrow, and I ask what is its changed position of Canada? Yesterday we stood face to face with a Non-Intercourse Bill, sustained by the united action of the Senate and House of Representatives, sustained by almost the whole press.

ment of our most extreme construction of the treaty, the answer to him is this: Nobody is to blame for the inconvenience you suffer except the Senate of the United States, your President, the Executive of your country; the Democratic party from end to end of the United States declared it was a fair settlement, they represent an unshaken majority; in my judgment, of the United States to-day, and I believe they will represent it to-morrow. We stand in the position that instead of being alone with the whole United States, President, Government and people all against us, all denouncing us as adopting a harsh and barbarous interpretation of an old, antiquated treaty for the purpose of forcing reciprocity upon them, we occupy the vantage ground of having these men out of their own mouths declaring that nothing has been wanting on the part of the Government of Her Majesty, or on the part of the Dominion of Canada to place this question on a fair and equitable basis such as might honorably be accepted by the United States. I hold we have accomplished that without injuring in the slightest degree the fisheries of Canada, without injuring Canadian interests to any extent whatever. We have made concessions, as I have said, but we have made them with the avowed object of placing all our people, not only the fisherman, but the agriculturist, the lumberman, every man in this country in a better relation with the United States than we had before. What is the result? As I have said Mr. Baxter told us that there was but one way of obtaining what you ask. You want greater freedom of commercial intercourse. You want relaxation in our tariff arrangements with respect to natural products in which you are so rich and abundant. There is but one way to obtain it. Let us by common concession be able to meet on common ground and seek to remove this irritating cause of difficulty between the two countries out of the way, and you will find that the policy of this Government, the policy of the President and of the House of Representatives, the policy of the great Democratic party of the United States, will at once take an onward course in the direction you propose, and accomplish that which you would desire above everything else is the only way by which it can ever be attained.

Parliamentary Notes.

Mr. Jamieson proposed his resolution in favor of prohibition on the 16th inst., and spoke briefly in its favor. He felt that no material change in the conditions had taken place since the subject was last debated. In reference to the question of compensation to those engaged in the traffic, he, for his part, will be willing to grant such compensation, but he denied that liquor dealers were in a position to claim it as a right.

Mr. Jamieson replied in a spirited speech. He showed that both of Mills' motions were moved in amendment to a motion to go into supply and were clearly made with the view of embarrassing the government. Besides, he (Jamieson) had always acted in accordance with the policy of the Dominion alliance. When Mills in 1874 moved to amend the senate, he moved it as a substantial motion, because his friends were in power and he did not want to embarrass them. Moreover, after his motion was carried, he went into the government and remained in it four years without taking one step to carry out the object of his resolution. Yet this was the man that would now stand up to accuse him of insincerity and inconsistency. (Cheers.) As to Mills' motion of a few days ago, it had been condemned by numbers of Mills' political friends; indeed by all of them who placed temperance before party. He deeply regretted that the debate had taken the course that it had, but he appealed to the house as witnesses that it was not his fault.

Under the Bill introduced by the Minister of Justice, the Chief Justice of this Province is to receive a yearly salary of $5,000 and the Master of the Rolls and Vice Chancellor $4000 each.

TO PROTECT THE FARMERS.

Mr. Adam Brown, M. P. for Hamilton, has given notice of the following motion which he intends to submit to the House of Commons at the very earliest opportunity: Resolved, That a special committee be appointed to inquire into the fraudulent practices which have prevailed and still prevail in various parts of the Dominion by which farmers have been and are induced to give their promissory notes and securities to a very large amount in the aggregate for seed, agricultural implements and other goods and merchandise by various false pretenses—the goods in some cases never being delivered, and in other cases being comparatively worthless, the makers of such promissory notes being obliged to make payment while the perpetrators of these wrongs evade justice, and that such Committee have power to send for persons, papers and records, and be instructed to report what remedies exist in such cases, or what further remedies should be provided.

Results of the Strike.

A Chicago paper in a calculation of the cost of the great railway strike which began on the Burlington road 45 days ago, makes the following recapitulation of the losses sustained to date by the engineers and firemen's brotherhood and the striking switchmen:—Loss of wages "Q" road—$306,135. Pay roll of brotherhood $159,450. Grievance committees loss of wages $30,870. Grievance committees' expenses account $22,050. Non-union men subsidized $20,000; expenses of headquarters $1,376. Santa Fe and other strikes $24,700; cost of switchmen's strike $25,000; miscellaneous $10,000; total $601,580. Of the cost to the Burlington Co. the following estimates are made:—Loss in traffic receipts $1,800,000, special police protection $180,000, cost of engaging new men $50,000; damage to property $150,000; miscellaneous $20,000; total $2,200,000.
