Retired Guardian Employee Andrew Martin Dies At 72

Andrew Martin, 72, a retired employee of The Guardian died yesterday.

Mr. Martin during his 50 years service with the paper worked in the stereo, press and mail room departments. He took a keen interest in all phases of production and as foreman of the mail room saw to it that the "mails were never missed".

"Andy", as he was familiarly known by his fellow workers, enjoyed sports, and in his later years actively engaged in bowling and horse shoe pitching. He was a founding member of the old Brighton Horse Shoe Club.

A veteran of World War One, he served in the Royal Canadian Navy. He was a parishioner of the Holy Redeemer Church.

Mr. Martin is survived by his wife, the former Isabel Blaquiere and an adopted daughter, Mary, (Mrs. Leo Gallant), city.

A son, Anthony, predeceased him. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Kate Caisie, Moncton, and a brother, Fred, city.

The remains are resting at his late residence, 21 Euston Street.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning from his late residence to the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer for Requiem High Mass at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

GOV'T POLICIES

ance was given, and now people are paying the $12. "And this government is responsible."

The speaker asked why elementary schools should be consolidated as in the last 15 years "90 per cent" of the schools were either rebuilt or renovated.

"The people of Prince Edward Island," he said, "are getting fed up. They are being taxed to death by this government and being taxed for education. The end result is that we are educating our youth for the rest of Canada."

AGRICULTURE

Mr. Acorn suggested that the government give serious consideration to establishing an agricultural college in the province to give a sound education to "the youth who will be our farmers."

Concerning department of agriculture policies, Mr. Acorn said that one agricultural representative for each county is "not enough." He said there should be an agricultural representative for each of the electoral districts in the province.

The speaker also wanted several fire trucks of the 2,000-gallon capacity located in his district.

Mr. Acorn said the present provincial minimum wage for men is too low and should be at least $1.25, with a minimum wage of 90 cents an hour for women.

The government was accused of patronage in allowing land to be sold on a stumpage basis in the Prince of Wales area. He claimed that local persons did not have a chance to take advantage of 300 acres of Crown land as persons from outside the area were given the stumpage rights.

Mr. Acorn said he was very concerned over the "neglect" of the fish filleting industry in St. John's. He said the industry has become "severely depressed" since it was established in the 1950's.

He said there was "a great lack of policy" on the part of Fisheries Minister Leo Rossier. He said a mistake was made by the government when a decision was made to build draggers for companies. "The vital interest of the individual," he said, "is lacking when fishermen are not the owners of the boats they operate."

Mr. Acorn charged that some fishermen were pressured into putting certain types of engines into the new draggers. He said one fisherman had been forced to accept the different engine type or "he wouldn't get a dragger." Mr. Acorn added "it is time for an investigation."

SMALL CATCH CLAIMED

Mr. Acorn maintained that the fishing industry is at "its lowest state in years." He said "last year a boat landed 130,000 pounds — that's not enough to pay the insurance charges." He said that all draggers landed 10,000,000 pounds of ground fish and that was not enough to keep the Soursis fish plants in full operation.

He asked why the government is building a new $1,000,000 fish processing plant in Georgetown, "when draggers are not getting enough fish to keep the two Soursis plants going." He was also critical of the steel draggers built for the fishermen's loan board by Bathurst Marine Industries. He said "one of the draggers, the Howe Bay, had 35 defects in construction." He produced a five-page list of the defects in the Legislature.

Colder air will move into western New Brunswick this morning and bring slow clearing to that portion of the Maritimes. Over the remainder of the Maritimes strong northerly winds will keep skies mostly cloudy.

Seal Hunter Is Flown To Hospital Here

An unidentified member of the 25-man of the sealing ship White Coat was taken to hospital here yesterday by an RCAF helicopter while the vessel was 35 miles northeast of North Cape.

The man's identity and nature of his illness were withheld by the White Coat's owners, White Coat Shipping Company of Halifax.

An RCAF helicopter from 103 Search and Rescue Squadron at Greenwood, N.S. took the man to Charlottetown where he was to be examined at Riverside Hospital.

The White Coat was engaged in seal hunting in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

ada; approximately $900,000 of this will come from the tax collection agreement and equalization and the remainder will be derived from shared-cost programs.

Some of the larger provincial revenue tax amounts expected are $3,500,000 in gasoline and diesel tax and $3,050,000 in sales tax.

Mr. Farmer said his 1965-66 budget "indicates a continuation of the program instituted by this government. During that time our policy has been to direct government expenditures as much as possible toward the growth and diversification of the economy of this province."

CAREFUL SPENDING

The treasurer said "every opportunity has been taken to effect economy in administration and to apply" the resources at our disposal to the best advantage of the people of the province."

According to the budget, the government will implement a 40-hour week in the general hospitals of the province and institutions operated by the government. This program will cost approximately $200,000 to implement.

CURRENT YEAR

Turning to the fiscal year that will end March 31, Mr. Farmer said "the debt of the consolidated fund is forecast to increase by $3,056,967 for the year."

He said "in general, 1964-65 was a good year. . . Granted, the liabilities of the province have been increased but this increase in debt is not something that we have lost. It represents an investment in industrial development, the tourist industry, and in permanent roads essential to the province. It is an investment from which we are endeavouring to build a better opportunity for our people to increase their present income, increase employment, and provide the necessary revenue for the province to meet its obligations."

The budget showed that the province, for the year ending March 31, 1964, had an increase in the public debt of $3,192,219.

$50 MILLION DEBT

Mr. Farmer said "the consolidated balance sheet shows an outstanding debt of $50,916,690; this includes all the direct liabilities of the province, except those of the P.E.I. Industrial Establishment Corporation, Public Utilities Commission, Hospital Services Commission and Workmen's Compensation Board which are not included in this balance sheet but are tabled independently.

"Offsetting this debt, but not including capital assets acquired since April 1944 which cost $50,407,367 are recoverable assets totalling $11,821,341. This leaves a net debt as of March 31, 1964, of $39,095,350."

Fisheries Co-op Annual Reports Successful Year

TIGNISH — Wilson J. Shea, manager of the expanding Tignish Fisheries Co-operative Association during the past 14 years was given an overwhelming vote of confidence to continue as manager at the 40th annual meeting of 163 shareholders held at the Legion Community hall Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Shea presented what was termed one of the most dynamic reports ever recorded in the business of the co-operative.

Market lobsters netted 73 cents a lb. and canners 62 cents a lb. with a total of $985,984.45 total sales on lobsters and ground fish. Total assets of the year were $319,429.45 with an operating expense of $145,866.18. Bonuses paid out to shareholders amounted to $153,000.

Prices paid, the manager said, were the highest on record, final payment on ground fish was 7 cents and 8 cents a lb. "Never before have the fishermen landed so much hake."

"Star of the Sea" is the star word of quality, he said, compliments of its fine quality have been received from many parts of the world. At the present time all fish has been shipped out.

Goods Valued $100 Taken In Break

SOURIS — Cheverie Bros. Grocery store was the scene of a break early Wednesday evening. Thieves gained entry through a window in the rear of the store and made off with approximately $100 worth of cigarettes and foodstuffs.

RCMP were notified at 8 o'clock yesterday morning by store-owner Jerome Cheverie and apprehended one man at 10:00 a.m. All of the stolen goods were recovered and the accused is in Georgetown Jail awaiting trial next Wednesday in Souris.

Lobster Carnival Plans Laid For Coming Year

SUMMERSIDE — Hon. Andrew MacRae, provincial minister of agriculture, may officially open this year's Lobster Carnival Week here.

It was suggested at the first 1965 regulation meeting of the Summerside Lobster Carnival and Livestock Exhibition here last night that the government official be approached for this ceremony.

"It is partly an agricultural show and we couldn't think of anyone better suited" explained Manager Charles Hogan.

Town Mayor W. E. Jenkins did the honors last year. The carnival begins July 12 and extends through to July 17.

One carnival position that has been giving committee officials yearly trouble is the post of secretary treasurer. The problem was renewed last night but apparently, an experienced Mrs. Bev Miller will have the job this year.

and Arthur Wright, president of Prince Edward Island United Nations Association, compared notes before Mr. Williams' address to the local UN Association at Montgomery Hall last evening.

of directors for faithful service during their time of office.

Roy McLeod, assistant manager, spoke on the improvements that are long overdue at Skidners Pond harbor, and urged the fishermen to continue to abide by the laws laid down by the department of fisheries concerning the regulation size lobster for their own benefit.

Others addressing the meeting were: Very Rev. M.J. Rooney; J.G. Dennis, supervisor of co-operatives; Urban LeBlanc, extension department of St. Dunstan's University; Charles Gavin; Terrance Gavin; Hector Richard; Herbert Cheverie, department of fisheries officer at Tignish.

NEW DIRECTORS

Three new directors were appointed to serve a three-year term, Claude Gavin, Jordan Elsworth, Hector Richard. Other directors are J.W. Doucette, secretary; Albinus Gavin, Nelson Gaudet, Ray Cormier and Alyre Bernard.

Hubert Gaudet, first president of the union, congratulated the manager and thanked the board.

RCMP were notified at 8 o'clock yesterday morning by store-owner Jerome Cheverie and apprehended one man at 10:00 a.m. All of the stolen goods were recovered and the accused is in Georgetown Jail awaiting trial next Wednesday in Souris.

The withdrawal now leaves the Lobster Carnival committee without a vice president for the coming year. Every year each club rotates in appointing a vice president and since it was RCAF's turn this time its drop out has created the vacancy.

Members at the meeting agreed that President Francis 'Peg' MacNeill should approach the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce with the view of their applying for membership to replace the RCAF.

"Signing officers for this year are: Gerald Soy or Frances MacNeill and Mrs. Bev Miller."

BIG EXPENSE

Entertainment proved to be a heavy expense during last year's Carnival week.

"We were top heavy on entertainment," said Mr. Hogan. "Half the time we were performing in an almost empty house." Mr. Hogan suggested that amusement provided during certain periods of a day would be the answer.

On a final matter, the executive was authorized to investigate into a possibility of relieving current expenses and bills.
