LIVING WHIST at the Masonic Temple on Thursday evening.

FORESTERS, ATTENTION!—A special meeting of Com. Avondale will be held this evening at 8 o'clock.

GET YOUR TICKETS.—Tickets for the grand entertainment on Thursday evening are now on sale at the usual places. See advt.

FOR DANCE.—No. 1 Company, G. A., will meet for drill tomorrow, (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock, instead of Thursday evening.

KING'S ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of this Association will be held in the Court House, Dunfermline, on Wednesday next at 11 o'clock. Ad in another column.

REVENUE BUREAU.—Rev. T. F. Fullerton has consented to give the oration on the evening of the anniversary of the birth of Scotland's poet, Robbie Burns (Jan. 25), in the Caledonian building.

Initiations of the celebrated "Tyle" serge are being shown by many tailors but any customer who knows the real "Tyle" will recognize them at once. Look for the trade mark "Tyle" on back of every 2 1/2 yards.

Y. M. C. A. Tickets.—All persons desiring to purchase tickets for the reading room can obtain the same on application at the office of that institution, between the hours of 4 p. m. and 6 p. m. No resident of the town will in future be permitted to use the room without purchasing a ticket.

CEMETERY VISIT.—His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor visited St. Peter's Schools this forenoon, and addressed the pupils. He insisted upon the duty of obedience to parents and teachers, and enlarged upon the virtues of patriotism and the greatness of Canada and the opportunities which the youth of Canada have before them. He presented the Schools with the same patriotic song that he has given to the other schools of the city, and announced the intention of giving a medal to the pupil who will, at the midsummer examinations, write the best essay on Canada. He finished feelingly to the death of St. John Thompson, and held the dead state-man up as an example to be imitated. D. Holzner also gave the Schools a short and eloquent address.

FIGHT WITH A BEAR.—John D. V. and Charles Cooleen have claimed the bounty on a bear shot by them last week at Sloan's Bay. The carcass weighed 325 pounds. On the day in question Cooleen and Delvin were out hunting. They had ball in their guns for big game. A dog discovered the den. The men hid their rifles out of their hands a few feet away, and with a long pole undertook to root out Bruin. The den was at the foot of an old ramble. An accumulation of decaying branches, stones, etc., in the front and a hole in the bank behind constituted the cavern. Bruin ran the pole down. An angry growl followed. The bear made his appearance a little quicker than the hunters anticipated. Bruin ran for a tree. The bear followed. Cooleen snatched up his rifle and planted a ball in the animal's skull. The bear fell dead. That was a timely shot, for the bear meant business, and in another moment would have had Delvin in his fierce embrace.—Hall's Herald.

THE MAIL TRAIN.—The Guardian of the 14th inst. has an article in it referring to the special train from Georgetown, and complaining that the mail is delayed in many cases, even as long as one hour, on account of the "accommodation train" from Morris and Georgetown. From the best authority we learn that the complaint is wholly without foundation. The special train that carries the mail through the Stanley runs from Georgetown to Charlottetown in two hours and fifteen minutes, and during this season has not been over ten minutes behind time, excepting on one occasion, when the accommodation train was detained at Mount Stewart owing to an accident to the engine, and even then the delay was only 25 minutes. Conductor Gillies and the officials of the railway are careful men who know they have an important duty intrusted to them; and they, while getting to town as fast as is consistent with safety, neglect no passenger at any station who may wish a passage. To show that more than mails have to be carried, we can say that last evening 65 cases of oranges, direct from the south, came to Charlottetown, and in excess besides a large quantity of traveler's baggage.

QUESTION FOR THE GUARDIAN.—Sir,—The morning "organ" is going to thresh out the trade question if it takes all summer to do it. Perhaps the editor will answer a few questions, even though they are not sent to his paper?

Twenty five years ago ninety per cent. of the rails used in the United States were imported, costing at that date $100 per ton. Today a better rail is sold in this country for $22 per ton. Quite recently the Russian Government called for tenders for an immense quantity of rails, to be delivered during the next three years, and strange to say the order was captured by two American manufacturers, who do business in a country where a heavy duty is exacted on both the raw pig iron and the finished rail. Needless to say the duty is never paid. Free Trade England "wasn't in it" with the home fostered Yankee.

Will the editor of the Guardian please say why the highly protected iron manufacturers of the United States lead the world to-day in rails, steam pipe, and numerous other iron products? Is it because of, or in spite of, the protection their industry receives?

GEORGE H.

In many parts of the United States it is said that over half the wheat raised is fed to cattle. In some parts of Ohio it is estimated that not less than 70 per cent of the wheat crop will be marketed in the form of live stock. In Illinois wheat is being largely fed, so also in Indiana, Kentucky, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, and parts of Michigan. In Wisconsin, Minnesota and Dakota considerable wheat is being fed but the practice is far from universal.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—The Guardian has been engaged in clarifying some of its logic. This is good employment for the morning grit organ. Keep at it.

—The Ottawa Journal remarks upon the fact that the burnt-out Crit Gals will be for the present published by the assistance of the Tory Empire and says: "These papers, foes politically, recognize that in their mutual business of newspaper publication, each can and should do as it would be done by to conserve each other's property. Is not this an object lesson for the public? Our politicians are foes in their public programmes, but should there not be friendship and cooperation for the mutual good of their common country, in points on which their policies do not distinctly differ?"

—Toronto Globe: Mayor Strong, of New York, is already justifying his selection and proving the appropriateness of his name. He cleared out Tammany from the Mayor's office; now he is clearing out other offices. He evidently intends that the streets and sewers also shall be cleared from the Tammany debris, for he has appointed as street commissioner Col. George E. Waring, who is not simply a fighter, but one of the greatest experts in America on sewerage and sanitary engineering. It has proved a great shock to New York to find a man appointed to office because of fitness, but the people are happily resigned to their fate.

—The Empire: The fact that Hon. John Dryden's proposal to establish a dairy station in Northern Ontario comes at a time when an election is pending in that district may lead to unfavorable criticism of the methods of the Ontario government, but that will not affect the importance of the offer. There are large tracts of grazing land in north and northwestern Ontario, and whatever Government action brings them into usefulness must commend itself to the people. This province has done much to build up Manitoba by contributions of settlers and their effects, and if the Provincial Government can now attract settlers to provincial lands, which are fully as productive as any in the Dominion so much the better.

—SMELTER. I see by this morning's Guardian a local headed skating race, in which the writer speaks of Messrs. Rattray and Newsom as the supposed two fastest skaters on the island. I would like to suggest to the writer before he awards the championship of the island to either of these fivers he would take into account the speed of such men as Messrs. L. G. Wheat, C. Weeks and H. Large, as I understand they intend coming to the front in the much talked of races on the 25th, and if so Messrs. Rattray and Newsom may not have it all their own way.

Cheyerie, the efficient an obliging station-master at Mount Stewart for Boston last evening to bring his brother home. The latter, we regret to learn, is seriously ill, and at present in the Massachusetts General Hospital, where he has been confined for a few weeks.

—James Anderson has been engaged by the Governor General as his special pipe. Mr. Anderson's abilities as a player of the bagpipes have been widely recognized. He has left for Ottawa covered with kindly congratulations and sent off by a crowd of farewell wishes.—The Star.

—Mr. J. F. Clarke, son of John Clarke, Esq., of Bay View, stands at the head of the second year pupils in the Ontario Agricultural College, and is first on the honor list in live stock, dairying, chemistry, veterinary, anatomy, horticulture, entomology, literature, mechanics and drawing. Well done. The Ontarians will by and by learn that little places may produce big men.

—Mr. John McMillan, son of Alex. McMillan, Vernon River, was recently appointed postmaster in South Omaha, Neb. There were a dozen or more applications for the position, which is a remunerative one, paying $3,000 per year. But the Islander, as usual, won easily with hands down, as a good, honest, sane man was every time in Nebraska. Mr. McMillan had no trouble securing the $5,000 bond required before he could accept the position. He was also elected to Legislature in 1879, which office he filled with credit to himself and the state. Mr. McMillan left home twenty-five years ago, eight of which he spent in South Omaha, where he has many friends and thousands of dollars in the real estate business. Mr. McMillan is a rank Democrat, which fact will prohibit him from ever holding a public office in the United States again, as they all die with Grover in 1893.
