

Prince County Exhibition Notes.

Very fine fruit was shown by Abram Schurman and others.

A striking feature of the Exhibition was the large number of persons present. Summerside was literally crowded. Exhibition day is now the farmers autumn holiday.

The ladies of the Methodist, Baptist and Bible Christian Churches provided repasts for the hungry sight seers and made a fine lot of money. At the Methodist booth about 800 persons partook of refreshment.

Our thanks are due the Secretary, Finlay McNeill, Esq., and his assistant, John Clay, Esq., for courtesies extended and assistance in the preparation of our prize list.

One specially notable feature of the exhibition was the regularity with which the judges handed in their returns and the promptitude with which they were prepared by Messrs. Walker and Clay.

While all the world of Prince County was enjoying a holiday, the barristers and others engaged at the Court had to remain at work and plod away over a dull case. Judge Peters having recently had a prolonged leave of absence and a trip to the Continent, has now a very keen edge for work; and he refused to adjourn for a few hours in order that the Court might, with the rest of the world, see the show. The conduct of the Judge was rather churlish.

The influence of the Scott Act was apparent. Some sold and some bought strong drink—but few got drunk; and there was none of the rowdiness which disgraced Summerside in the ante-Scott Act days. The mean fellows who, on the sly, sell the contraband article should be hunted out. It ought not to be hard to convict them. All decent men formerly engaged in the traffic yield to the law.

At four o'clock, stock from the Model Farm was sold by R. Hunt, Esq., as follows:—

We regret that the railway management was anything but good. In the first place the special trains were not advertised, and no one knew the hour they departed or would pass any given station. The result was that many who would have gone to the exhibition, had a few dollars been expended in advertizing, remained at home, and the specials carried few passengers. In the second place the time of the specials was fixed at twelve miles an hour; and the discontent of impatient passengers found vent in many a jibe and sarcasm. It is related as a positive fact that a certain inhabitant of Alberton having a pretty smart old grey mare, was seen drawing out of the town just as the train was leaving the station; that when the train crossed the Western Road below Richmond, the old grey mare was seen posting along ahead, and that she actually beat the train and arrived first at Summerside. Then, in the evening, while thousands of people were waiting anxiously at the Summerside station, the trains were detained for hours on account of some hitch in the red tape. Finally the western train started on its long twelve-mile an hour journey to arrive at its destination very late in the night. About another hour passed, in vain appeals to red tape, and then the eastern special left; but at Kensington it was detained just about another hour, to allow the mail express which left Summerside three quarters of an hour later, to pass and get the regulation distance beyond it before it again started. And while the mail express sped away at the rate of eighteen or twenty miles an hour, the special was kept moving along at its twelve mile an hour jog from one station to another till it was nearly twelve o'clock. No wonder the passengers were indignant and disgusted. The Conductors had a difficult task; and we believe they performed it well. They should, we think, in the absence of the Superintendents (as at present) be allowed to run their trains subject to the standing rules with reference to the time to be made by different classes of trains. That one passenger train should be allowed to run at the rate of twenty miles an hour while on the same road another passenger train is restricted to twelve miles an hour—as on Thursday—is ridiculous.

The Herald (Ottawa) gives currency to the rumor that Sir Charles Tupper will retire from the Ministry in the course of a few weeks, to assume a position in the Pacific Railway Syndicate, and that he will be succeeded in the Department of Railways and Canals by Hon Mr. Langevin.

MOOSEPATH PARK.

Last Thursday's Trotting

(From the St. John News).

The first event on the card was a THREE MINUTE TROT for which a purse of $150 was offered—$90 to first, $40 to second and $20 to third—conditions, best in five. The nominations were:

- James Dover, P E I, names b m, Lady Bagnall,
- C J Ward, St. John, names b g Boxer;
- R J Melvin, St John names b m Jennie Conley;
- Newton Lee, Summerside, P E I, names br s All Right.
- D J Stockford, Fredericton, names ch g Tom Heckett,
- Dr. Baker, Amherst, names blk s Harry Baker;
- A N Large, Charlottetown P E I, names blk s Messenger Boy;
- James Golden, Melford, Mass., names blk m Mollie Morton;
- James R Smith, Woodstock, names gr m Richmond Girl,
- A L Skipp, Halifax, names ch s Wormwood.

The starters, their positions in the first heat and the names of drivers were as follows:

- Messenger Boy, driven by P. S. Brown, pole;
- Harry Baker, driven by George Hill, No. 2;
- Richmond Girl, driven by Belyea, No. 3;
- All Right, driven by Newton Lee, No. 4;
- Wormwood, driven by Slipp, No. 5;
- Lady Bagnall, driven by James Dover, No. 6;

The day was beautifully fine and the track in fairly good condition.

First Heat.—It will be seen by the above that Boxer, Jennie Conley, Tom Hackett and Mollie Morton did not come to the front. David Stockford, who had entered Tom Hackett, says the horse was too sick to start. He appeared behind Mollie Morton and found her too lame to start. After scoring four times the horses were sent away on a fairly good start, Messenger Boy having a slight lead of all the others, Lady Bagnall showing in second place on a run. At the first quarter Messenger Boy was still leading, pressed closely by the other P. E. Island representative—Lady Bagnall—the others being all strung out, Wormwood being last and the Woodstock mare only one place better. The first half was won by Messenger Boy, with Bagnall on his wheel, All Right third, Baker Boy fourth, the Halifax candidate fifth, Richmond Girl sixth. At the three-quarter pole there was no change in the position of the horses, the contest being between the two P. E. Island horses, Messenger Boy still leading. The others were in a bunch and were all running. Messenger Boy entered the homestretch a short length in advance, and a great struggle was looked for between the leaders to the wire. It was a red hot struggle for a while, but Lady Bagnall lost her feet at the distance pole and went to pieces, Messenger Boy winning as he pleased, Lady Bagnall second, Richmond Girl, who showed wonderful speed towards the close, getting third place, All Right fourth, Harry Baker fifth and Wormwood last. The time as announced from the stand was 2.50, but several gentlemen on the track made the time 2.40.

Second Heat.—All Right's sulky presented an insecure appearance, having been damaged in collision with Wormwood's sulky in the first heat. After the horses had scored four times Judge Weller told All Right's driver that he would not be allowed to start if he kept back on the next attempt to start. This announcement was received with applause by the spectators. Another false start was made, and the judges ordered that the horses be started at a line above the distance flag, which caused more applause. Messenger Boy went away with the lead, All Right second, Harry Baker third, Lady Bagnall fourth, Wormwood fifth and Richmond Girl last. At the quarter post the positions of the horses were unchanged. Entering the homestretch it became a funeral-like procession, with Messenger Boy to the front. Coming down the homestretch most of the horses seemed to conclude that it was a go-as-you-please contest and did a great deal of running. At the first half Messenger Boy held the post of honor, with All Right second, Baker third, running, Wormwood fourth, Richmond Girl fifth and Lady Bagnall sixth. Going down the backstretch Wormwood surprised everybody by taking hold of All Right by the necktie and going for Messenger Boy. Messenger Boy entered the homestretch in fine style and won the heat. Wormwood and All Right passed the wire together on a run, Harry Baker was fourth, and Richmond Girl, who did the only square trotting in the heat, except Messenger Boy, next, and Lady Bagnall last. Time 2.43. Wormwood was given second place, Richmond Girl third, Lady Bagnall fourth, All Right fifth, Harry Baker sixth. The change in the positions was due to running by the horses put back.

Third Heat.—Charles Record was put behind Richmond Girl in this heat, and those interested in her looked forward for a better showing by the mare than before. After scoring two or three times Judge Weller announced that the horse that would not score with Richmond Girl would be given no part in the race. Messenger Boy, as usual, showed in front at the start. Wormwood was second, but was soon passed by Richmond Girl. It looked as though the change of drivers was going to be a good thing for the Woodstock representative. Messenger Boy showed a fine burst of speed going along the back stretch. It was evident that his driver noticed a dangerous rival in Richmond Girl. The latter continued to court the society of the leader, and was soon on almost even terms with him. As they entered the homestretch on their first half they were all strung out, Messenger Boy being first and Richmond Girl a good second. The Woodstock mare forced Messenger Boy to pieces coming down the home stretch, but he caught his feet again before reaching the wire, and passed under it half a length in advance of Richmond Girl, Wormwood getting third place. The last half-mile contained a surprise for the lovers of turf sport. Richmond Girl increased her speed and again forced Messenger Boy off his feet and then captured first place, amid the wildest excitement of the spectators. Richmond Girl continued to lead to the close, cheer after cheer being given by the spectators in honor of her victory and her driver's excellent management.
