THE NOVEL TEA.

On the beautiful grounds, KINKORA IN AID OF THE NEW CHURCH FUND

JULY 5TH.

Not much gestic about that head, but there's novelty just the same.
The order of the day will be as follows: At 9.30 a. m., Pontifical High Mass by his Lordship, for our benefactor the late Dr. Wall and sermon by Rev Dr Monaghan of St Dunstan's College.
After arrival of trains unveiling of the Wall Monument, which is a master piece of Art.
Instead of the usual tea party arrangement for providing for the multitude, this is to be conducted on the BASKET SOCIAL PRINCIPLE—See where the Novel Tea comes in.
Ladies, please label your baskets with name of donor. We will take charge of them at gate, number them, enter name and number on "our Benefactor's book" and we will furnish you with duplicate of number—Messrs Norton and Horne of Ch'town, Cross-man of Freetown and Manson of S. Side will dispose of them to your gentlemen friends.
Gentlemen, when settling for your baskets, we will provide you with tickets, which will entitle you to tea or coffee at neat tidy tables, in cosy nooks, where you can discuss at leisure the enjoyable features of the day and place.—See the Novel Tea.
Band music, dancing boots, swings, cooling drinks, confectionery and all other first class attractions will be provided to make this Novel Tea the novelty of the season.
Railway return fares from Ch'town 75c and from S. Side 45c, intermediate stations accordingly. By regular morning trains with special at eye if required.

THE DANGER OF BEAUTY.

I never read the papers without feeling so content
That both my eyes are twisted and my nose is slightly bent.
I'm glad my mouth is out of line and that my teeth are few.
And if I had a "wealth of hair" I don't know what I'd do.
A "tiny foot" or "lily hand" would fill me with dismay,
And if I had a slender waist I'd sicken in a day.
For I have noticed from the first, as strange as it may seem,
The girl who gets the worst of it is "lovely as a dream."
The papers never tell about a woman being shot,
Or mangled by a trolley car, or married to a sot,
Or forced at point of pistol her last fifty cents to lose,
But that her eyes are "limpid" and her boots are number twos.
So I can live in sweet content, without the slightest fear
That trouble or calamity will ever hover near.
And when I see my misfit face it's some relief to know
That I'll outlive the beauties by a hundred years or so!
—Brooklyn Life.

MAKE THE MEN MARKET.

A Woman Writer's Bold Suggestion to Help Weary Wives.
There are few things that exhaust a woman more than a day's shopping. The average man looks upon a woman's "purchasing day" as one of pleasure, but when he accompanies her on one of these shopping expeditions he goes home, after his patience has been all exhausted, with a different belief. He learns, too, that a woman can endure vexations and disappointments with much more equanimity than he can, and he mentally vows never to do it again.
The number of miles traversed is really what tires one, and it is little wonder that the woman who does the shopping for herself and her entire family, as well as the marketing and the bargaining with the "butcher and baker and candlestick maker," should feel the need of rest for her tired nerves.
The man of the house should always do the marketing. In the old days, when the butler was not the stately personage he is now, women were never troubled with the worries of household purchasing, for the head of the house did the entire buying, and "James" carried the parcels and was not ashamed to do it.
No mother who has the care of little children should give the precious morning hours to anything else but the nursery, nor should she let butchers' and grocers' boys call for and deliver orders, because there is a certain dissatisfaction if she does. Some wealthy families allow their chef to take charge of the household, and he collects a large percentage from the tradesmen, which, of course, is added to the monthly bill. Reputable storekeepers will not do this kind of business, however, and the chef "patronage" is controlled entirely by a few men. On the whole, it is much more satisfactory for the man of the house to do the marketing. He will get the best meat, have his orders promptly attended to and save about 25 per cent in the transaction, as well as the health of his wife.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Artificial Teeth.
When the natural teeth have been lost, the comfort, the health, the speech, and the personal appearance will be greatly enhanced by the substitution of Artificial Teeth skillfully made. Good health, good appearance and comfort depend upon the dentists skill in making an Artificial set knowingly and perfectly fitted. Artificial teeth can be made to present a very natural appearance an occasional dark tooth, an irregular arrangement, or a tasty fillings will break the porcelain monotony so often noticeable. The sunken condition of a persons cheeks and lips due to the loss of the natural teeth, is changed completely by the insertion of properly made Artificial teeth. We make Artificial teeth that will fill out hollow cheeks and add youth and tone to the countenance. If you are troubled with bad fitting Artificial teeth that do not stay in their place as they should, we can, by use of a new method, make your old set over at a small expense and give you a perfect fit. We guarantee our work to be satisfactory in all respects. You can call in, in the morning and have your teeth same day.
