Negro, White Players Wanted Treated Alike

NEW YORK (AP) — Gabe Paul, president of Cleveland Indians, said Saturday he will not let his International League farm club play in Little Rock, Ark., until Governor Orville Faubus gives assurance that Negro players will get the same treatment as whites.

The Indians have a working agreement with Jacksonville of the IL.

Little Rock was admitted to the league for next season along with Indianapolis, with the league expanding to 10 clubs.

"Several other clubs in the league did not want them in," Paul said. "We had the strongest minor league in the business, and they forced two clubs on us. It's like planting a cancer in our midst."

Paul said Little Rock still had regulations refusing Negro players permission to live in the same hotels and eat in the same restaurants as white players.

"We will not be involved in anything that includes Little Rock unless Governor Faubus will guarantee our Negro players will get the same treatment as our white players and that they will be allowed to eat at the same restaurants as our white players and be allowed to stay at their best hotels," Paul said.

Little Rock did not have a team in organized baseball last season. They were in the now-defunct Southern Association in 1961.

Treatment of Negro players was considered a factor in baseball circles for the folding of the Southern Association.

Paul also said that his team objected to the additional travelling costs in operating in a 10-team circuit.

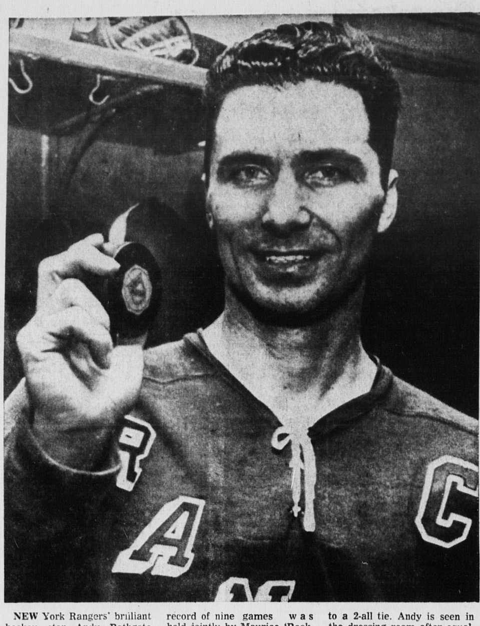
He said it would cost the other clubs in the league some $78,000 to travel to Little Rock during the coming season.

Paul intimated, however, that he would go along with the added expenses if he gets the assurances from Faubus of equal treatment.

An informal session of the International League tried to work out a formula for the major leagues to absorb the additional travelling costs involved in the expansion.

IL president Tommy Richardson said it was the league's understanding that the majors would absorb the added costs.

Secretary Harry Simmons said no club should be forced to pay travel expenses above the amount spent last season. The majors will absorb the rest but there has been some difficulty arriving at a formula, he said.



NEW York Rangers' brilliant hockey star Andy Bathgate set a modern day scoring record Saturday night in Montreal when he scored in his tenth consecutive game. The record of nine games was held jointly by Maurice 'Rocket' Richard and 'Boom Boom' Geoffrion both of Montreal. Bathgate scored two goals as the Rangers played the Habs to a 2-all tie. Andy is seen in the dressing room after equalling the record in a game against Toronto Maple Leafs at Madison Square Gardens Wednesday night.

Canadiens Extend Streak; Shut Out N.Y. Rangers 6-0

NEW YORK (AP)—Montreal Canadiens extended their unbeaten streak to 10 games Sunday night with a 6-0 victory over New York Rangers. The shutout stopped Andy Bathgate's National Hockey League consecutive-game scoring record at 10.

Montreal goalie Jacques Plante needed only 18 saves to record his fourth shutout.

Bathgate, who had broken the record Saturday night with two goals in Montreal, didn't have a good scoring chance. He got off a half-dozen shots but none of them troubled Plante.

The loss was the first for the Rangers under new coach Red Sullivan. They had gone unbeaten in five games. Ralph Backstrom sparked the Canadiens' 44-shot attack with two goals and an assist. Billy Hicke collected a goal and two assists.

The other scorers were Jean Beliveau, Gilles Tremblay and Dickie Moore before the third straight Sunday sellout crowd of 15,925.

WIN FIVE IN 10

During their 10-game unbeaten streak the Canadiens have won five and tied five.

Their last loss was on Dec. 15 in Montreal, when the Rangers scored a 4-2 triumph.

The Rangers' power play failed to take advantage of three minor penalties to Lou Fontinato in the first period. Then, in the final minute, Backstrom scored his first goal out of a scramble in front of Gump Worsley.

Montreal added three goals in the second period. With Vic Hadfield in the penalty box, Beliveau moved between Harry Howell and Ted Hampson and blasted a 40-footer over Worsley's left shoulder for a 2-0 lead at the 2:45 mark. Tremblay scored his 16th goal on a passout from Bob Rousseau at 6:04. Backstrom connected again at 16:57 on a point-blank shot.

In the third period the Canadiens wrapped it up with goals by Moore and Hicke. Moore swatted his own rebound past a sprawled Worsley at 2:37. At 17:27 Hicke drilled home a sharply-angled shot from the right side.

Shack Scores 'Hat Trick' As Leafs Clobber Hawks

CHICAGO (CP) — Eddie Shack's three-goal splurge Sunday night paced Toronto Maple Leafs to a 5-1 win over Chicago Black Hawks to draw Leafs into a tie with Hawks for first place in the National Hockey League.

Chicago, which has beaten the Leafs only once in eight games, held the league lead by two points going into the game.

The defending Stanley Cup champion Leafs took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Dave Keon and Shack and put the contest out of reach late in the second period on a goal by Red Kelly.

Chicago had been controlling play early in the first period when the Leafs broke into Hawks' territory. George Armstrong picked up the puck in the corner and shuffled in front of the Hawks cage, where Keon merely had to change the puck's course to send it behind Hawk goal tender Glenn Hall, who was helpless on the play.

PARTLY SCREENED

Shack's first goal came on a 20-footer which was partially screened from Hall's view by the sliding body of Hawk defenceman Al MacNeil.

Kelly simply had to rap in a puck, which was sitting unattended about 15 feet out to the left of the Chicago cage. Several Hawk defenders had made futile attempts to clear it.

Shack added his 10th of the year early in the third period on a passout from behind the Chicago cage by Kelly, then added his third of the night midway in the frame while Chicago's Reg Fleming was in the penalty box.

Chicago defenceman Pierre Pilote ruined Don Simmons' bid for a shutout late in the last period.

SUMMARY

First period: 1. Toronto, Keon 14 (G. Armstrong) 4:05; 2. Toronto, Shack 9 (Kelly, Horton) 17:40. Penalties — Mikita 9:00, Douglas (two minors), Fleming 9:49.

Second period: 3. Toronto, Kelly (Shack, Mahovlich) 18:01. Penalties—Harris 3:37, Pulford, Pilote 8:59.

Third period: 4. Toronto, Shack 10 (Kelly, Mahovlich) 4:59; 5. Toronto, Shack 11 (Kelly) 11:23; 6. Chicago, Pilote 6 (McDonald, Fleming) 13:08. Penalties—Stewart 7:24, Fleming 9:58, G. Armstrong 16:37, Hay 16:37.

Claude Raymond Is Top Rookie

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Claude Raymond, the little French-Canadian relief pitcher who saved 10 games for Milwaukee Braves last season, was named Saturday as the ball club's Rookie of the Year.

He will receive the rookie award of the Milwaukee chapter of the Baseball Writers of America at the group's annual dinner Jan. 20.

Raymond, 25, a righthander from St. Jean, Que., was brought up from Toronto in late June and finished with a 5-5 record and an earned run average of 2.72. In 43 innings he struck out 40 and walked only 15. During one streak in August he made eight appearances, saved seven games and won the other.

Champ Boxer Didn't Agree

CROWLEY, La. (AP)—A champion amateur boxer disagreed with fight officials after being awarded a split decision victory, told them so, and walked across the ring and raised the arm of his opponent.

Bobby Broussard of nearby New Iberia, La., a 135-pound Southern AAU champion, and two-times regional Golden Gloves champion, didn't see eye to eye with the referee and two judges in his bout Thursday with John Menard of Rayne, La.

In addition to raising Menard's arm, denoting him the victor, Broussard attempted to give his opponent the trophy.

U.S. Cagers Top Acadia 67-52

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—St. Peter's College basketball team won handily over Acadia University of Wolfville, N.S., 67-52 Saturday night.

It was the opening game of an American tour by the Nova Scotians, who meet Rutgers University of New Brunswick Monday night. They also play New York University and New York Athletic Club teams.

Acadia led 2-0 at the start of Steve Konchalski's jump shot. Then St. Peter's reeled off four points in a row and continued to lead the rest of the way. The halftime score was 30-20.

'Just Shot', Says Bathgate Of Record-Breaking Goal

By BRUCE STOVEL

MONTREAL (CP) — "It dropped about a foot," said Andy Bathgate of the slap-shot that gave him a modern National Hockey League record Saturday night.

"I could see the puck wasn't flat on the ice. So I didn't try to control it — I just shot," grinned Bathgate.

"The puck was falling like crazy when it got to Plante. You never know where the puck is going to go when it's on end like that."

The tall, easy-moving Ranger captain had scored a goal in his 10th consecutive game—setting a modern league record—when he smoothly drilled a 25-foot slap-shot from a 45-degree angle past Montreal goalie Jacques Plante. Rangers had a 5-4 manpower advantage at the time, 16:02 of the second period.

Bathgate was dressing after the game, surrounded by well-wishers and telegrams of congratulations, including one from his wife who had seen the game on television.

Beside him was the record-breaking puck.

BOUNCED OFF SKATE

The 30-year-old winger, who scored both goals in the 2-2 tie, said his second goal, a long slap-shot, went in off the skate of Montreal defenceman Lou Fontinato, a former teammate.

"It couldn't happen to a nicer guy," said Bathgate with a smile. "I just wish the first one had gone in off him."

Bathgate said he was thrilled at breaking the record, "especially here in Montreal."

Richard, now retired, left his seat behind the Ranger bench to congratulate Bathgate at the end of the second period.

After the game, Richard said: "Andy has one of the most accurate shots in hockey. He's always right on. Plante had no chance on either of the shots."

Bathgate said he didn't feel his performance could be compared with the all-time league record of 16 games, set in 1921-22 by Punch Broadbent of Ottawa. Conditions of the two eras were entirely different, and most old-timers played 60 minutes a game.

"Like, I set all kinds of records when I played 60 minutes in playground hockey."

In the Montreal room, silence prevailed.

Plante said quietly: "I got a part of that first goal with my glove. A slap-shot from a strong player like Bathgate from that distance with no one on him—that's the hardest thing for a goalie. All you can try to do is cut down the angle."

Plante said Bathgate's second goal went in off a skate. Jean-Guy Talbot had gone out to block the shot, but got there a second too late.

"As soon as I saw Jean-Guy hadn't got there in time, I knew there was a good chance to score.

"Bathgate made all the passes, and (Dean) Prentice had all the chances to score. But Bathgate got the goals. How do you figure that one out?"

Detroit, Bruins Play 5-All Draw

DETROIT (AP)—Boston Bruins, thoroughly dominated for two periods, rallied for three goals in the final 10 minutes Sunday night and tied Detroit Red Wings 5-5 in a National Hockey League game.

Forbes Kennedy and Murray Oliver scored for the last-place Bruins in the final three minutes in erasing a 5-3 Detroit lead.

Boston went into the third period trailing 4-2 and had only five shots at goalie Terry Sawchuk in the first 40 minutes.

Guy Gendron started the Boston comeback midway in the third period by shaving Detroit's lead to 4-3. But Norm Ullman eased the pressure for a few minutes with his second goal of the game for Detroit.

Oliver made it close at 17:44, and 23 seconds later Kennedy tied it with a shot from a sharp angle.

Gordie Howe also scored twice for Detroit, and Val Fonteyne scored the other Red Wing goal.

Tom Williams and Johnny Bucyk notched Boston's first two goals.

Sawchuk didn't make a single save in the second period when the only Bruins' shot on goal was on Bucyk's tally. The Detroit goalie ended up with 15 saves, 14 fewer than the Bruins' Ed Johnston.

FORBES KENNEDY

Ball Great Rogers Hornsby Dies Of Heart Disease Sat.

CHICAGO (AP) — Rogers Hornsby, 66, member of baseball's Hall of Fame, died of heart disease in hospital Saturday.

Hornsby, perhaps baseball's greatest right-handed hitter, had entered Wesley Memorial Hospital Dec. 10 for a cataract removal and suffered a stroke five days later.

He was reported making satisfactory improvement from a clot which produced weakness of the left leg and left arm.

However, at no time since his stroke were reporters or photographers able to see the "Rajah of Swat."

During a 22-year major league career starting in 1915, Hornsby won the National League batting title seven times. He played second base with St. Louis Cardinals, New York Giants, Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs.

MANAGED FIVE CLUBS

He also managed the now defunct St. Louis Browns, the Braves at Boston, Cincinnati Reds and the Cubs.

Hornsby took a turn for the worse Friday night, it was reported. Death was attributed to a heart condition.

Hornsby's third wife, Marjory, and stepdaughter, Mary Beth Porter, 26, who lived with the Hornsbys in Chicago, were at his side when he died.

The Hornsbys were married six years. Hornsby had a son by his second marriage, William T. Hornsby, 37, a beer company territorial manager at Madison, Tenn. Hornsby was divorced from his first two wives.

Hornsby, elected to the Hall of Fame in 1942, entered the hospital with former White Sox pitching star Ted Lyons, both for removal of cataracts.

Lyons, also a former major league manager, had no complications and left the hospital early last week. The two had asked for rooms directly across from each other.

In recent years, Hornsby had served as batting coach for Chicago Cubs and on Mayor Richard Daley's youth commission, instructing youngsters in hitting at city parks.

In 1962 Hornsby got back into the kind of work he liked best after staying out of baseball in 1961. Last season he started as a coach, then became a scout for New York Mets.

Never a man to speak deviously, Hornsby — during his managerial years — constantly said what he thought and rubbed many associates the wrong way. But he was frank, sincere and honest and his opinion, if not the way he expressed it, was respected.

In winning the national batting championship seven times —six in succession from 1920 and again in 1928, the Rajah batted more than .400 three times.

His managerial peak came when he piloted St. Louis Cardinals to their first pennant and an upset World Series triumph over New York Yankees in 1926, batting .317.

After serving as player-manager with Boston Braves, he came to Chicago Cubs in 1929 and was named manager the following year.
