HOME DRESSMAKING.

BEST PRACTICAL HINTS THAT ARE OF TIMELY VALUE.

The Cloth for Waist Lining and the Way to Shoulders. Cut—The Importance of Basting, Ironing and Re-basting: How to Get a Perfect Fit.

(Copyright, 1892, by American Press Association.)

NUMBER I.

In presenting to our lady readers this series of articles on first class dressmaking as it is done abroad and by the best modistes of this country we believe we are doing them a lasting favor and one which will assist them in becoming accomplished dressmakers, so that, no matter how remote from the seat of fashion, no lady need wear garments that bear the unmistakable seal of "country" about them, and they may, if occasion requires, earn a respectable livelihood at home.

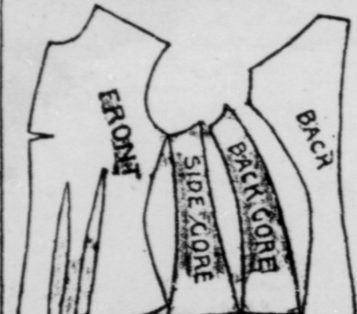

DIAGRAM OF MODEL BODICE. In the first place it requires one yard and a half of strong silks or drilling for a waist lining. This should be cut into the form shown by the diagram, but the shoulders should not be cut until it is fitted.

When the lining is cut, allowing at least three inches margin beyond the seams, it should be basted and tried, on the seams being laid on the outside. The fitter should then "take in" the seams and pin them until the whole fitting is perfectly snug in all parts, but hiding in none.

When the bodice waist lining has been thus fitted to the figure, take it off and lay it on a flat surface. It will make marks and show just where the seams should go. Then the lining should be rebasted, following the line of the pins on the outside of the seams, and the pins being laid apart the time when the bodice is being fitted should be clipped so that the different pieces will fall apart without being pulled.

When the lining is thus allowed for seams of at least one inch all around, can now be laid upon the outside material and pinned so that it cannot slip and be out. Care must be taken that all the figure marks are way if the goods are figured or the nap if of wool, and that the selvage edge comes straight with the front of the waist. The outside should be allowed a trifle larger than the lining, as it is often of goods that will fray.

USE POND'S EXTRACT

Have the early frosts or too late a lingering by the garden gate aroused that RHEUMATISM so peacefully slumbering the summer long? Well, if it's very bad you must change your diet and perhaps take some distasteful drug—the doctor will tell you what—but first rub thoroughly the part afflicted with POND'S EXTRACT, then wrap it warmly with flannel, and the rheumatism may wholly disappear.

FOR ONE MONTH. Everybody Read This!

This year we find our stock of FANCY GOODS so large that we are compelled to secure more room to show them to advantage. We have been lucky enough to procure the Store next to our own, and for one month will offer all our stock of Fancy Goods at big discounts.

Don't Stuff a Cold.

If you do you will nine times in ten, have a fever to starve. A cold is a shock received by the myriad nerves that bristle near the surface of a human body. The custom, as most people do, of stuffing a cold, is a very bad one.

DOUBLE VICTORY. It must be gratifying to our Canadian people to learn of the double victory at Chicago of the well-known piano firm of Octavius Newcomb & Co., who have been awarded medal and diploma for both their upright and grand pianos. This is not only a signal victory for this firm, but a most flattering tribute to the possibilities of our manufacturing industries in Canada.

THE BRYDON CASE. HILTON, Man., Oct. 30.—James Brydon of this place, told a marvellous tale to a newspaper reporter the other day. He said he had been attacked by kidney disease about two years ago, which resulted in continuous pains in the back. To use his own words, "the pains were unbearable and his was a drag." He became so weak that he had to give up work for over a year, and frequently needed assistance in dressing and he could not get on his own legs. Mr. Brydon has lately taken one dozen boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The result has been a perfect cure, and he is today as healthy and happy a man as can be found in the Province. These pills have only the best material and highest class of workmanship are found in these pianos. The cases are artistic and finished in the best manner. Mr. S. N. Earle is agent for the Island for these magnificent instruments.
