

Billy Graham Visit Scheduled For June

Evangelist Billy Graham will visit the Atlantic Provinces for several rallies this June, according to his Associate Evangelist, Canadian-born, Leighon Ford.

He will speak at the Driving Park in Charlottetown on Sunday afternoon, June 14; at the Exhibition Park in Saint John on Thursday evening, June 18; and at Citadel Hill in Halifax at an evening rally on Saturday, June 20, and a Sunday afternoon service on June 21.

Dr. Ford made the announcement yesterday at a press conference in Saint John, where he opened a two-week crusade in the Lord Beaverbrook Rink on Sunday night. Ford and other associates of the Graham team have been leading a series of evangelistic crusades throughout the Atlantic Provinces during this past year.

Crusades have already been held in seven cities, and are scheduled for seven others this spring.

Dr. Graham's visit to Charlottetown will be preceded by a week-long series, led by Associate Evangelist Joseph Blanco, a Methodist minister from England.

Dr. Ford, who heads the Canadian work for the Graham Association, will lead a two-week Halifax campaign prior to Graham's concluding meetings. Team members will also visit Campbellton and Newcastle, New Brunswick; Amherst and Sydney, Nova Scotia; and Island. The Graham rallies in June are expected to be attended by thousands from all across the Atlantic Provinces. Information about reserved seats for delegations may be secured by writing to the Billy Graham Crusade office, Trinity United Church, Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Dr. Graham will conclude his visit to eastern Canada with an address to a Ministers' Conference on Evangelism at Dalhousie University on June 22. Several hundred clergy have already indicated their plans to attend the week-long sessions.

Conference On Potatoes Is Suggested To MacRae

By NEIL MATHESON

The P.E.I. Federation of Agriculture has decided to suggest to Agriculture Minister Andrew MacRae that he hold a small exploratory conference in the near future to consider the question of potato marketing, and the organization of the industry, it has been learned from secretary J. Lincoln Dewar.

The executive of the federation made the decision at a week-end meeting which also considered the selection of an eight-man committee from the federation that would confer with the minister on the organization of a publicistic, as requested at a largely attended meeting of potato growers from across the province here on March 30.

The suggestion is that the minister would call a meeting of from a dozen to 20 people concerned with the industry to get their views on the problem, though the number and the selection of people he would confer with would naturally be the minister's prerogative, it was explained. The idea of the federation board was that the minister might get a cross-section of public opinion, it was learned from the secretary.

Business World Reaction Seen Important To Que.

By ALEXANDER FARRELL

MONTREAL (CP)—Gerard Filion, general manager of Quebec's General Investment Corporation, Monday challenged the business world to play a part in Canada's search for a new spirit of national unity.

In a speech to the Canadian Club of Montreal, an English-speaking group, Mr. Filion said the young generation of French-Canada has found its idea of success largely in commercial and technical fields.

Many of its brightest members are angry young men who are eager to do something and to reach the top positions in private and public administrations.

The crucial question—"the focus of all the trouble we have at this moment in Canada"—was whether the business community, mostly English-speaking, would accept them as they are and give them an adequate chance to reach positions of responsibility.

It was no longer a matter of mere French-speaking individuals trying to get ahead in a lower freetown school.

The following is the Easter report:

Grade VIII: 1. Janet Burns; Grade VII: 1. Valerie Burns; 2. Denton Cairns; 3. Gail Stavert.

Grade VI: 1. Heather Burns; Grade V: 1. Beverly Burns; 2. James Burns; 3. Marvin Stavert.

Grade IV: 1. Daniel MacLeod; 2. Brian Stavert.

Grade III: 1. Glen Mallett; 2. Barbara Stavert.

Grade II: 1. James Stavert and Ronald Mallett (equal); 2. Donald Stavert.

Grade I: 1. Donna Warren; Mrs. Rosalind Mallett, teacher.

business part of a widespread, unprecedented interest among French-Canadian youth in business as an career.

YOUTH KNOCKING

"A young generation of well educated people, with no inferiority complex, is knocking at the doors of big corporations and of public administrations with the firm idea of being an asset to the country. If they are accepted, if they are given a fair trial, there is no doubt that some of our most bitterly discussed problems will find a solution."

Comparing French-Canada collectively to an angry young man, Mr. Filion said it is questioning everything and it intends to rebuild itself according to its own norms.

"One must therefore see the present impatience of French-Canada for what it is: the pangs of growth, an excess of youth."

In time a settled pattern would emerge, "provided one is patient and does not take a tragic view of what is basically a sign of vitality."

Mr. Filion said the new generation is so realistic it is wiping out an old French-Canadian tradition of looking at state and government as something foreign and hostile. It was replacing this attitude with a concept of government as an instrument of the common good.

EVOLUTION BEING FELT

The effect of this evolution was being felt principally on the provincial level, where the last two years had seen the government take over private power companies with virtually no opposition from the general public and get legislative authority for a ministry of education against limited, though vocal, opposition.

Whole sectors of industry in Quebec have yet to be organized. Within the next generation it will be necessary to proceed with a large number of amalgamations. If this change does not take place within a generation, whole sectors of industry will disappear in Quebec or be absorbed by large American companies."

He said private interests will remain predominant in the General Investment Corporation. A mixed corporation in which the Quebec government has formed a partnership with private interests and established a minority interest.

This type of association, quite common in Europe, rather new in North America, is destined to have a great future. Such an association of public and private funds avoids giving a predominant role to the state, thus making it possible to manage the corporation according to the best business methods and without political interference.
