

MR AND MRS. E. M. WEATHERBIF

Couple Pledge Vows At Murray Harbour N. Church

The Murray Harbor North Presbyterian church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Aug. 27, 1958, when Sadie Margana, daughter of Mrs. Ernest Griffin and the late David W. Millar was united in marriage with Mrs. Benjamin A. Weatherbif, Valleyfield. Rev. Carl Currie performed the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and mixed flowers and the guest pews were marked with sweet peas and white satin bows. The bride given in marriage by her brother, Warren was lovely in a ballerina length gown of nylon lace and net over satin sprinkled with seed pearls and sequins, with high scalloped neckline and long sleeves tapering to points over the hands. A coronet of pearls held a finger tip veil of tulle illusion. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. The bride's only ornament was a pair of pearl earrings, gift of the groom. Miss Elaine MacLure was maid

MILO W.L.

The September meeting of the Milo W.L. was held at the home of Mrs. Dermot MacLean with nine members in attendance. Meeting opened in the usual manner, and with roll call being answered by "The type of book I like to read". Sick committee reports two calls made, and two treated given. It was decided to have an apron sale at next meeting, which is to be held at the home of Mrs. Everett Milligan. Meeting closed with The National Anthem. The October meeting which was held at Mrs. Everett Milligan's on Oct. 2nd opened with the president calling the meeting to order and the collect repeated in unison. Nine members were present. Roll call was answered by "A Country I would like to visit, and why," which brought forth very interesting replies, such as Australia, New Zealand, Ontario, Scotland, Holland, France, Annapolis Valley, and a complete tour of our own garden province P.E. Island. The reading of minutes and correspondence followed, also the treasurer's report. There was no report from the sick committee. Mrs. Alvin MacLane and Mrs. Dermot MacLean were appointed on the school committee. Then followed the sale of aprons, with the president very capably acting as auctioneer and which was much enjoyed by all. The proceeds from the sale were $6.20. Mrs. Wallace MacNeven reported on the travelling apron which will be opened at annual meeting in November, when Mrs. David MacDonaid will be hostess to the members. Meeting closed with the National Anthem and a very tasty lunch was served by Mrs. Milligan, with assistance from Mrs. Wallace MacNeven and Mrs. Oliver Garrill.

BPW President Serves The Community Interests

Miss Iphigenie Arseneault who is presently serving as president of the Charlottetown Business and Professional Women's Club for her second term, has the distinction of being the only woman Commissioner of the Red Cross in Canada. As the eldest of the eleven children of Mr. and Mrs. Justice A.E. Arseneault she learned early in life that service to others is the keynote of happiness which fitted her for her work in Red Cross. As the Commissioner she is the co-ordinator of all Red Cross activities in Prince Edward Island and has her finger in the pulse of the various Red Cross programs. Miss Arseneault began her career in Red Cross as office secretary thirty-one years ago and has played a very active part in the development and growth of both the war and peacetime activities. In addition to her time-consuming Red Cross duties, Miss Arseneault has found time to play a part in other organizations as she has held responsible positions on the provincial executive of the Catholic Women's League of which she is now 2nd vice-president, the Canadian Girl Guides as Division Commissioner for Queen's County, the Charlottetown Little Theatre Guild, the Notre Dame alumnae, the Community Concert Association, the P.E.I. Tuberculosis League, the Canadian Club, the Co-ordinating Council of Rehabilitation as well as being named recently as chairwoman of Public Relations for the Maritime Conference on Social Work to be held in Charlottetown in June, 1959.

MARY HAWORTH

Girl, 14, Has Problem With Cruel Stepmother

Dear Mary Haworth — I hope you can help me with my problem—my stepmother. My mother died when I was 8 (I am now 14) and my daddy married again about a year later. My stepmother was nice to me for about a year; then she really changed into a witch. She beat me over everything I did wrong; made me do all the housework; never let me go anywhere or do anything. Then, about a year ago, I got fed up and told my daddy about the way she treated me. He stopped the beatings, but that was all. Now she gripes and curses me and complains of the way I do everything. She never speaks to me in a normal tone; she always screams. She won't let me bring any of my friends home; gets mad when I go to movies, parties, etc., and even gets mad when I watch TV. SHE SLAPPED GIRL. The other day, to a question she asked, I said "No" in a normal tone. She walked over, slapped me and said: "Don't ance, to help you work your way safely out of the dilemma. In addition to being smart, you are also a vigorous, versatile, self-reliant youngster, it seems, with a justifiably good opinion of yourself—to which I say "Amen." But your stepmother just can't stand your vibrant spirit; it galls her in a kind of perpetual rage and, in her trying to break it down. Probably the core of the problem is jealousy on her part—jealousy of your father's affection for you, perhaps; also jealousy of your mother's role in his life, and of your increasing resemblance to her, maybe. She may "love" your dad in such a proprietary way that she wishes she had him all to herself—and therefore resents your presence in the picture. Thus, behind his back, she may be badgering you as fiercely and unreasonably as if she were a spoiled child beating a smaller "rival" over the head. GIRL BAITING. On the other hand, maybe you are likewise jealous of her, as a supposed intruder in your life, and instinctively active, in subtle ways, getting her goat, revengefully—causing her to strike back blindly. Maybe she senses aren't quite as illogical as they seem to be on the surface. In any case, you "feel" the problem to be worse than it is. For example, first you say she never lets you go anywhere or do anything; but in the next breath you mention that she gets mad when you go to church, movies, parties, etc. From which I gather you DO go out.

ST. EUGENE'S C. W. L.

The regular monthly meeting of our C. W. L. held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Leslie McCabe with 16 members present. Rev. Fr. Wood, spiritual director, opened the meeting with prayer. Roll call followed with collection, amounting to $170. Minutes of previous meeting were read, and signed, and collection for Sunday Visitor amounted to $2.05 and 50 cents was paid in toward cake sale. Bills to the amount of $4.45 on motion were paid. Spiritual Convener Mrs. Leo Doyle, reported that the church had been cleaned and the members received holy communion on Sunday. Education convener Mrs. Pat Horgan gave a very interesting report on the 4-H Clubs. Membership convener Mrs. Hubert Morrison reported one new member joined and also a member from another parish was welcomed to the league. She also reported a farewell party to a seminar on Friday evening, Aug. 8, when relatives, friends and neighbours gathered in Corran Bann Hall to bid farewell to Edward Morrison who left the following week to enter

Young Engaged Couple Help Run Tennis Club

Joan Connolly, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J.F. Connolly, formerly of Charlottetown, now of N.D.G., Montreal, is the subject of a smart write-up in the Iron Ore of Canada magazine under the section called Silhouettes. There is also reference to a certain Larry Fischer who is an important person in Joan's life. He is the man she is going to marry.

Following is the article: Three well known silhouettes around Sept-Iles at work and at play are Paul Poulin, Larry Fischer and Joan Connolly. Kept busy by the Iron Ore Company and the Railway during working hours, they spend much of their leisure keeping the Tennis Club of Sept-Iles running smoothly. Last year was a memorable year for the tennis club, and Paul Poulin, who completed five years with QNS and L this summer, played a very large part in building it up. This is his second year as president of the club, and he hopes very much to see the club's proposed new courts in action before the end of this season.

One of his most active colleagues is Larry Fischer—Maintenance Supervisor at the Terminal. Last year he was Chairman of the Club's Ground Committee, but this year he is its very able Vice-President. Since Larry came to Sept-Iles from Montreal 3 years ago he has been very active in all the sporting events in the place. He plays a hard game of tennis, a hilarious game of softball, and enjoys badminton; but his forte is basketball. He is a graduate of McGill and played basketball for that University. Joan Connolly is Secretary of the Tennis Club for her second year. She too, is one of the enthusiasts who helped to build the club up so well last year. At that time she had only been in Sept-Iles for a few months, having come to the Iron Ore Company in 1957, to the 4th of February, 1957, to work as secretary to Mr. R. Kirkland and Mr. L. Hassey.

Now Joan intends to make her home in Sept-Iles. Of course, she has been greatly influenced in this decision by the Vice-President of the Tennis Club, to whom she became engaged this Spring!
